THE NATIONAL ACCREDITATION BOARD'S REQUIREMENT TOWARDS ACCREDITATION, RE-ACCREDITATION AND GRANT OF CHARTER TO TERTIARY INSTITUTIONS

1. Definitions of Institutions:

(a) University: An educational institution designed for advanced instruction and research in several branches of learning, conferring degrees on various faculties, and often embodying colleges, schools, institutions, etc. Its status is attained either by an Act of Parliament or by a Presidential Charter granted by the President of the Republic.

(b) University College: An institution of higher learning that is affiliated to a chartered university and that offers instruction supervised by the University to which it is affiliated and whose degrees/diplomas/certificates are awarded by the chartered university. For the avoidance of doubt, the chartered university must be certified by NAB as having the expertise to supervise the programmes of the mentored university college. Any institution wishing to be known and called a 'University college' is expected to have three (3) faculties, each with three (3) departments. The exception is for science and technology based institutions for which two (2) faculties, each with two (2) departments, shall apply.

(c) Polytechnic: An institution of higher or further education in which courses in a large range of programmes, especially, of a technical or vocational nature are available.

(d) College: An establishment for further or higher education in the humanities/sciences or professional studies. The college may be part of a university e.g. Business college; college of music; naval college.

(e) School: An educational institution devoted to a special branch of higher education, e.g. School of Education, School of Economics, School of Medicine, and School of Law. It may be a component part of a university.

(f) Institute: An establishment offering advanced courses (up to the degree level) in the professions, arts, science and technology and may be a part of a university.

(g) Academy: A place of study or training in a special field, e.g., Military Academy, Academy of Dance, Maritime Academy.

(h) Tutorial college: An institution which prepares students to take the examinations of a university or a recognized professional body.

(i) Distance Learning Centre: It is an arrangement where providers deliver courses/programmes to students in different countries or at places other than their regular places of residence, through various distance and on-line modes. It may include some face to face support for students through domestic study or support centres.
