GOVERNMENT NOTICE No 305

S 21697

THE following letter, addressed to His Excellency the Governor, has been received from the Chairman of the Executive Council of the Imperial War Famine Fund containing an appeal for funds for the relief of famine and distress in the Near East. It is published for general information.

Acting Chief Secretary

IMPERIAL WAR FAMINE FUND

PATRON HIS MAJESTY THE KING

FISHMONGERS' HALL,
LONDON BRIDGE,
LONDON, E C 4
12th June, 1920

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR,

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I write on behalf of the Executive Council of the British National Appeal Committee of the above Fund to ask you to give the enclosed appeal your very careful consideration.

The appeal is made with the full concurrence of the British Red Cross and Order of St John, and represents, in fact, the British effort in pursuance of the resolutions as to International distress, which were passed by the Conference of the League of Red Cross Societies held recently at Geneva. Relief will be administered in the different countries by Red Cross workers in conjunction with the workers of approved agencies, and effective distribution will be ensured.

The latest information in our hands goes to show the extreme urgency of the need in the distressed countries and that the situation instead of improving is likely to become worse during next winter than it was in the last. The condition of affairs has been well summed up by Mr H P Davidson, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the American Red Cross, who is reported on May 17th as follows: "One of the most terrible tragedies in history is being enacted in Eastern Europe between the Baltic the Black and Adriatic seas. Authentic reports show that civilization has broken down there."

The signatories to the appeal in this country, are, as you will see, fully representative of the public and official life of the country. It is being launched on the widest possible scale, commencing with a private meeting of many of the big city men at the Mansion House, which was addressed by Mr Arthur Balfour and Sir Arthur Stanley, the latter on behalf of the British Red Cross. The meeting was designed to bring before the City of London the wider Imperial and International issues of the appeal and to secure in that way a lead to the people of this country commensurate with the seriousness of the problem.

The appeal is being communicated to the Governors-General of the Dominions. In expressing to you the hope of this Council that you may see your way to open at once a Branch of the Fund, I should like to urge that any such demonstration as already planned on the part of Great Britain will be doubly arresting and impressive if it is shared to the full by all the peoples of the Empire. It is suggested that the appeal presents a cause which would further cement the moral union of the Empire during those great days of the war, and might well kindle the Empire from end to end. With our traditional kindness and sportsmanship, no true Briton can be hard on the man who is down, or be deaf to the cry of suffering women and children. It goes without saying that the peoples of the broken nations (many of them our own Allies) would be deeply touched by such an unreckoning proof of goodwill, and, given an effort worthy of the greatness of the Empire, its memory might easily remain an outstanding fact in history.

The British Red Cross has placed their organization at the disposal of the Fund, and I feel sure you would obtain valuable assistance in any appeal you may make from the Red Cross workers in your area.

I am enclosing specimen copies of the first pamphlets which we have issued. We are expecting shortly to get out further literature, including a regular bulletin of information, copies of which will be forwarded to you in due course. We are hoping to rely for our information mainly if not entirely, on British official sources, as it is believed that this carries greatest weight with our own people.

I have the honour to remain,
Yours faithfully,

RICHARD CAVENDISH,
