THE ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT AND CO-ORDINATION ACT

(No. 8 of 1999)

THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENT MANAGEMENT AUTHORITY

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT STUDY REPORT FOR THE PROPOSED UPGRADING KITALE-ENDEBESS-SUAM (C45) ROAD IMPROVEMENT PROJECT IN TRANS NZOIA COUNTY

INVITATION OF PUBLIC COMMENTS

PURSUANT to regulation 21 of the Environmental Management and Co-ordination (Impact Assessment and Audit) Regulations, 2003, the National Environment Management Authority (NEMA) has received an Environmental Impact Assessment Study Report for the above proposed project.

The Proponent, Kenya National Highways Authority proposes the upgrading Kitale-Endebess-Suam (C45) Road improvement project in Trans Nzoia County. The project road starts at the junction with A1 road on the southern part of Kitale traversing Kitale Town on the northerly direction for 3.1 km. up to the junction with Kwanza-Kapenguria Road. From this Junction, the road takes a westerly direction to Endebess Town at km 19+700. From Endebess Town, the road takes north Westerly direction up to Suam Town at Km 45+500 terminating at Suam River Bridge.

The following are the anticipated impacts and proposed mitigation measures:

Environmental parameter	Potential impact	Proposed mitigation measures
Drainage and soil erosion	Four new bridges are expected across several rivers (Sabweni, Kaibei, Mubere and Suam). The bridge crossing river Kaibei may be improved to include a pedestrian walk. Construction works at the new bridges could lead to localized erosion. Furthermore, excavations could lead to sediment transportation during April-October especially between Endebess and Suam which has rugged terrain and higher rainfall. Culvert outfalls and mitre drain discharges directed to farmlands can cause new erosion and even affect farm productivity with a direct consequence on family livelihoods. Soil may erode along the road alignment, particularly during the wet season (April through October) in the initial years after decommissioning.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Partner with KFS to rehabilitate the excavated sites especially on the upstream and downstream of the new bridges. Optimized new drainage structure positions and improved capacities of the structures used in combination with specific erosion protection works. Scour checks should be constructed alongside drains on steep slopes. Consult owners of receiving farms whenever water discharge from mitre drains and culverts are to be directed into their farms. It is however strongly suggested that these outfalls be directed at vegetated areas. Designing outfalls from culverts and side drains onto farms in such a way that the discharge does not cause soil erosion or adversely affect farm conditions. In some instances when the discharge is on a sloppy terrain then consider lining the outfall up to a point where flow velocity is substantially reduced. Vegetate all excavated sites immediately works are completed within those sites using local species or those approved by the RE.
Air quality	The project site has well defined wet and dry seasons. The dry seasons tend to be relatively hot and windy conditions that exacerbate generation and blowing away of dust beyond the project site. Dust pollution could be significant within the Towns, the over 30 institutions close to the road and adjoining settlements.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Use dust suppressants as far as possible, especially within the towns. Increase frequency to at least every 3 hours during the dry season. All workers should wear dust masks at all times when at the sites of high dust generation.
Soil pollution	Could occur in the event of accidental oil spills, or release of petroleum products and bitumen (amongst other liquid waste) particularly in and around machinery and plant yards, base camps and areas of concentrated activities. These may infiltrate into soils and cause soil pollution.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Mitigation actions will mainly involve maintenance of machinery, bunding the garage/ fuel stations, using drip trays, and directing spills to an oil sump which should be emptied into a designated final disposal site.
Construction water sources	There are adequate water resources in the project area, so conflicts with the local water users are not foreseen. However, consultations are needed prior to commencement of water abstraction.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Acquire WARMA permit for water abstractions. Consult Water Users Association to gain their support prior to abstraction.
Global warming /climate change	Climate change projections indicate slight enhancement of rainfall but minimal increase in temperature of 0.7 – 2.10C.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Changes in temperature may not have a direct bearing on the bitumen road, however associated extreme weather events such as higher than normal rainfall days could impact on the road through enhanced erosion and need to design for maximum floods. The design has used a 100 year flood return period which potentially captures extreme weather events between 1960 and today. This is the period when global warming / climate change related extreme weather events have been noted.
Flora	Other than the dual carriage between Kitale Town and Matisi, and short re-alignment sections where there are sharp bends, the rest of the road will be restricted to the current road reserve. In all cases land cover will be transformed to permanent paved surface, leading to permanent and irreversible loss of vegetation cover. An indirect impact during operation is the possible opening up of Suam forest to tree poachers and this could lead to enhanced degradation of the forest. The converse can also happen, where cheaper trees from Uganda can easily be accessed and transported thus protecting the Suam Forest.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Design to avoid the old trees that are sporadically found in sections of the road between Kitale and Endebess. Value the vegetation resources to be affected that are within land to be acquired for appropriate compensation. Kenya Forest Service should be encouraged to enhance protection of Suam forest and closely monitor movements of forest resources in the area. Partner with KFS to rehabilitate part of the Suam Plantation Forest area by providing funds to establish or enhance tree nurseries and to assist with out-planting.
Noise and ground vibration	This impact can be of concern only at construction sites within the urban environments of Kitale, Veterinary, Tuwan, Matisi, Mowlem, Endebess, Chepchoina and Suam. There are over 30 noise-sensitive institutions that are within 300m of the road that include learning institutions, health facilities, homesteads and places of worship. Where explosives will be used, especially at quarries, there will be serious noise and vibrations in the vicinity of the site.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> At commencement of construction works, map all noise sensitive receptors and prepare a construction plan that avoids excessive noise within proximity of the receptors as appropriate. Restrict activities that emit loud noise to day time. Warn residents within 300m of quarries of intention to blast and the exact blasting time.

Environmental parameter	Potential impact	Proposed mitigation measures
Visual intrusion	On the whole, there are few scenic sites, but opened up quarries and borrow pits could be of visual intrusion. Cut slopes and excavated sites that scar the landscape are also sources of visual intrusion.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The contractor to prepare quarry and borrow pit management and rehabilitation plans. Progressively rehabilitate quarries and borrow pits as work progresses and as per site specific material site rehabilitation plan. The contractor should only demobilize once rehabilitation is complete.
Waste management	Construction waste could be a health hazard and also of visual intrusion.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Develop a waste management plan for use during the entire construction period. Identify waste disposal sites and ensure the sites are registered with NEMA and the relevant County Government. Stockpile spoil materials for use in backfilling excavated areas or rehabilitating borrow pits and quarries.
Urbanization	The road could trigger rapid development of urban centres, increase of property values and could promote ribbon settlement pattern beyond Endeess.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Proactive physical planning for the area by Trans Nzoia County.
Socio-cultural impacts	Enhanced social interaction and networking that will further erode indigenous communities' traditional ways of life as many adapt to hybrid cultures. In addition, there will be cultural diffusion and to some extent, erosion of some values and practices. These could mainly affect the Sabaot community who still value their culture. Restricted access to public facilities and amenities and even homes.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This may be a positive impact and could also be a negative impact depending on standpoint of an individual. The County authorities may need to be informed of this potential impact. Provide accesses to all public institutions and homes adjacent to the road at all times.
Gender	The road will have very positive impacts in reversing gender disparity in regards to access to opportunities that include markets, social facilities and overall improve thereby improving basic income levels of women and vulnerable groups.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This impact can only be enhanced especially by the contractor adopting the 30% gender rule during construction. The county government should be informed of the potential positive gender impacts to formulate ways of enhancing the positives.
Resettlement and compensation	There will be some land and property acquisition to allow for re-alignments. The most affected sections will be Kitale Town due to the dual carriageway. Others are at Mowlem, Tuwan, Kimase and Chepchoina. Overall over 200 individuals will be affected by the project.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A resettlement action plan has been separately undertaken and reported in a separate volume. The RAP proposes compensation at the current market rates while livelihood activities especially in Kitale Town will be mitigated by providing alternative trading sites. Lorry park will be provided at Matisi and provision of grain drying yard will be explored at the same site.
Public health	The indirect impacts of the project on health and safety are associated primarily with human behaviour, and this includes the potential for transmission of HIV-AIDS and other STIs.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Integrate HIV AIDS and STIs preventive and awareness programme in the contract. Include issuance of free condoms to workers in the BoQ. Establish a clinic within the Contractors' camp to attend to workers.
Road safety	The road is designed for high speed motoring.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Install elaborate road safety signs along the entire road and enforce compliant. Provide bus parks at all trading centres that can accommodate at least 4 fourteen seater mini-buses. Construct foot bridges and under-passes at strategic points along the road. Zebra crossings should be accompanied by speed calming humps. KeNHA should permanently acquire the road reserve to avoid structures close to the road carriage.

The full report of the proposed project is available for inspection during working hours at:

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT STUDY REPORT
FOR THE PROPOSED PRELIMINARY AND DETAILED ENGINEERING DESIGN OF KISIAN-BUSIA (B1) ROAD IN KISUMU COUNTY

INVITATION OF PUBLIC COMMENTS

PURSUANT to regulation 21 of the Environmental Management and Co-ordination (Impact Assessment and Audit) Regulations, 2003, the National Environment Management Authority (NEMA) has received an Environmental Impact Assessment Study Report for the above proposed project.

The proponent, Kenya National Highways Authority, is proposing a preliminary and detailed engineering design of Kisian-Busia (B1) Road in Kisumu and Busia counties. The project road length is approximately 104 km. and starts at Kisian junction and runs in a westerly direction through Maseno, Yala, Bumala and ends at Busiaborder post.

The following are the anticipated impacts and proposed mitigation measures:

Nature of Impact Mitigation measure taken or to be taken

PLANNING PHASE

|-------------------------------------|--|
| Direct land take for road expansion | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Land acquisition to be done before the contractor goes to site. • Formulate a detailed Resettlement Action Plan (RAP). • Identify and list all the Project Affected People (PAP) by type of losses and extent of damages in an Entitlement Matrix. • Consult Affected Persons (AP's) on, and offer choices among technically and economically feasible resettlement alternatives. • Compensate those affected according to the laid down policies in collaboration with the ministry of lands. • Implement an institutional structure or a mechanism for monitoring and evaluating the compensation/resettlement process. |
|-------------------------------------|--|

- | | |
|---|--|
| Loss of farmland and grazing land for borrow sites and quarries | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The site owner to negotiate for the price and modalities of payment with the contractor. • A clear program for the rehabilitation of all opened Borrow pits and quarries to be drawn up with site owners. |
|---|--|

CONSTRUCTION PHASE IMPACTS

Opening and Operation of Borrow Sites, Disposal Sites, Quarries and Asphalt Plant and cement Stabilization Production area

|------------------------------|--|
| Blasting and rock excavation | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The structure owners to be compensated to enable them to relocate to a safer distance. • The charges of the blast should be measured so that the blast does not affect the structures at the distance to the railway line. • The blasting contractor to be in possession of all required permits/certificates. • Notification to be given to affected parties including the Engineer, site employees and the public prior to each blasting event. |
|------------------------------|--|

Land resources impacts

Occupational hazards

- Blasting plans to comply with blasting regulations.
- Transportation, storage facilities and personnel handling explosives to be in accordance with regulations.
- The valuable top soil containing organic material, nutrients as well as seeds and the soil fauna should be excavated separately and piled in an adequate manner for re-use.
- Appoint a trained health and safety team for the duration of the construction work.
- Maintain Occupation hazard occurrence incidence records
- The contractor to ensure that all explosive materials are stored in a secured place that is manned 24 hours a day.
- Quarry blasting operations to be scheduled to minimize disturbance to people and ensure safety of the workers and the community.
- Notification to be given to affected parties including the Engineer, site employees and the public prior to each blasting event.
- Blasting plans to comply with blasting regulations
- Signs to be erected to warn unauthorized personnel of safety hazards.
- Regarding activities related to pit and quarries, reference to be made to the National Mines and Geology Act and the Guidelines for the Use of Explosives.
- The blasting contractor to be in possession of all required permits/certificates.
- Transportation, Storage facilities and personnel handling explosives to be in accordance with regulations.
- Install first aid facilities in the risk areas.
- Transport patients/causalities to nearest health facility
- A chain-link fence and a gate should be installed around the sites to restrain intruders (animals and the public).
- The gates will be kept padlocked all the time and only authorized access allowed.
- Warning notices, in the appropriate local language(s), will be attached to the fence advising that these are risk areas.

Solid wastes

Health impacts

Damage to Biodiversity

- The contractor to ensure that all waste materials are transported to a place of safe disposal.
- Excavated soils and rock ash from the crushes to be used at landfills.
- Regular screening
- Geomorphic disturbance to be minimized by maximizing reserves through deep quarrying The disturbance created by numerous smaller quarries is greater than that created by one large quarry.

- Ambient air quality
- Depending on the planned future use for the site and the size of the excavation, pits and quarries to be backfilled with clean mineral soil or granular material, leveled or sloped and if necessary re-vegetated. They can also be used as pan for watering the animal.
 - Reclamation plans shall be forwarded to NEMA or the Engineer. They can also be used as pan for watering the animal. Reclamation plans shall be forwarded to NEMA or the Engineer.
 - A clear program for the rehabilitation of all opened Borrow pits and quarries to be drawn up with site owners and rehabilitation to be done at the end of the project.
- Noise generation
- The impacts from asphalt plant-generated dust will be mitigated by use of dry or wet control systems or any other effective dust palliative measures.
 - Dry techniques include covers on conveyors, vacuum systems, and bag houses, which remove dust before the air stream is released to the atmosphere.
 - Wet suppression systems consists of pressurized water (or surfactant treated water) sprays located at dust generating sites throughout the plant.
 - The location and operation of asphalt batch plants to be sited as far as possible from sensitive receptors, such as shopping centers, health facilities and learning institutions.
 - Regular dust collection, removal and water sprinkling at the asphalt mixing and cement stabilization yards.
 - Fugitive dust from blasting to be controlled by proper design and execution of blasts e.g. when there are no prevailing winds.
 - Workers to be protected from dust through the use of enclosed, air-conditioned cabs on equipment and, where necessary, the use of respirators.
 - Workers exposed to dust will have dust masks and a 500ml packet of milk per working shift
 - Safety to include regular health screening.
 - Landscaping, berms, and stockpiles can be constructed to form sound barriers.
 - Noisy equipment (such as crushers) can be located away from populated areas and can be enclosed in sound-deadening structures.
 - Conveyors can be used instead of trucks for in-pit movement of materials.
 - Noisy operations can be scheduled or limited to certain times of the day to minimize disturbance to people and ensure safety of the workers and the community.

- The proper location of access roads, the use of acceleration and deceleration lanes, and careful routing of trucks can help reduce truck noise.
- Workers can be protected from noise through the use of enclosed, air-conditioned cabs on equipment and, where necessary, the use of hearing protectors.
- Workers safety to include regular health screening.

CONSTRUCTION CAMP IMPACTS

Loss of vegetation

- The first choice for selecting a site for the construction camp shall be previously cleared sites or natural openings. This will minimize unnecessary clearing.

Health

- Employ a ground person to ensure the compound is clean to keep away disease causing pests.
 - Condom dispensers to be located in appropriate locations within the camp and the camp environs such as in public toilets in market centers.
 - Intensify awareness on HIV/AIDS by use of bill boards in market centers and along the project road.
 - Workers and the surrounding communities to be sensitized on awareness, prevention and management of HIV/AIDS through staff training, awareness campaigns, multi-media and workshops or during community 'Barazas'.
 - The contractor to provide VCT centers along the route in collaboration with the ministry of health.
 - Adequate safe drinking water to be provided.
 - All waste water from the utilities like the offices, kitchen and sanitation facilities to be channeled to waste water treatment plant or constructed soak pits.
 - Pit latrines to be used in remote areas where no plumbing is available. All pit latrines must conform to the Public Health Act and be subject to the approval of the local public health officer.
 - The problems of alcohol abuse must be explained to workers as a part of the health education program.
 - Severe penalties for drunkenness and disorderly behavior must be given out along with the provision of counseling services for substance abuse.
- Risk of fire
- Firefighting equipment to be provided.
 - The staff to be trained on how to use the firefighting equipment.
 - Service program for the firefighting equipment should be in place.
 - Fire safety awareness campaign to be done to ensure preparedness.
- Insecurity
- A qualified security firm must be hired to handle security issues in collaboration with the Kenya Police.

- Incidences involving security must be recorded and shared with Kenya police.
- Proper site fencing and security guards will be in place to safeguard contractor property and safety and control movements.
- The contractor will engage manned security to record and process entry into camps and contractor's plant sites.
- The site will be securely fenced and security put in place to protect the facilities.

The full report of the proposed project is available for inspection during working hours at:
