THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 46 OF 1972

Parties —

Kenya Plantation and Agricultural Workers' Union
and

Sisal Employers' Association

Issues in dispute —

- 1 Union representation
- 2 Paid Leave
- 3 Wages

1 The Kenya Plantation and Agricultural Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Sisal Employers' Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on 6th and 7th March, 1973 and relied on their written and verbal submissions. In addition, the Claimants called the following witnesses —

Wambua Mutana
Ojunga Ogola
James Wahome

AWARD

3 The latest Collective Agreement between the parties was signed on 1st September, 1969. In clause 14 of this agreement it is provided—

"Period

- (i) This agreement shall come into force with effect from 1st September, 1969
- (ii) In the event of a marked and stable improvement in the selling price of sisal fibre either party may give to the other one month's notice in writing expressing its wish to discuss the terms of this Agreement"

On 5th June the Claimants wrote to the Respondents expressing their wish to open discussions on new terms and conditions of employment, in accordance with the aforesaid clause 14 (ii)

Thereafter negotiations commenced and the parties voluntarily agreed to 16 of the 19 items involved. The Claimants then reported a trade dispute to the Ministry of Labour on 9th October, 1972 on the following items —

- 1 Subject matter
- 2 Paid leave
- 3 Wages

The dispute was accepted and a conciliator was appointed but despite protracted negotiations the parties recorded a deadlock on all the three items. The parties then signed a Notification of Dispute Form "A" on 17th November, 1972 which was forwarded to the Industrial Court on 22nd December, 1972 with the Labour Commissioner's certificate signed on 19th December, 1972

The parties submitted very detailed and comprehensive written submissions and elaborated them further during the hearing

The Court does not intend to refer to all these submissions in its award although they have all been taken into serious consideration by the Court before arriving at its findings

The Court must, however, state that it has been considerably influenced by the following factors which are of great importance to the Sisal Industry, the workers involved in it and the country generally —

(a) The vast majority of the workers in this industry have not received any wage increase since 30th September, 1963 because of the exceptionally lean period through which the industry has passed in the years since then. The Respondents however pointed out that the rates agreed for the sisal workers in 1963 were so much in advance of the other plantation and agricultural industries that it has taken them almost 10 years to catch up with them. The Claimants countered this argument by saying that the economics of the sisal industry were completely different from the other agricultural industries.

(b) The Claimants acknowledged the serious difficulties which faced the industry since 1965 and therefore did not press home demands for a wage increase for so long a period. The fringe benefits have, however, been revised and are fully comparable with other plantation industries.

(c) From 1963 when the workers in this industry numbered about 25,000 the total number in employment now was only about 10,000 and 28 sisal estates had gone out of business since then, while others were heavily indebted to financial institutions.

(d) The production and sales figures during the same period submitted by the Claimants are—

Production

1968	50,300 metric tons
1969	50,000 metric tons
1970	43,930 metric tons
1971	45,186 metric tons

Sales

1969	38,489 metric tons
1970	65,108 metric tons
1971	40,629 metric tons

Both parties agreed that between January and September, 1972 the production and sales are as follows—

Production	30,590 metric tons
Sales	30,586 metric tons

(e) It is a fact that very little replanting has been done over the past several years with Claimants blaming the Respondents' members for neglecting their estates and the Respondents maintaining that many of their members did not see any future in the sisal industry and had hence diversified their plantations. The result is that although there is a great demand for sisal at quite high prices just now there is not enough sisal in Kenya to sell.

The Respondents emphasized that they are quite unable to take advantage of the current price of £157 per ton as the sisal they are producing today was contracted for up to 12 months ago at the price then ruling of £82 per ton.

(f) A close examination of sisal prices in the period 1948-1972 clearly reveals that they vary considerably and appear to move in cycles—after every high peak they go right down. During this period this is the third time that the prices had started rising after reaching an all time low of £68. The current price now was about £157 and no one knew how high it would go this time before crashing. The Respondents emphasized that the prices would definitely come down, it was only a question of time.

An important point relevant to prices is that the high price of sisal is in respect of Grade I sisal only which unfortunately in Kenya was only about 8 per cent of the total production. In Tanzania Grade I sisal constituted about 60 per cent of the total production. (The Claimants produced in the Court the rates of pay in Tanzania.) The Claimants strongly urged that the Respondents should have taken due note of the price variations and planned accordingly. The workers should not suffer because of the Respondents' failure in this respect.

(g) There is no doubt that the sisal industry as a whole is facing a serious threat from synthetic substitutes. For the first time in the history of sisal prices there was a cheaper-alternative available. Synthetic filament for the production of sisal's biggest utilization, binder and baler twine can be made available to the spinner at a price equivalent to sisal at £95 per ton. This sets a long term ceiling on the price of sisal.

The Respondents warned that once the interested parties moved seriously into the manufacture of synthetic substitutes and made heavy capital investment, then that would be the end of sisal industry in the world. They could do this if the price of sisal remained at a high figure of above £100 per ton.

(h) The cost of production per ton of sisal is an important point in this dispute. Despite the fact that it is impossible to arrive at a precise figure due to the differences of soil, rainfall and climate, the Research Officer at the Kenya Sisal Board Research Unit, Thika, gives a figure of K£64 to £74 as the cost of producing one ton of fibre.

The average labour costs per ton is in the region of Sh 541 and compared to other costs is the largest single item of expenditure the grower had to face.

(i) There are no complaints against the existing wage structure and no demand for the reduction of tasks. The Claimants, however, have asked for a wage increase of 70 per cent on the existing rates and the Respondents have offered 5 per cent increase but in respect of all those categories of employees not included in Appendix A or B, of the present Collective Agreement a 6 per cent wage increase. Both parties have expressed a desire that the Court should require them to carry out a job evaluation exercise in respect of these employees and that it should be ready before the next wage revision.

After careful consideration of all the submissions made by the parties the important ones having been mentioned hereinabove, the Court awards as follows on the three issues in dispute—

1 Union representation (subject matter)

In the current Collective Agreement it is provided that its terms shall not apply to—

(i) Casual labour, and

(ii) Supervisory staff who for the purpose of this Agreement shall be defined as those who exercise Confidential, directive, administrative, representational and supervisory functions and the lowest level of management to which disciplinary matters and decisions are delegated.

The Claimants' demand is that only the following should be excluded from Union representation —

Personal Secretaries, Farm Managers, General Managers, Managing Directors and members of the Board of Directors.

The Claimants' three witnesses gave evidence relating to this issue and the Respondents conceded that they did not oppose such workers being represented by the Claimants.

The Court is aware of the immense problems that have been caused by this issue in the industrial relations in Kenya. The original agreement between the Federation of Kenya Employers and Kenya Federation of Labour was at one time revised and the categories of non unionisable employees restricted slightly so that charge hands were allowed to be represented by the unions.

This revision, however, was never confirmed by the Joint Consultative Council with the result that the matter is still pending. Many employers have since then amended their agreements accordingly and there are other agreements where the level of union representation goes quite high up in the management.

The Court has decided that the Claimants should be allowed to represent casual workers and that supervisory staff should exclude charge hands and all those others who have no effective power to hire and fire and the Court awards accordingly. The existing clause in respect of non unionisable employees should continue as before with the aforesaid amendments.

2 Paid leave

The Claimants' demand is that the workers should be given the right to sell their leave because when they want to go on leave the Respondents do not allow them to do so and when the Respondents force them to take leave the workers are not ready to take it. This was most unsatisfactory. The Claimants also made a point that the workers were often forced to take unpaid leave when there was no work.

The Court has gone through the existing clause 6 on the subject of leave and finds that coupled with the Respondents' offer made during the hearing it is a satisfactory clause. Were the Court to agree to the Claimants' demand then the whole object of leave for a worker would be defeated.

The Court awards that the existing clause 6 should be amended as follows—

6 (i) All employees who have been in continuous full time employment for a period of one year and who shall have completed not less than 288 days of work during that year shall be granted at the end of that period eighteen days' paid leave, in the event of the aforesaid Gazetted Public Holidays occurring during the course of any such leave, these will be added to the said eighteen days.

6 (v) If at the request of an employer an employee forgoes his leave, he shall be paid his leave pay in addition to his normal pay. If a request is made by an employee to commute his leave on compassionate grounds sympathetic consideration will be given to his request.

6 (vi) The employers will be responsible for annual leave fares to be paid to the place of domicile and also the return fares if returning to work for the same employer. This return fare will be payable at the completion of the first month's work after leave. All fares will be at the rate applicable to the cheapest form of public transport.

6 (vii) Deleted

3 Wages

The Court awards the following new wage rates in respect of various categories of employees and tasks as contained in the current appendices A, B and C to the Collective Agreement.

All the other conditions appearing in these appendices should continue as before unless they are affected by the new wage rates when they can be amended accordingly.

APPENDIX A

Type of Work	Standard task per day	New consolidated rate per day worked
		Sh cts
1 Cutting	125 bundles	5 00
2 Cutting	150 bundles cut per day	6 05

	225 bundles cut per day	9 55
	250 bundles cut per day	10 75
	275 bundles cut per day	12 15
	300 bundles cut per day	13 55

3 Under certain special conditions due to climatic or growing conditions the employer may, in his discretion, reduce the Standard Task to 100 bundles per day either permanently or temporarily. In which case the following rate will apply—

Cutting	100 bundles	4 00
---------	-------------	------

Note to paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 above

In all cases a "bundle" shall consist of 25 leaves

APPENDIX B

Decortication	8 hour day during which each man employed on decortication will complete a task of not less than 5 tons of sisal leaf per day	Sh cts
		4 80

Adult females	8 hour day—Monday to Friday, 6 hour day on Saturday	3 60
Juveniles	8 hour day—Monday to Friday, 6 hour day on Saturday	2 70

APPENDIX C

Category	New wage rate
All those categories of employees not included in Appendices A or B	An increase of 9% on the current basic wage

The Court directs that the parties should carry out a job evaluation exercise in respect of these workers covered in Appendix C and that such an exercise should be completed and be ready before the next wage revision.

The Court notes that the parties had not included in the Notification of Dispute Form "A" issues of Effective Date and Duration. The Claimants, however, asked the Court to include these issues and to make an award thereon but the Respondents have not agreed to this.

The Court therefore cannot proceed to make an award on issues which are not before it.
