BE IT ENACTED by the Governor of the Colony of Kenya, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:—

Short title.

No. 8 of 1925.

Power

premises.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Arms and Ammunition (Amendment) Ordinance, 1941, and shall be read as one with the Arms and Ammunition Ordinance, 1925, hereinafter referred to as the Principal Ordinance.

2. (1) Any police officer of or above rank of assistant inspector may at all reasonable times enter upon any premises with a view to ascertaining whether or not the provisions of the Principal Ordinance or of any Rules made thereunder are being complied with, and may demand for inspection the production of any arms, and the production of any licence, permit, document or record of any description whatsoever which may, under the provisions of the Principal Ordinance or of any Rules made thereunder, be required to be taken out, or kept, as the case may be, and may require any person appearing to be in control of such premises or employed therein to give such information as such police officer may require in order to ascertain whether or not the provisions of the Principal Ordinance or any Rules made thereunder are being complied with.

(2) Any person who obstructs any police officer in the exercise of the powers conferred on such police officer by this section, or who fails to comply with any lawful order given by such police officer or who refuses to give any information when requested so to do by such police officer shall be guilty of an offence.

(3) Any such police officer having reasonable grounds for believing that any person has committed an offence against the Principal Ordinance or any Rules made thereunder and that such person will not attend the court in answer to any process which may be issued against him, may arrest such person without a warrant.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

The object of this Bill is to confer powers on police officers of or above the rank of assistant inspector to enter premises and inspect arms, and licences or other documents, and in certain circumstances to arrest without warrant persons who, there are reasonable grounds for believing, have committed an offence against the Principal Ordinance.

No expenditure of public moneys will be involved if the provisions of this Bill become law.

(2) All regulations made under this Ordinance shall have the same force and effect as if they had been enacted in this Ordinance and shall be laid as soon as conveniently may be before the Legislative Council; and if a resolution is passed within forty days of their being so laid before the Legislative Council praying that any such regulation shall be revoked or amended, such regulation shall thenceforth be deemed to be revoked or amended, but without prejudice to anything done thereunder.

3. No pension, gratuity or other allowance granted under this Ordinance shall be assignable or transferable, or liable to be attached, sequestered or levied upon for or in respect of any debt or claim whatsoever, other than a debt due to the Government of the Colony.

Pensions, etc., not to be assignable.

4. If any person to whom a pension or other allowance has been granted under this Ordinance is sentenced to a term of imprisonment by any competent court whether within or without the Colony for any crime or offence then, in every such case, it shall be lawful for the Governor to direct that such pension or allowance shall forthwith cease:

Pensions, etc., to cease on conviction.

Provided that the pension or allowance shall be restored with retrospective effect in the case of a person who after conviction at any time received a free pardon:

And provided further that where a pension or allowance ceases for the reason aforesaid it shall be lawful for the Governor to cause all or any part of the moneys to which the pensioner would have been entitled by way of pension or allowance to be paid to or applied for the benefit of any wife, child or children of the pensioner, or, after the expiration of his sentence, also for the benefit of the pensioner himself, in such proportions and manner as the Governor may think proper, and such moneys shall be paid or applied accordingly.
