(h) On application for Administrations de bonis non or other limited grants	30
2 Other fees the same as those payable under Rules for the time being in force relating to fees payable in the Supreme Court

II —REVIEW OF JUDGMENT

- 1 On filing an application for review of Judgment —
Half the fees payable on the original plaint.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Probate and Administration—Owing to the proviso to fee 22, no court fee becomes payable on an estate, the aggregate net value of which is nil notwithstanding that the gross value of the estate may be in excess of Sh 3,000. On the other hand in the case of an estate the gross value of which is less than Sh 3,000, a fee of 5 per cent is payable on the gross value up to a maximum fee of Sh 100 although the net value of the estate is nil (Fee 26). The result is that estates over Sh 3,000 are liable for fees which are less than those which come within Fee 26. For example —

	Sh
A dies leaving an estate the gross value of which is	5,000
the debts amount to	4,500
and
the net value is	500	Sh
Fee payable		45
Fees 20, 21, 22 and 24
B dies leaving an estate the gross value of
which is	2,500
the debts amount to	2,000
and
the net value is	500
Fee payable based on the gross value		100
Fee No 26

These amended fees are provided to remove the anomaly and to provide a fee on applications for Administrations de bonis non or other limited grants for which no fee has hitherto been provided.

Review of Judgment—This is a new fee as there is no provision in the existing schedule of fees.

of the Board to extend it beyond that limit in exceptional fit to impose. The Scheme will be open for applications for a period of two years only from the date on which it is brought into operation

such information as to the applicant's bona fides as the Board form

5 The Board shall consider each application and if they Applicants are satisfied that the applicant on account of his duties now or accepted by in the future, or for other good cause, has reasonable grounds Board as for owning a house under the Scheme, he may be accepted by participants them as a participator in the Scheme

Allocation of sites to accepted participators

6 Any Asian official who shall have made application to the Board and who shall have been accepted by the Board as a participator in the Scheme shall if he desires, be granted (on terms hereinafter provided) a building site of Crown land within a radius of ten miles of Nairobi House (or at any other centres subject to such conditions as the Board may impose), the allocation being made on the system adopted in connexion with the Soldier Settlement Scheme, together with the building conditions attached thereto. A Schedule of the land available for the Scheme will be prepared by the Commissioner of Lands. In this Schedule plots will be of varying sizes and will be divided into standardised zones. The sizes of the individual plots of Crown land shall be determined by the same method and by the same authority as they would be if they were auctioned. An accepted participator may put up all or any part of the capital required either for the purchase of land or erection of the building.

Alienation of sites

7 Sites shall be alienated to participators for a term of 99 years, and participators shall pay for same as follows —

Twenty per cent cash of fair capital value, to be advanced to the participator as soon as it is due. The fair capital values of plots, for the purposes of this Scheme, in Nairobi and its environs, shall be determined by a Board consisting of the Surveyor General, a representative of the Nairobi Municipality, and a representative of the Nairobi Town Planning Authority. In the case of townships other than Nairobi, and their environs, the fair capital value shall be determined by a Board consisting of the Surveyor General or his representative, and two members of a local body or local bodies, as the Governor may appoint.

Six per cent per annum on remaining eighty per cent of capital value for the term of 99 years.

A participator having been allotted a plot, the lease of such plot shall be granted him on his building plans and specification being approved by the Board and on his passing a mortgage or charge deed to the Government in respect of such lease.

Other conditions of alienation

8 These shall be such as would be stipulated by the Commissioner of Lands in the case of ordinary alienation to the public.

9 In the event of an eligible official desiring to purchase a plot of land or building or both in private ownership, he may be accepted by the Board as a participator under this Scheme.

Each participator only one site

10 Except with the express permission of the Board, each participator shall have only one site alienated to him by the Board throughout his service.

Mortgage deeds

11 All mortgage or charge deeds shall be approved by the Attorney General.

Submission of plans and specifications of houses to be built and valuation to be placed on same

12 The site having been allotted to the participator he shall within four months from the date of allotment, or within such further time as may be allowed at the discretion of the Board, submit to the Board for their approval plans and specifications (in sufficient detail as the Board may deem necessary) of the house he proposes to build. The Board shall then inform the participator if they approve or otherwise of the plans and specifications. If they do not, then the participator shall so amend them until they meet with the approval of the Board. On the plans and specifications being approved, the participator shall be informed what value the Board will place on his property (including the land) when the house has been completed in accordance with said plans and specifications. Actual alienations will not be made until plans and specifications are approved. Standard types of plans and specifications will be exhibited to participators upon application to the Director of Public Works.

13 The mortgage or charge deeds having been signed, the Board will make advances on account to the participator as the building work proceeds and at such intervals as they deem reasonable. Such advances to be made at the discretion of the Board only up to ninety per cent of the value in their opinion of the building work done at the time of each advance on account. Advances as work proceeds

14 On the building being completed and ready for occupation to the Board's satisfaction in accordance with the plans and specifications approved, the balance of the advance up to the full value (including land) placed by the Board on the property, plus the premium on the mortgage policy, shall be paid to the participator. The Board may approve plans which provide for an extension of accommodation, and a further advance may be granted in such cases when the officer rises in grade, provided that the total amount is repaid within the original period of repayment. The amount to be advanced will be at the discretion of the Board, provided that the maximum advance shall in no case exceed £1,000, and that for officers drawing salaries of— Completion of advances

£150 (minimum) to £216, the maximum advance shall be £600,

£216 to £300, the maximum advance shall be £750,

£300 and over, the maximum advance shall be £1,000

15 Interest at the Land Bank rate (or at six-and-a-half per cent if a Land Bank is not established) shall be payable by the participator on advances on account up to the date when the balance to make the total is paid over to the participator, but during this interim time no repayments of capital shall be made. Interest on interim advances

Provided that if a Land Bank is established any payment or payments of interest which may have been made prior to the establishment of the Land Bank shall be subject to adjustment by the repayment to the participator of the difference between the amounts actually paid by the participator and the amounts which would have been paid by him if all payments had been made at the Land Bank rate.

16 From the first day of the month following the date on which the complete advance has been made, interest at the Land Bank rate (or six-and-a-half per cent if a Land Bank is not established) shall be charged. Such advance and interest shall be repayable by equal monthly instalments by deduction from pay, either over a five-year, a ten-year, or fifteen-year period, as the participator may have elected at the time of executing the mortgage or charge deed, which deed Repayments of principal and interest shall contain a schedule showing principal outstanding after each monthly payment and the amounts of principal and interest repayments respectively included in each monthly repayment

Repayments
during leave

17 Repayments to continue monthly during leave by deductions from salary

Repayment of outstanding principal may be made at any time

18 Participators shall be at liberty at any time to pay off outstanding principal together with interest accrued

Mortgage
Insurance Policy

19 If any participator elects to take up with any approved Insurance Company, a single premium Mortgage Insurance Policy ensuring that such Insurance Company will, in the event of the death of the participator, pay to the Government the principal outstanding at the time of death (including any principal outstanding on the money lent for the single premium) then, in any such case, the Board will, on the policy being handed to them, advance to the participator in addition to the money to be advanced under paragraphs 13 and 14 hereof, the amount of the single premium paid by the participator to the Insurance Company, and such advance shall be repayable as to principal and interest as provided for repayment for the complete advance for building as laid down in paragraphs 16, 17 and 18

Fire
Insurance

20 Every participator shall insure the property, for which the advance is made, against fire, in favour of the participator and Government, in an Insurance Company approved by the Board, for not less than the total sum advanced on the property. In the event of the participator failing to insure in the above manner, or to renew the premium when it falls due, Government may effect the required insurance and recover the amount of the premium from the participator by deduction from salary or pension, as the case may be

Valuations

21 Valuations for the purpose of making interim advances during construction, and completion reports signifying that the work has been completed in accordance with the plans and specifications approved, may be accepted by the Board at their discretion from any persons deemed qualified by the Board to make valuations. The participator shall pay any fees chargeable therefor, but the Board shall not be bound to accept any such valuations or completion reports and shall have the right to cause any such to be made by its own officers as it thinks fit

22 In the case of any official accepted by the Board as a participator who owns a house, which he started to build or acquired subsequent to the 1st June, 1926, and on which there exists a mortgage or charge, the Board may at their discretion advance him a sum of money thereon not being greater than the amount needed to pay off any existing mortgages or charges, provided that such advance is not more than, in the opinion of the Board, is the value of the property on which the advance by the Board is to be made and the participator lodges with the Board the deeds of such property and enters into a proper mortgage or charge deed with the Board. The repayments in such cases and all other matters in relation to the same shall be dealt with in accordance with the conditions laid down herein for other participators under this scheme, so far as such conditions apply

23 In the event of any participator dying before the outstanding principal is paid off, then in any such case the deceased participator's heirs or executors may, if they wish repay to Government the outstanding principal together with interest accrued and not paid at the date of repayment (providing they do so within one year of the death), when the property shall pass completely to such heirs or executors, and if not, then the property shall be valued by the Director of Public Works and taken over by the Government at such valuation, the Government paying over therefor to the participator's estate the difference between such valuation and the amount of the principal and interest outstanding at the time

participator

Notwithstanding the provisions as laid down in this paragraph if the Board for any reason deem it reasonable they may at their discretion permit the heirs or executors to become participators and allow them to continue making monthly repayments of principal and interest until the outstanding advance is completely paid off

24 In the event of the retirement, discontinuance of service of a participator, or dismissal from the service of any participator without pension, then in any such case the participator may, if he wishes, repay to Government the outstanding principal together with interest accrued and not paid at the date of repayment (providing he does so within one year of leaving the service), and if not, then the property shall be valued by the Director of Public Works at a fair market value and taken over by Government at such valuation, the Government paying over to the participator the difference between such valuation and the amount of the principal and interest outstanding at the time. Participators retiring on pension will be allowed to continue repayments after retirement by deductions from their pensions if they so desire

of service or dismissal of participator

25 No participator shall without the permission of the Board be allowed to sell his house or land within three years of taking up his complete advance. After three years, he shall be at liberty to sell his house or land at his own discretion, but in either case the outstanding principal and interest at the time of sale must be paid back to Government when the sale takes place, so releasing the property from the Government mortgage

Sale of properties

26 The Board may at their discretion permit a participator to sell his house to any other official eligible to participate in the Scheme, and accepted by the Board, provided the vendee takes over all the commitments of the vendor in this matter

Transfer of property to other officials eligible

27 Participators having once entered the Scheme and having completed the building of the house will not be provided with a house by Government when stationed in Nairobi, or at such other centre as may have been approved in individual cases, but will only be able to draw house allowance in lieu

Participators to have no right to Government housing

28 For participators in this scheme house allowance shall not be less than the authorised percentage rate at the time participators entered the scheme with a minimum of £24 per annum, provided that the Government reserve to themselves the right to introduce a scheme, in keeping with the conditions contained in this clause, for the consolidation of house allowance and salary applicable to the whole service including participators in the building scheme

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

LOCUST REPORT FOR TWO WEEKS ENDING 5-3-30

During the past two weeks, the Locust Control Officer has carried out a reconnaissance, and covered a thousand miles in the following districts Nakuru, Uasin Gishu, Trans Nzoia, West Suk and Elgeyo. Only a few locusts were observed, and no damage to crops was reported. Wherever there were locusts there were almost as many locust birds in attendance.

The following reports of flying swarms have been received —

N Turkana — A large swarm of yellow locusts entered the Colony from the Sudan, and flew towards the northern end of Lake Rudolf. Owing, apparently, to adverse winds, this swarm settled on the lake itself and was drowned. The shores of the lake are now covered with dead locusts.

S Turkana — A large swarm of red locusts passed over Loperot on 9th February, flying high in a north-westerly direction. This swarm took two hours to pass over.

West Suk, Elgeyo and Baringo — The large swarm of pink flies previously reported in West Suk have moved into the Elgeyo-Marakwet District, and Baringo. Large flocks of the greater locust bird are attacking these locusts, and great numbers have been dispersed by the birds on the Plateau above Tambach, where single locusts without any swarming tendency can be found in considerable numbers. Many have also been destroyed and consumed by natives.

Rumuruti and Gilgil — A swarm of pink locusts passed over Rumuruti on 21st February, flying eastwards, and is considered to be the same swarm that was reported at Gilgil on 3rd March. Many locust birds are following up this swarm, and greatly reducing its numbers.

Muguga — On 25th February, a swarm of locusts was reported from Muguga flying towards Limuru.

It is considered that no anxiety need be felt that any damage will be done by the few locust swarms that are now in the Colony, especially in view of the great increase in numbers of the locust-eating birds which are doing great damage to every swarm.

WARNING

In districts where anti-hopper operations have taken place, stockowners are warned that it may be dangerous to graze stock in the immediate vicinity of the places where the arsenite solution has been prepared and mixed during 1929. Although precautions have been taken by Locust Officers, the vicissitudes of a locust campaign are such that it is still advisable to avoid old locust camps. There is now, however, no danger in grazing stock on areas that have been baited or sprayed.
