THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 4 OF 1978

Parties:—

Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers and

Motor Trade & Allied Industries Employers Association

Issue in dispute:—

Wage agreement to cover 6 per cent price increases.

INTERPRETATION APPLICATION RULING

The Court announced its award in the above dispute on 3rd April, 1978 and in the last paragraph the Court stated:

"After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards that all the unionizable employees employed by the Respondents' members should get a special wage increase of Sh. 20 p.m. with effect from 1st May, 1977 in accordance with the Government directive. This increase is to be in addition to the increases which the workers are entitled under their current collective agreement."

The Claimants have made this interpretation application requesting the Court to rule that this Court award should also be applied to those employees in the motor industry who were in employment when the dispute was being processed but who had left the employment before the Court award was announced. They maintained that it is wrong to deprive a worker of any benefit which he had already earned before leaving employment.

The Claimants argued that the Court award was effective from 1st May, 1977 and in their opinion this meant that any employee who was in employment as at 1st May, 1977 was entitled to this increment awarded by the Court. This applied to all employees irrespective of the reasons for leaving their employment.

The Claimants added that certain employers in the motor industry had implemented the Court award according to their interpretation but a few of the major employers were refusing to do so.

The Respondents strongly resisted this interpretation on the ground that the Court award very clearly stated that it was in respect of employees employed by the Respondents' members and since the ex-employees could not be considered to be in employment the award could not apply to them. They added that if the Court had intended the ex-employees to benefit then the Court would have stated so.

The Respondents also referred to their previous disputes with the Claimants in which it had been clearly established that the Court awards were applicable only to employees currently in employment.

The Court would like to refer to section 10 (6) of the Trade Disputes Act which reads as follows:

"10 (6) Subject to the provisions of this section, an award shall, as from the date that the award has effect, be an implied term of every contract of employment between the employers and employees to whom the award relates, so that the rate of wages to be paid and the terms and conditions of employment to be observed under the contract shall be in accordance with the award until it is varied by a subsequent award, or by agreement."

It is clear from the above that the Court award becomes an implied term of every contract of employment between the employers and the employees to whom the award relates as from the date that the award has effect. Those workers who have left employment had no current contract of employment with the Respondents when the Court announced its award. Therefore the Court award cannot be an implied term of their contract. The Court award becomes an implied term of contract of employment only when there is a current contract of employment in force.

In addition to the aforesaid legal position the Court award was very clear in that it clearly stated that all the unionizable employees employed by the Respondents' members would get a special wage increase of Sh. 20 per month with effect from 1st May, 1977 in accordance with the Government directive. The Court did not mention anywhere that its award was applicable to those workers who might have left the employment.

After carefully considering the parties' submissions the Court finds that the Claimants' interpretation is not tenable either in law or on fact and the Court accordingly upholds the Respondents' interpretation of the Court award on this particular point.

Dated this 4th day of January, 1979.

SAEED R. COCKAR,
Judge.

Z. M. ANYIENI,
Deputy to the Judge.
