It is intended that this part of the training will be undertaken at the Mombasa Institute of Muslim Education during which period the tuition fees and cost of books and kit will be paid by East African Railways and Harbours together with the cost of lodging but not board. The boarding cost of about Sh. 90 per month will have to be met by the trainees. On successful completion of the technical college course the trainees will be required to undertake 18 months' service in foreign-going ships as Apprentice Engineers during which time sea pay is approximately £43 per month with food, uniform and accommodation provided. This is followed by 12 months' vocational training in industrial or technical college workshops after which the Second Class Engineer's Certificate examination is taken. After obtaining this certificate the trainees will be required to undertake sea going duties as Watchkeeping Engineers for periods totalling 21 months, in order to qualify for the First Class Marine Engineer's Certificate examination. During these periods sea pay will be approximately £55 per month with food, uniform and accommodation provided. Allowing time for examinations, leave and obtaining suitable ships for the sea service required, the total period needed to obtain a first class certificate of competency as a Marine Engineer is approximately ten years. However, after obtaining the second class certificate (about five years) trainees become partially qualified and are appointed to a graded post. On successful completion of the whole course the trainees are eligible for appointment to posts which, at present, carry the salary scale £999 by £42 to £1,125; £1,173 by £51 to £1,326 per annum and there are good prospects of further promotion.

General Note

Candidates who are appointed as trainees will be eligible for appointment to the permanent and pensionable staff on successful completion of a further probationary period of two years following the training period. In addition to the salaries shown they will be entitled to free housing or a house allowance in lieu; generous leave terms; free medical attention within the resources of the Medical Department of the territorial Governments; and certain free and reduced fare travel facilities. Marine Engineering Trainees will not, however, be entitled to house allowance during the periods they are accommodated in technical colleges or during their sea service. Candidates must be prepared to serve anywhere in Kenya, Uganda or Tanganyika.

Applications from candidates who do not possess all the qualifications specified will not be considered. General inquiries regarding employment with the East African Railways and Harbours should not be addressed to the Secretary, Railways and Harbours Service Commission.
