GAZETTE NOTICE No. 287

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 32 OF 1970

Parties:—

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers and Twentsche Overseas Trading Co. (E.A.) Ltd.

Issue in dispute:—

Payment of proportionate leave to four employees retired by the Company in December 1968, namely Messrs. Minai Gathi, Gutu Njiru, Gachui Ngure and Njuguna Ngui.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Twentsche Overseas Trading Co. (E.A.) Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 20th day of November 1970, and the 6th day of January 1971, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. In addition, the Claimants called one witness, Mr. Minai Gathi who gave evidence on oath and two other workers, Messrs. Gutu Njiru and Gachui Ngure, gave brief statements to the Court. The Respondents called one witness, Mr. Zahir Ali Hassanali Mohamed.

AWARD

3. The four employees concerned in this dispute were served with letters terminating their services on 30th December 1968. The first two paragraphs of this letter are as follows:—

"Management has decided to terminate your services as from 31st December 1968, under observance of one-month notice.

However, in lieu of notice we are paying you one month's salary which includes any leave entitlements you may have. Leave travel allowance will be paid proportionately in accordance with earned leave entitlements."

On 31st December 1968, these employees were paid their respective dues through cheques as follows:—

	Sh. (net amount)
Minai Gathi	2,365
Gutu Njiru	2,519
Gachui Ngure	6,255
Njuguna Ngui	2,909

In addition to this, those employees who had over 10 years' service were given radios as a mark of appreciation of their long service. The total number of employees whose services were terminated on 31st December 1968, was seven but only four are involved in this dispute, the other three presumably did not report this matter to the Claimants. The gifts of radios were not given to all seven as only four qualified for them by virtue of their long service.

These employees signed a receipt "in full and final settlement and discharge of all sums due to me and also acknowledge that I have no further claims against the Company". These receipts were signed by the employees and by Mr. Hassanali Mohamed who gave evidence on behalf of the Respondents and by one Mr. Nyaga, the Personnel Officer of the Respondents who, it is alleged, explained to these persons in Swahili what they were signing in addition to Mr. Mohamed who also explained to them in English and Swahili the contents of these receipts.

The agreement that applies to the parties is the one between the Claimants and the Distributive and Allied Trades Employers' Association (hereinafter referred to as the Association). In this agreement it is provided as follows on the issue in dispute:—

"It is agreed that an employee shall be entitled to a minimum of 21 continuous days' paid annual leave after the completion of 12 months' continuous service. The calculation of this leave shall include any normal rest days, but shall not include Gazetted Public Holidays."

It is obvious that under this agreement no proportionate leave for a period of less than 12 months' working is due but this would be overridden by clause 8 (b) of the Regulation of Wages Order (Wholesale and Retail Distributive Trades) 1968. This clause reads as follows:—

"Where employment is terminated after the completion of six or more consecutive months' service during any 12 months' leave-earning period, to one-and-three-quarters days' leave with full pay for each completed month of service in such period."

During the hearing the Claimants were very critical of the Respondents' action in retiring their long service employees with one or two days' notice only but this criticism, although it may be justified, is not relevant to this dispute which revolves around the question of whether or not, when an employee's services are terminated and he gets pay in lieu of the requisite notice, he is entitled to a cash payment for any accrued leave. The Claimants vigorously argued that the workers were entitled to cash payment in respect of such leave in these circumstances.

The Respondents on the other hand referred to the policy which had been laid down by the Association which stated as follows:—

"Policy

Notice of termination can run concurrently with leave. When an employee's services are being terminated and he is entitled to leave, he can be paid for leave and informed that his services terminate with effect from the end of his leave."

The Respondents pointed out that it has always been the practice for employers to have the right to request employees to take whatever leave is due to them concurrently with the notice period terminating their contract. The Respondents submitted that the actual giving or receiving payment did not terminate employment and emphasized that the giving of one month's notice is part of the negotiated agreement which provided that as an alternative to working during notice period an employee may be given pay in lieu thereof. The Respondents argued that the contract of employment therefore only terminated at the end of the notice period and therefore any leave may be taken during that notice period.

The Court finds that the Respondents' interpretation on this point is not quite correct. They are right in requiring an employee who is under notice of termination to take his leave during that period but they cannot extend this right in a case where at the end of the month a worker is told that his services are terminated and instead of a month's notice he is given pay in lieu thereof. The Court finds that in such cases a worker is entitled to cash payment in respect of any accrued benefits like leave.

The Court would like to point out that the contractual relationship having already ended, the worker is therefore entitled to be paid in cash for any accrued benefits. In other words the employer is discharging all his obligations under the contract by a cash payment. A cash payment in lieu of notice cannot also be considered as a discharge of obligation in respect of accrued leave.

It is quite clear from the letter which was issued to these workers when their services were terminated that their services ended on 31st December 1968, and they were paid one month's salary in lieu of notice. Moreover, the Respondents paid "proportionate leave travelling allowance" to each of these four workers. In these circumstances the Court finds that these four workers are entitled to payment in lieu of any accrued leave.

There is, however, one point which goes very much against the Claimants in this dispute and that is that these four persons have signed receipts in full and final settlement of their claims against the Respondents. The Claimants have cast doubts on the validity of these receipts but considering all the evidence, that was given on this point by the witnesses the Court has come to the conclusion that it cannot find that these receipts were obtained fraudulently. On the other hand it is quite clear that had the Respondents not interpreted the policy of their Association in the manner they did, they would not have refused to make cash payment in respect of accrued leave. That being the position and the Court having found the Respondents' interpretation to be wrong on this point, the Court hopes and expects that the Respondents would pay those of the four workers who may be entitled to accrued leave. The Court strongly recommends that they do so.

The parties did not address the Court at length on whether or not all these four persons were entitled to any accrued leave but that is a simple matter which can no doubt be determined by the parties themselves.

Given in Nairobi this 27th day of January 1971.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 294

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
