THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 12 OF 1977

Parties:—

St. Mary's School
Domestic and Hotel Workers' Union

Issue in dispute:—

Redundancy of 20 kitchen staff, 5 dormitory staff, 6 laundry staff and one tailor consequent to the closure of the boarding section of the school in December 1976.

1. St. Mary's School shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Domestic and Hotel Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 14th day of March, 1977 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 31st January, 1977 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 7th February along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

In this dispute the Claimants are seeking the Court's approval to declare 32 of their employees redundant consequent to the closure of their boarding section in December 1976. The Respondents have resisted this redundancy exercise and the dispute is before the Court.

In the parties' current collective agreement under clause 10 on the subject matter of redundancy an elaborate provision exists under the following terms—

"Should it become necessary for the Board to terminate the services of any employee/s for the reasons of redundancy, then the following procedure will be followed—

- (a) The Union shall be informed of the reasons for and the extent of the intended redundancy;
- (b) The selection of the redundant employee/s shall be determined by the Board and, the principle of "last in first out" shall be adopted in the same category of the employees affected subject to all other factors such as skill, relative merit, ability and reliability being equal;
- (c) The redundant employee/s shall be entitled to the appropriate period of notice or pay in lieu as provided for by clause 9 of part II of this agreement;
- (d) Upon redundancy, an employee shall be allowed severance pay at the rate of a half month's pay for each completed year of service. The surrender value of the Board's contributions into the Provident Fund plus interest shall constitute the severance pay except that where such surrender value is less than that that provided for in the first sentence, the Board shall make good the short fall;
- (e) Any employee whose services are terminated on account of redundancy shall be given the first priority of re-engagement should work become available and if the employee is available;
- (f) For the purposes of paragraph (d) of this clause the period of employment shall be counted from the date of engagement of the employee by the Board of Governors."

The following is the list of employees who the Claimants wish to declare redundant—

- |                     |                        |
|---------------------|------------------------|

| 14. Thomas Litisia  | 28. Kimaru Warokira    |
|                     | 29. Dominic Kimondolo. |

On 7th July, 1976 the Claimants wrote to the Respondents on this subject and informed them that it was their intention that the boarding section will be closed for good on 30th November, 1976 and that from 1st January, 1977 the school will be a day school only. Consequently the 19 employees in the kitchens five in the laundry and linen room, five in the dormitories and the tailor will be redundant. They were further informed that due to the staffing situation in the rest of the sections of the school they will not be able to absorb any of these employees elsewhere. Further that the mid-day meals served in the school for day pupils will also be discontinued. The Claimants in this letter expressed their intention of effecting these redundancies from 30th November, 1976 in accordance with clause 9 of the agreement.

The Respondents did not accept this letter as a notification to them under clause 10 of the collective agreement on the ground that no reasons have been set out for the intended redundancies.

The matter dragged on and the Claimants had to report the existence of a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour twice, once on 22nd September, 1976 and again on 7th December, 1976 as the first report of the trade dispute was challenged by the Respondents on technical grounds in that the Respondents alleged that they had not received a copy of a letter reporting the trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and that the machinery laid down in the parties' collective agreement had not been exhausted prior to the reporting of the dispute.

Conciliation attempts failed to resolve the matter and it is now before the Court.

The Claimants' main reason for declaring these people redundant is that they have closed their boarding section as a result of which there are now ten new classrooms, three new science laboratories and three Dean's offices and 877 pupils as compared to 605 in 1972. They explained that the closure of the boarding section was necessitated when the large number of boarders from Uganda and Tanzania ceased to come and the Board of Governors decided to phase out the boarding section. Phasing out programme has started in 1974 and ended with the total closure of the section on 30th November, 1976.

The Court was told that it was anticipated that by next year there would be two more classrooms and the number of pupils would go up to 937 in 1978.

The Claimants explained that although they had a kitchen for the teachers but only five teachers wanted to take lunch at the school and whereas previously they had supplied all three meals in 1976 they had discontinued supplying breakfast and dinner and at the end of this month they planned to discontinue the lunches as well. Out of the six fathers at the school, two were going to leave shortly and the remaining four could be catered for by the two remaining employees.

The Claimants pointed out that the laundry and the tailor employees were solely connected with the boarding section and there was therefore no work for them.

Finally the Claimants stated that they were incurring an expenditure of Sh. 9,000 p.m. for the payment of wages to these employees from 1st December, 1976 although there was no work for them at the school.

The Respondents have strongly objected to this application because they feel that the Claimants are one of the largest and leading educational institutions in the country and that they were able to employ more than 68 employees even after the boarding section had closed.

The Respondents suggested that some of these people could be absorbed looking after the school grounds which extended to 120 acres but on this point the Claimants corrected them by saying that as far as the acreage was concerned they had only 60 acres in their possession.

The Respondents also suggested that some of these people could be absorbed in the school kitchen which catered for fathers and teachers.

The Respondents put forward an idea that the staff involved in the intended redundancies could be absorbed by the Claimants if they were to start providing hot lunches to the students as some parents had expressed an interest in such a scheme to the Respondents' General Secretary. The General Secretary, however, in an answer to a question from the Court stated that he had met only five parents.

The Court appreciates the deep concern of the Respondents over this matter which is likely to result in the loss of employment of 29 of their members as although the application is in respect of 32 employees (as stated in the Notification of Dispute Form "A") to be declared redundant the Claimants told the Court that they were now able to retain an additional three leaving only 29 whose names appear hereinabove in the award.

The Court has also carefully considered the argument put forward by the Respondents that like in the past when under the Tripartite Agreements employers had been asked to take on additional employees in order to relieve the unemployment situation in the country the Claimants should continue to bear the extra burden of these employees rather than throw them out of employment. Unfortunately the Claimants are not a profit making institution and all the school fees which they charge go towards the meeting of teachers' salaries and other necessary expenses including retaining in employment 36 employees.

The Court must point out that these employees have continued in employment contrary to the Claimants' expectations from 1st December, 1976 up till now although the section in which they were employed had closed down on 30th November, 1976.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court gives its approval to the intended redundancies as planned by the Claimants as the Court is satisfied that there are genuine and solid reasons for such an action. The Court is further satisfied that the retention of these employees for whom there is no work at the school would not be in the long term financial interest of the school which is going to cater for some 937 pupils from January next year.

The Court accordingly directs that the Claimants should declare the aforesaid employees redundant by strictly complying with the provisions of clause 10 on redundancy in their collective agreement.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 857

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 92 OF 1976

Parties:—

Kenya Management Staff Association
and Nakulines Ltd.

Issue in dispute.—Refusal to pay J. O. Kibagendi his terminal benefits.

1. The Kenya Management Staff Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Nakulines Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 8th day of March, 1977, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The Claimants also called J. O. Kibagendi to give evidence during the hearing.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 14th September, 1976, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 23rd December, along with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The person involved in this dispute, J. O. Kibagendi, served the Respondents from May, 1975 to 7th October, 1975. During this period he was on three months' probation which he completed.

His letter of appointment contains no provision regarding the termination of employment and there is no collective agreement between the parties either. It is alleged that on 2nd September, 1975, he had taken a company car No. KPB 256 used by the Respondents' Administrative Manager, without authority and contrary to company's standing instructions for his own personal use while the car was undergoing repairs at the Respondents' workshop. It is further alleged that he then caused a serious accident which resulted in an expense of Sh. 17,303 which amount appears to have been reimbursed to the Respondents by their insurance company.

The Respondents held Mr. Kibagendi responsible for this accident and stated that he had given them inaccurate information regarding the whole matter and that he had also against him no less than three reports of misuse of company vehicles under his charge. His services were terminated with immediate effect from 7th October, 1975, and he was informed that he would be paid salary up to 7th October and the equivalent of one month's salary in lieu of notice. His monthly salary at the time was Sh. 2,000.

The Claimants have relied mainly on the findings and recommendation of the Ministry of Labour who had investigated the dispute after a report had been made to the Minister for Labour. These findings and recommendation are as follows:—

"Findings"

The Management's evidence in this case does not conclusively prove that Mr. Kibagendi had severally been warned or that his strained relationship with the Marketing Administrative Manager had anything to do with his eventual discharge. I therefore find that there was no ground for his discharge other than the accident in which he was involved.

Recommendation

In view of the above and mainly due to lack of evidence of negligence or otherwise attributable to Mr. Kibagendi, I strongly recommend that he be paid his terminal benefits, if any, plus two months' salary as compensation for loss of his job."

The Claimants while reiterating their written submission which in the main contained the letter from the Ministry of Labour containing the above findings and recommendation, argued that their member had suffered a wrongful termination. They called Mr. Kibagendi to give evidence on oath. Mr. Kibagendi stated that he had been asked by the Administrative Officer concerned to send a car to his house and because it was late and there were no drivers he decided to drive the car himself. On his way he found that another accident had taken place and unfortunately due to a burst tyre he also had an accident.

The Claimants stated that it was just a chance accident which could have happened to anyone and no blame could be attached to Mr. Kibagendi. He stated that he had spent two days in hospital as he was unconscious and added that a statement which he had signed dated 4th September, 1975, and which was produced by the Respondents as an appendix was signed by him while he was unconscious. Subsequently he had made two other statements.

The Claimants further stated that the Administrative Circular No. 4 of 1975 re use of company vehicles and a statement by one Hezekiah Waweru, workshop foreman, had no validity because these documents were undated. They also imputed improper motives regarding a letter from the Central Security Guards addressed to Kearlines Ltd. dated 13th October, 1975.

They asked the Court to award in favour of Mr. Kibagendi the following:—

	Sh.
(a) Two months' salary (compensation) ...	4,000
(b) Pay for 15 days' accrued leave ...	1,000
	Sh. 5,000

The Respondents submitted that the dispute before the Court was not wrongful termination of Mr. Kibagendi but refusal to pay Mr. Kibagendi his terminal benefits. This clearly excluded any claim for compensation made on his behalf. They admitted that the issue in dispute as reported to the Minister for Labour originally had been wrongful termination but pointed out that subsequently the nature of dispute had changed.

Without prejudice to their above submission the Respondents referred the Court to their written submission in support of their allegation that Mr. Kibagendi had behaved most irresponsibly on 2nd September, 1975, and as a result they had no option but to terminate his service.

The Court finds it most unsatisfactory as far as the Claimants are concerned that after having reported a dispute on the wrongful termination of their member the Notification of Dispute Form "A" signed by them and the Respondents shows the issue in dispute to be refusal to pay Mr. Kibagendi his terminal benefits. In view of this the Court has no alternative but to find that on the issue before the Court the Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a claim for compensation for wrongful termination. The parties themselves have referred a specific issue to the Court and that is as stated above and for the Court to depart from it would be to adjudicate upon a matter beyond the scope of its jurisdiction.

The Court is satisfied that by paying Mr. Kibagendi salary up to 7th October, 1975, the day his services were terminated, and the equivalent of one month's salary in lieu of notice, despite the letter of appointment being silent on termination, the Respondents have discharged and fulfilled their obligations towards Mr. Kibagendi. The Court finds that one month's salary under the circumstances is reasonable and in accordance with the current practice in the industry and the country generally in the absence of any collective agreement.

The Court must add that it was not impressed by the evidence of Mr. Kibagendi on several important aspects like stating that he signed the statement on 4th September, 1975, when he was unconscious, or that he spent two days in the hospital when he could not produce any documentary evidence to substantiate it by saying that he had left the cards back at home in Kisii. As against this, the Respondents produced a letter from the Divisional Traffic Officer, Eastern Division, dated 9th October, 1975, in which the last paragraph reads as follows:—

"Since the vehicle was drivable and the driver was not hurt he was allowed to drive his vehicle to his place of work. Thereafter the accident was treated as non-injury and therefore there was no further police action."

The Court appreciates the reason why the Respondents did not call any witnesses in support of their written submissions and that is because they have relied substantially on their first submission that the dispute before the Court is regarding terminal benefits and not compensation for wrongful termination.

The Court notes that Mr. Kibagendi would have been eligible for 28 days' leave on completion of twelve months' service as stated in his letter of appointment and as such there is no question of his having any accrued leave to his credit after five months' service only.

The Court finds that there is no merit in the Claimants' allegation that Mr. Kibagendi's services were terminated because he failed to employ a relative of a senior officer. As a matter of fact Mr. Kibagendi did not say a word about this matter when he was giving evidence on oath. The Court therefore places no importance on this allegation.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court rejects the Claimants' demand.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 93 OF 1976

Parties—

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
Pan Africa Insurance Co. Ltd.

Issue in dispute—

Wrongful dismissal of Jackson Gichuki.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Pan Africa Insurance Co. Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 9th and 10th March, 1977, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath during the hearing:—

Claimants.—J. Gichuki, D. Mwaluma, W. Ruriga, P. Wambua.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 25th October, 1976, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 23rd December along with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

J. Gichuki started working for the Respondents on 10th December, 1966, as a clerk and when his services were terminated was still in the same position although his salary had gone up to Sh. 1,014 p.m. basic.

His services were terminated on 23rd April, 1976, as a result of an incident that took place on 22nd April, 1976, in the Respondents' machine room where it is alleged Gichuki had called the Respondents' chief accountant "stupid" which was considered by the Respondents to be an offence of insubordination. The Respondents asked Gichuki for an explanation which he did give but the Respondents dismissed him summarily by serving on him the following letter:—

"We have read the explanation and after careful consideration, regret the explanation cannot be accepted. Under the circumstances, therefore, you are summarily dismissed for gross misconduct."

The Claimants took up the matter on his behalf and the dispute was investigated by an official of the Ministry of Labour after the dispute had been reported to the Minister for Labour. The following findings and recommendation were conveyed to the parties by the Permanent Secretary on 18th August, 1976:—

"Findings"

The Personnel Officer questioned eleven employees who were in the machine room to ascertain as to whether they heard Gichuki say the Chief Accountant was stupid. Out of the lot only three admitted that Gichuki said so. This position definitely casts grave doubts as to the claim by the Chief Accountant.

The claim by Gichuki that he had been called into the machine room by Mwaluma, the supervisor to perform certain duties would appear not to have been thoroughly investigated and certainly there is no evidence that Mwaluma refuted this claim. This goes to give Gichuki the benefit of doubt.

Most of those who were in the room stated that Gichuki did not argue with the Chief Accountant but instead the Chief Accountant was very aggressive to Gichuki.

In any event, assuming that these claims by the Chief Accountant were proved, the management could have given Gichuki a warning. Instead the Chief Accountant, as it were, instructed the Personnel Officer to dismiss Gichuki summarily. All in all, it is apparent that the Personnel did not conclusively establish and convince himself of Gichuki's guilt beyond reasonable doubt. In the circumstances I consider the dismissal of Gichuki to have been unjustified and wrongful.

Recommendation

Considering the findings hereinabove, I would have recommended reinstatement of Gichuki but due to strained relations this is not advisable. Instead I recommend that Gichuki's dismissal be reduced to normal termination of services with full terminal benefits. Additionally, I strongly recommend that he be paid three months' salary as compensation for loss of employment."

The Claimants were happy with the findings but insisted that they would not agree to anything short of Gichuki's reinstatement. Alternatively they expected substantial compensation.

During the hearing the Court had the benefit of the parties' written and verbal submissions and the evidence on oath of seven witnesses, four called by the Claimants and three by the Respondents. The story that emerges from an evaluation of all these can be summed up as follows:—

1. Gichuki had been served with several letters regarding his conduct and behaviour towards his superiors and on some other incidents of indiscipline. These letters were issued on 17th June and 16th December, 1969, and the last one on 29th July, 1970. There is no vidence of any further warnings issued to Gichuki in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement.

2. Gichuki had been recommended for promotion by one of his superiors, John Obat, on 7th October, 1975. In this letter Obat wrote to the Respondents' General Manager and stated that he had found Gichuki who had worked under his supervision for a long time to be a very co-operative and hardworking person. Further he had worked and had acted as his assistant during his absence. Obat also pointed out that he had been recommending Gichuki for promotion for the past two years to Grade I and he hoped that this time the recommendation would be considered sympathetically.

The Court accepts that Gichuki received a special increase in 1971/1972.

3. Some years ago Gichuki was the chief accountant, J. Ndungu's, tenant round about 1968/1969. Both of them were involved in litigation due to non-payment of rent by Gichuki which resulted in Gichuki's salary being attached through a court order in 1970. Subsequently there was an overpayment of Sh. 100 to Ndungu by Gichuki which according to Gichuki, the Respondents' General Manager ordered Ndungu to return to him. Gichuki alleged that the General Manager had "fired" Ndungu for this and that Ndungu since then was very much annoyed with him. Ndungu on the other hand stated that he repaid Gichuki the said Sh. 100 in 1971 and that he had no grudge against him whatsoever.

4. On 22nd April, 1976, Mwaluma had called Gichuki to the machine room to make some corrections in the list which he had prepared. This was some time in the morning. At that time apart from the employees who worked in the machine room there were some senior employees of the Respondents sitting or standing around the table of Chandarana who was the supervisor of the machine room at that time. Chandarana's table was near the door of the machine room and Messrs. Chandarana, Maru and Khakhria were talking to him. Jeremiah the Respondents' salaries officer, was at William's table which was a short distance from Chandarana's table.

A sketch of the machine room showing the various tables with the names of the persons who occupied them, was produced in Court and accepted by both sides as being a true sketch.

There was a noise in the room at the time and the chief accountant, J. Ndungu, who was doing his usual round opened the door and walked in. He said words to the effect, "Conference, Eh!" then he turned round and saw Gichuki who was near William's table and said "why are you here? You should be in the cash department" to which Gichuki replied "why pick on me?" after which Ndungu told him to go to his place of work but Gichuki hesitated. The Court is satisfied that apart from these remarks there must have been further exchange of words between the two as a number of witnesses referred to an heated exchange although they could not recall precisely what was said by the two.

Gichuki then started to go out when it is alleged that he told Ndungu, "don't be stupid" and in Ndungu's own words at that stage he told Gichuki that he would take disciplinary action against him and he further said that he had used the words "I will give you a warning for that".

All the persons in that room did not hear Gichuki telling Ndungu "don't be stupid". In fact out of all the persons who gave evidence in Court and others who made statements to the Respondents' personnel officer when he investigated the incident, only about three heard these words but the others did not.

5. The Court got a distinct impression that Gichuki on his way out after rectifying the errors for which he had been called into the machine room by Mwaluma had stopped for a moment or two at the table of William when Ndungu, the chief accountant, had walked in.

The Court has now to decide from the aforesaid picture that emerged from the parties' submissions and the evidence of the witnesses if Gichuki did tell Ndungu, "don't be stupid" and if the Court finds that these words were uttered by Gichuki then to determine if this amounts to insolent behaviour and gross insubordination on the part of Gichuki warranting his summary dismissal.

The Court has also to find to what extent this incident was influenced by the previous relationship between Gichuki and Ndungu regarding their rent litigation and the overpayment of Sh. 100 by Gichuki to Ndungu and it's subsequent return.

After careful consideration of all the submission the Court finds on balance that Gichuki did utter the words "don't be stupid" to Ndungu, the chief accountant, and the reason other persons in the room did not hear these words was either that he did not speak these words too loudly and therefore only people who were near the door could hear them or the other persons did hear these words but are trying to cover up. The Court is inclined to believe the former explanation as to be more likely.

The Court has now to decide if these words uttered under the circumstances as set out hereinabove in the award constitute a gross misconduct which would entitle the Respondents to terminate the services of Gichuki. To begin with the Court upholds the Claimants' submission that the previous letters of warning addressed to Gichuki are not valid because the last of such warnings was issued on 29th July, 1970, and clause 5 (b) of the parties' collective agreement clearly states:—

"All such warnings shall be erased from the history card of an employee after 12 months from the date of the last warning."

It is obvious that Gichuki has not received any warnings for nearly six years now.

Now coming to the incident itself, the Court is satisfied that Gichuki was in the machine room on official duty. In any case the chief accountant, Ndungu, having found him there along with other persons mentioned hereinabove should have, before giving any orders, made appropriate inquiries to determine what all of them were doing in that room particularly Gichuki. So Gichuki was justified in answering Ndungu in the words "why pick on me?" Ndungu's omission to make inquiries on the spot there and then prior to ordering Gichuki back to his room in an aggressive tone considerably lessens the gravity of the use of words "don't be stupid" addressed by a junior to a senior officer.

In any case the disciplinary action which Ndungu himself had in his mind at that time was to issue a warning letter to Gichuki because in his own words he said that that was the disciplinary action he had contemplated taking against Gichuki. The Court finds that if Gichuki's conduct warranted any disciplinary action then it could not have been anything harsher than a warning letter as envisaged by Ndungu at the time of the incident. The Court cannot completely rule out that the relationship between Ndungu and Gichuki had deteriorated due to the rent litigation as mentioned above.

Gichuki has served the Respondents for ten years and for the last six years he has had no warning letters. On the contrary there was a strong recommendation by Obat who was Gichuki's senior at one time for him to be promoted to Grade I.

The Court had no doubt at all that Gichuki has suffered a wrongful dismissal and consequently finds that the Respondents' action in summarily terminating his services was completely unjustified.

Having found that Gichuki has suffered a wrongful dismissal the Court has now to decide what relief to grant him. In this case the Court is of the view that Gichuki should get his job back and the Court accordingly awards that Gichuki should be reinstated into his former job with effect from 1st April, 1977, without any loss of service seniority or other benefits.

As far as the question of salary for the months that he has been out of employment, i.e. from 23rd April, 1976, till the date of his reinstatement is concerned the Court feels that he should be paid four months' salary only by way of compensation for the loss that he has suffered. The Court carefully considered the question of awarding Gichuki the full twelve months' compensation but is of the view that four months' salary would meet the interests of justice in this dispute.

The Court accordingly awards that in addition to Gichuki's reinstatement with effect from 1st April, 1977, he should be given four months' salary by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered.

PUBLISHED BY MINISTRY OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

This edition illustrates the pace of progress and industrial advancement which Kenya has made since independence in 1963.

Besides underlining the record of industrial progress in recent years, the Index aims at bringing to the notice of buyers within Africa and overseas the diversity of products available in Kenya and the scope for mutually profitable business opportunities that exist. The Index, therefore, is a standard book of reference on what Kenya can produce and make and should, therefore, be useful to businessmen and students for the valuable information that it contains.
