OXFORD UNIVERSITY—SUMMER SCHOOL ON
COLONIAL ADMINISTRATION, 1938

THE following prospectus is published for information

1st February, 1938

H G PILLING,
Acting Colonial Secretary

PROSPECTUS
OXFORD UNIVERSITY
SUMMER SCHOOL
ON
COLONIAL ADMINISTRATION
LADY MARGARET HALL

27th June to 9th July, 1938

Chairman PROFESSOR R COUPLAND, C I E
Vice-Chairman MISS MARGERY PERHAM

THIS School, which was organized for the first time in 1937 under the auspices of the Social Studies Research Committee of the University, will be held again in 1938. It is not proposed to repeat it until 1940 or 1941. Owing to the arrangements for leave in most of the Colonial territories, it is expected that an entirely new set of officers will attend this year. The lectures will therefore be arranged upon much the same plan which seemed to give general satisfaction in 1937.

The subject of the School will be Colonial or, more specifically, Native Administration. It has been chosen primarily for the benefit of Administrative Officers serving in the Colonial territories and in the Sudan. It offers, however, a wide common ground between these officers and those of the Departments, and it is hoped that many of the latter will attend.

An attempt will be made to present the subject against the general setting of recent political and economic developments in the world as a whole. Comparative light will be thrown upon the subject by lectures dealing with some of the main types of native administration, both within and without the British Empire. Finally, lectures and discussions about the various problems of native administration will be arranged. In this part of the Course the help of some of the anthropologists will be invited. It is hoped that members of the School will play the leading part in the discussions, in which attention will be mainly directed upon the problems of tropical Africa. It is thought that, in addition to the more formal proceedings, members may welcome the opportunity of making contact with those from other territories and other branches of the Service. They will also obtain from the lecturers advice as to further study in the subjects in which they are interested.

The School will be opened by the Right Hon W G A Ormsby-Gore, M P, Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The Inaugural Address will be given by the Right Hon Lord Lugard.

The lectures will again be given by leading authorities upon the various subjects.

No further syllabus will be issued. The time-table will be given out at the opening of the School. Lectures will be given in the mornings and alternately before and after dinner on each day, except on Sunday, 3rd July, when there will be only one lecture after dinner. Members are asked to arrive upon Monday, 27th June, not earlier than 2.30 or later than 7.30 p.m., when dinner will be served, after which the Inaugural Address will be given.

The programme will allow time for reading, games, and other activities. Boating and bathing can be obtained close to the College, which stands beside the River Cherwell. Tennis courts will be provided, and cricket matches arranged.

Garage accommodation is not available at the College and members must make their own arrangements. Brewer's Garage, Norham Mews, is close to the College.

The College is about a mile from the centre of the City, and five minutes' walk from the omnibus route on the Banbury Road.

APPLICATIONS

The space is limited and precedence must be given to officers on the active list of the Colonial and Sudan Services. The School is open to women in the Educational and other Services, and also to the wives of officers. Applications from missionaries, unofficial residents in the Colonial territories, and retired officials will be considered after 1st May. Applications for membership should be made as long as possible in advance. They should be accompanied by a booking fee of Sh 3 (which is non-returnable) and brief particulars as to the official or other position of the applicant.

The College charge for twelve days' residence is £6 12 inclusive of tips. The School fee is £2 10. Both these must be paid to the Secretary's Office before 1 p.m. on 30th June.

All communications should be addressed to the Secretary
