(1970 No. 2)

The Nurses Regulations 1970

Commencement : 5th November 1970

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 21 of the Nurses Decree 1970 and of all other powers enabling it in that behalf the Nursing Council of Nigeria hereby makes the following regulations :—

Training Hospitals

1.—(1) An application for recognition as an approved training hospital may be made in the form "A" in Schedule 1 to these regulations to the district committee or to the nursing education officer as the case may be.

Application for recognition as a training hospital.

(2) If an application under sub-paragraph (1) above is received by the council it shall direct an inspection to be made, unless the district committee or the nursing education officer forwards with the application a recommendation for its approval ; and subject thereto an application under this regulation shall not be considered by the council without an inspection made on its behalf.

(3) Where the council after considering the inspection report on a training hospital is of opinion that the hospital ought to be approved under these regulations without further inspection, it may approve the application forthwith and in any other case it may impose conditions whereby approval shall have effect for a period not exceeding six months. If within that period it is satisfied that its requirements have been met it shall thereupon confirm its approval.

(4) Inspections of a routine nature shall be carried out in all approved training schools at least once in every three years.

(5) The approval of the council may in proper case (of which it shall be sole judge and from whose decision there shall be no appeal) at any time be withdrawn, and an action shall not lie at the suit of any person aggrieved by the withdrawal or as the case may be the refusal of the council to approve a training hospital under these regulations.

2.—(1) To qualify for approval under these regulations as a training hospital, a hospital must have—

Minimum requirements for approval.

(a) not less than 120 beds (other than maternity beds) divided into wards with adequate equipment to the satisfaction of the council so as to provide experience in surgical nursing, medical nursing, care of sick children, gynaecological nursing, introduction to obstetrics, genito-urinary nursing, psychiatric nursing, aspects of community nursing and any other experience relating to the care of the sick as the council may from time to time prescribe ;

(b) an operating theatre with adequate equipment for varied surgical experience ;

(c) an out-patient and casualty section ;

(d) provision for health and welfare of student nurses and for residential accommodation for student nurses during training.

(2) If a hospital ceases to have a school attached thereto or used therewith, the approval of the council shall be withdrawn, and any person in apparent charge of the school who permits or allows it to be used as a school after withdrawal of approval shall be guilty of an offence, punishable on conviction by a fine of not less than £100.

(3) The council shall prescribe facilities necessary for every school, and subject thereto there shall be in every school—

(a) an adequate number of classrooms for clinical instructions; and

(b) every training school shall unless otherwise directed by the council have at least one student to two beds, and each ward shall be supplied by one ward sister to twenty beds, four trained staff nurses to every twenty beds, and one or more of the trained nurses shall be on duty in a ward at all times.

available.

5. Information required by the council in its control of training hospitals shall be supplied on request made by the registrar and the failure to comply with its requirements as to names and other particulars of medical and nursing personnel available to the training hospital concerned shall be sufficient authority for the council to withdraw its approval under these regulations.

Requirements for entry, etc.

6.—(1) Every applicant for training as a nurse shall—

(a) be medically and physically fit, and

(b) be of an age and educational standard approved by the council;

(2) If the application is approved, the registrar shall inform the applicant in writing.

Progress
examinations to be conducted.

7. Every training hospital may conduct examinations as are necessary in its opinion from time to time to determine the progress of student nurses, and failure to satisfy the examiners may result in the dismissal of a student nurse from the training hospital. If a student nurse is dismissed under this regulation the reasons for the dismissal shall be given in writing by the registrar and they shall be available for use in respect of any subsequent application for admission to any other training hospital.

Effect of excess leave.

8.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this regulation, if the leave period of a student nurse exceeds 28 days in any one calendar year, the period in excess shall be made up before the training is to be considered as complete; and sick leave in excess of a total of 28 days throughout the training period shall likewise be made up by the student nurse.

(2) In the application of sub-paragraph (1) above, "leave" includes an absence occasioned by reason of vacation leave.

(3) Where in any calendar year—

(a) the total leave period exceeds 84 days, or

(b) any continuous period of leave (other than vacation leave) is in excess of 42 days duration, the leave shall constitute a break in training, and the time shall be made up by the student nurse before her training is to be regarded as complete.

(4) If the break in training is of 18 months duration or more, training already received shall not count; and the student nurse shall be treated as if her application for training had just been approved.

9.—(1) A student nurse who completes the course of training and fails the final examination shall be required to produce evidence by certificate of having undergone further studies at an approved school within a period of not later than twelve months before the date when she again presents herself for that examination.

Requirement of training
examination.

(2) Examinations shall be held at such times and places in Nigeria as the council may from time to time direct or require and they shall be conducted by a panel of examiners appointed by the council; and a candidate for examination shall be eligible to sit an examination if she completes the prescribed period of training on or before the end of the month during which she is to present herself for that examination.

10. If the council is satisfied that a student nurse has not completed the prescribed course of training or for any other reason her attendance at classes or general conduct is unsatisfactory, the council may refuse to allow the student to present herself for examination as a nurse for such period as it thinks fit.

Power of council to refuse admission of student nurse
for examination.

12.—(1) Where a training hospital is of opinion that a student nurse is for any reason insufficiently trained or ought otherwise to be debarred from presenting herself for examination as a nurse, the training hospital may report the case to the council and the council shall note its records and shall notify the student nurse of that fact.

Control of examination of student nurses.

(2) An appeal shall lie to the council from a report by a training hospital under paragraph (1) above ; but a student nurse shall not present herself for examination as a nurse if she is the subject of a report to the council under this regulation, and the case has not been reviewed by the council or, as the case may be, the training hospital.

documents.

13.—(1) The registrar shall, in the month of January in each year cause to be published in the Gazette a list of the names, in alphabetical sequence, of all nurses appearing on the register of nurses, corrected to the 31st December of the preceding year, and additions to the register shall likewise be so published from time to time.
