EAST AFRICA PROTECTORATE.

The following despatch received from His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies is published for general information.

July 4th, 1907.

Sir,

Some two years having now elapsed since the control of the administration of the East Africa Protectorate was taken over by the Colonial Office, it seems suitable to review the various measures which have been taken to organise and develop the country and the results which have been achieved or which may be expected to follow.

2. One of the most necessary preliminary steps in the development of a new country is to define the boundaries which separate it from neighbouring countries, and to ascertain by survey the quantity and nature of the land lying within those boundaries. Considerable progress has been made in these directions in the period under review.

3. The boundary between the Protectorate and German East Africa has been finally demarcated and much useful information concerning those regions has been collected by Captain (local Lieutenant Colonel) G. E. Smith, R.E., and his assistants in the survey. The boundary with Abyssinia has been the subject of prolonged negotiations with King Menelik, which will I trust result in the signature of a satisfactory agreement at no distant date.

4. The difficulties inseparable from the influx of a number of white settlers, desirous of acquiring land, into an unsurveyed and almost unsettled country have been met by the appointment of an officer of great experience as Commissioner of Lands, and by very great additions to the Survey Department; the expenditure on the latter having been increased from £9,106 in 1905-6 to some £17,000 in the current year, while Captain G. E. Smith, R.E., who is not only a highly skilled officer but is also well acquainted with the country, has been selected to superintend the work.

5. While the interests of the white settlers have been thus studied by improving the machinery for the administration of the land laws, their suggestions for the amendment of the substance of that law (particularly as embodied in the report of the Committee on the subject) have received very careful consideration at the hands of successive Commissioners and Secretaries of State. In my despatch No. 229 of the 23rd April I have indicated the lines on which an amending ordinance may be drafted and submitted to the Legislative Council; which, I trust, will meet the reasonable wishes of bona fide settlers, while at the same time safeguarding the most important asset of the Protectorate from being dissipated in the interests of speculators.

6. The work of the Agricultural Department has been carried on, and assistance has been given to settlers both by the experiments in the growing of crops and the breeding of stock which have been made and by the supply of plants and seeds and the services of stud animals for their use; and recently Mr. A. C. Macdonald, Assistant Director of Agriculture in the Transvaal, was appointed to report on the agricultural prospects of the country and on the organisation of the department. Mr. Macdonald's report has now been received, and I do not doubt that as a result of his labours the efficiency and usefulness of the department will be increased.

7. The Government of the Cape Colony were also good enough at my request to permit Mr. D. E. Hutchins, one of their Conservators of Forests, to visit the Protectorate and report on the value of the local forests and the best means of utilizing them. His reports showed at once the great value of the forests and the urgent need of protecting them from irregular exploitation; and I have accordingly appointed him Chief Conservator of Forests in the Protectorate. When he has taken up his appointment the Government will, for the first time, be in possession of skilled advice in regard to this important asset of the Protectorate, and will be in a position to deal with the various projects for developing them, without the danger of either hindering legitimate enterprise or of surrendering public property to individual

8. The efforts which were being made to obtain water for the Railway by boring in the Taru desert, led to the appointment of a geologist, Mr. H. B. Muff, one of the Geologists on the staff of the Geological Survey of the United Kingdom, to report on the prospects of obtaining water in this manner, and incidentally to obtain such further information respecting the Geological conditions of the country as time and circumstances permitted. I understand that his conclusions in regard to obtaining water in this district are negative; but they are none the less valuable as preventing further useless expenditure in this direction. Another expert was recently appointed to advise the local administration on mining questions and is now in the Protectorate.

9. The insanitary condition of Nairobi was made the subject of strong representations by you, and at your suggestion I selected an experienced sanitary engineer, Mr. G. B. Williams, Assoc. M. Inst. C.E., to report on the question. Financial exigencies do not permit of the whole of his recommendations being adopted at once: but a substantial instalment, which is estimated to cost £20,000 and includes the construction of a main intercepting sewer, will be taken in hand during the current year.

10. The development of traffic on the Railway has been one of the most encouraging features of the progress of the Protectorate during the period under review. The net receipts, which were £2,639 in 1904-5, rose to £56,678 in 1905-6, and to £76,150 for 1906-7: and this, although the rates on most grains and seeds have been lowered to the very small figure of $\frac{1}{2}$ d. per ton-mile, in order to encourage the agricultural development of the Protectorate. In connection with the Railway I may mention that the steam ship "Clement Hill" has now been completed and will shortly be running on the Lake, and a cargo steamer the "Nyanza" has been constructed in this country and is on its way to the Protectorate. Increased wharf accommodation is being provided at Kilindini and Port Florence at an estimated cost of £55,000 and £10,000 respectively.

11. Turning to native affairs, the settlement of the Masai on their Reserves has been satisfactorily completed: and a large tract in the Rift Valley has thus been opened to European settlement. Disturbances in the Sotik, Nandi, and Embo countries have necessitated the despatch of armed forces to those regions; and, in the result, after comparatively little loss of life the tribes concerned have submitted to our rule, and civilised Government is now being introduced in their countries. I am glad to note that the majority of the natives welcome the change as is demonstrated by their willing payment of hut-tax, the receipts from which are estimated at £74,263 for 1907-8 as against £43,604 in 1905-6. A small sum has been provided on the current Estimates for encouraging the technical education of the natives by grants to the Mission Schools. The regulation and protection of native labourers is a matter of great importance for which, at your suggestion, provision will be made this year by the appointment of a Secretary for Native Affairs with three Assistants.

12. The development of the Protectorate has rendered it advisable to introduce a more elaborate system of Government, and an Order in Council has been passed in which provision is made for the establishment of a Legislative Council comprising unofficial as well as official members; and I trust that the free discussion of affairs in the Council will lead to a better understanding between the settlers and the officials.

13. The question of improving and simplifying the legal procedure of the Protectorate has engaged the attention of my legal advisers. The draft of a Courts Ordinance has been prepared and will shortly be submitted to the Legislative Council; and a local Criminal Procedure Code will I trust be ready at an early date. In the meantime, the wishes of the European settlers have been met by the enactment of Ordinance No. 5 of 1906, which provides for the trial of Europeans and Americans by a jury in certain cases; while the complaints of delay in the despatch of judicial business have been satisfied by the appointment of an additional judge.

14. The re-organisation of the police has been taken in hand. A number of new officers have been appointed, and arrangements have been made for all newly appointed officers at the time of their selection, and for existing officers when on leave, to undergo a course of training in their duties in the United Kingdom. The duties of officers and men have been defined by the new Police Ordinance, and, in order to meet the wishes of the European inhabitants, I have sanctioned the formation of a small white police force for the Nairobi District. The substitution, however, of white for native police in other parts of the Protectorate cannot be contemplated in view not only of the great expenditure involved, but also of the probability that white police would prove less efficient than natives for service in the tropical regions of the Protectorate.

15. The revenue of the Protectorate has increased in a gratifying manner, the estimated receipts of £557,000 for 1907-8 comparing with actual receipts of £270,000 in 1905-6. The expenditure, however, has increased in an even greater proportion; viz: from £418,000 to £803,000. The growth of expenditure is no doubt the inevitable result of the growth of the he hope that the industry and enterprise of the white settlers will, in a short time, so increase the taxable capacity of the Protectorate as to relieve the taxpayers of the United Kingdom of the heavy charge now imposed upon them for carrying on the administration, amounting in the current year to £150,000—inrespective of the large sum required for interest and sinking fund on the loan for the construction of the Uganda Railway which is also defrayed entirely from the Imperial Exchequer.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble servant,

ELGIN.
