Particulars to be given where necessary

6. —(1) A party shall plead specifically any matter (for example, performance, release, any relevant statute of limitation, fraud or any fact showing illegality) which if not specifically pleaded might take the opposite party by surprise.

Matters which must be specifically pleaded

(2) Any condition precedent, the performance or occurrence of which is intended to be contested, shall be distinctly specified in his pleading by the plaintiff or the defendant, as the case may be; and, subject thereto, an averment of the performance or occurrence of all conditions precedent necessary for the case of the plaintiff or the defendant shall be implied in his pleading.

(3) Without prejudice to sub-rule (1) of this rule, a defendant in an action for the recovery of land shall plead specifically every ground of defence on which he relies and a plea that he is in possession of the land by himself or his tenant is not sufficient.

7.—(1) A further and better statement of the nature of the claim or defence, or further and better particulars of any matter stated in any pleading, notice or written proceeding requiring particulars, may in all cases be ordered, upon such terms as to costs and otherwise, as may be just.

denial.

(b) a party may in his pleadings expressly join issues on the last preceding pleading.

(3) There shall be no joinder of issues, implied or expressed, on a statement of claim or counter-claim.

(4) A joinder of issues operates as a denial of any material allegation of fact made in the pleading on which there is an implied or express joinder of issue unless, where in the case of an express joinder of issue, an allegation is exempted from the joinder and is stated to be admitted, in which case, the express joinder of issue operates as a denial of every other allegation.

Pleadings to be consistent.

11. A pleading, not being a petition or summons, shall not, except by way of amendment, raise any new ground of claim or contain any allegation of fact inconsistent with the previous pleadings of the party pleading the same.

Grounds of claim founded on separate facts to be separately stated.

12.—(1) Where the plaintiff seeks relief in respect of several distinct claims or causes of complaint founded upon separate and distinct facts, the relief shall be stated, as far as may be, separately and distinctly.

The relief claimed to be stated.

(2) The same rule shall apply where the defendant relies upon several distinct grounds of set-off or counter-claim founded upon separate and distinct facts.

relief and the same rule shall apply to any counter-claim made or relief claimed by the defendant in his defence.

13. It shall not be sufficient to deny generally the facts alleged by the statement of claim, but the defendant shall deal specifically with them, either admitting or denying the truth of each allegation of fact seriatim, as the truth or falsehood of each is within his knowledge, or as the case may be stating that he does not know whether any given allegation is true or otherwise.

Allegations shall not be made generally but specifically.

14.—(1) Where a party denies any allegation of fact he shall not do so evasively, but shall answer the point of substance.

Denial of fact must answer point of substance.

(2) Where a matter of fact is alleged with diverse circumstances it shall not be sufficient to deny it as alleged along with those circumstances, but a full and substantial answer shall be given.

15. The defence shall admit such material allegations in the statement of claim as the defendant knows to be true, or desires to be taken as established without proof.

Admissions.

16. Where any defendant seeks to rely upon any fact as supporting a right of set-off or counter-claim, he shall, in his statement of defence, state specifically that he does so by way of set-off or counter-claim as the case may be, and the particulars of such set-off or counter-claim and the written statements of witnesses shall be given.

Set-off or counter-claim to be pleaded.

17. The defence of a defendant shall not debar him at the hearing from disproving any allegation of the plaintiff not admitted by the defence, or from giving evidence in support of a defence not expressly set up by the defence, except where the defence, in the opinion of the Court, ought to have been expressly set up by the defence, or is inconsistent with the statements thereof, or is, in the opinion of the Court, likely to take the plaintiff by surprise or to raise new issues not fairly arising out of the pleadings, as they stand, and such as the plaintiff ought not to be then called upon to meet.

Evidence in denial of allegation or in support of defence not set up in pleadings.

18. The Court, where it considers that the statement of claim and the defence filed in any suit insufficiently disclose and fix the real issues between the parties, may order further pleadings to be filed as it may deem necessary for the purpose of bringing the parties to an issue.

Further pleadings.

19. Where the Court is of the opinion that any allegation of fact, denied or not admitted by any pleading, ought to have been admitted, the Court shall make such order as may be just with respect to costs.

Costs in certain cases.

20.—(1) The Court may at any time, on the application of either party, strike out any pleading or part of it, on the grounds that it—

(b) is embarrassing, scandalous or vexatious and an abuse of the process of the Court.

(2) The Court may—

(a) give leave to amend the pleading, or proceed to give Judgement for the plaintiff or the defendant, as the case may be; or

(b) make any other order; and upon such terms and conditions, as may seem just.

Denial of contract.

21. Where a contract, promise, or agreement is alleged in any pleading, a bare denial of the same by the opposite party shall be construed only as a denial in fact of the express contract, promise, or agreement alleged, on the matters of fact from which the same may be implied by law, and not as a denial of the legality or sufficiency in law of the contract, promise, or agreement, whether with reference to any statute or otherwise.

Effect of documents to be stated.

22. Where the contents of a document is material, it shall be sufficient in any pleading to state the effect as briefly as possible, without setting out the whole or any part of it, unless the precise words of the document or any part of it is material.

(b) refer generally to the letters, conversations, or circumstances without setting them out in detail.

(2) If as in sub-rule (1) of this rule, the person so pleading desires to rely in the alternative upon more contracts or relations than one as to be implied from those circumstances, he may state them in the alternative.

Presumption of law.

26. A party need not allege in his pleading a matter of fact which the law presumes in his favour or as to which the burden of proof lies upon the other side, unless the same has first been specifically denied, such as consideration for a bill of exchange where the plaintiff sues only on the bill, and not for the consideration as a substantive ground of claim.

27. A technical objection shall not be raised in any pleading on the ground of an alleged want of form.

Technical objection.

28. In a case where the cause of action is a stated or settled account, the same shall be alleged with particulars but in a case where a statement of account is relied on by way of evidence or admission of any other cause of action which is pleaded, the same need not be alleged in the pleadings.

Stated or settled account.

29. Where in any action a defence of tender before action is pleaded, the defendant shall pay into Court in accordance with order 15 rule 1 of these Rules the amount alleged to have been tendered, and the tender shall not be available as a defence unless and until payment into Court has been made.

Defence
of tender.

30. Where a claim by a defendant to a sum of money whether of an ascertained amount or not is relied on as a defence to the whole or part of a claim made by the plaintiff, it may be included in the defence and set-off against the plaintiff's claim, whether or not it is also added as a counter-claim.

Defence
of set-off.

31.—(1) Where in an action a set-off or counter-claim is established as a defence against the plaintiff's claim, the Court may, if the balance is in favour of the defendant, give judgement for the defendant for the balance, or otherwise adjudge to the defendant such relief as he may be entitled to upon the merits of the case.

(b) where neither a reply nor a defence to counter-claim is served, at the expiration of fourteen days after service of the defence.

(2) The pleadings in an action is deemed to be closed at the time provided by sub-rule (1) of this rule, notwithstanding that any request or order for particulars has been made but has not been complied with at that time.

B—STATEMENT OF CLAIM

33.—(1) A statement of claim or counter-claim shall state specifically the relief claimed either simply or in the alternative, and it shall include any general or other relief, which may be given as a Judge may think just as if it had been asked for.

Denial
generally.

37.—(1) In an action for debt or liquidated money demand, a mere denial of the debt shall not be sufficient defence.

(2) In an action for money had and received, a defence in denial shall deny the receipt of the money or the existence of those facts which are alleged to make such receipt by the defendant a receipt to the use of the plaintiff.

(3) In an action for goods sold and delivered, the defence shall deny the order or contract, the delivery, or the amount claimed.

41. Where a defendant by his defence sets up any counter-claim which raises questions between himself and the plaintiff along with any other person, he shall add to the title of his defence a further title similar to the title in a statement of claim setting out the names of all persons who, if such counter-claim were to be enforced by cross-action, would be defendants to such cross action and shall deliver his defence to those that are parties to the action within the period which he is required to deliver it to the plaintiff.

- (a) that the plaintiff or defendant is ordinarily resident out of jurisdiction ;

- (c) subject to sub-rule (2) of this rule, that the plaintiff's address is not stated in the writ or other originating process or is incorrectly stated ; or
- (d) that the plaintiff or the defendant has changed his address during the course of the proceedings with a view to evading the consequence of the litigation.

(2) Where the Court is convinced that the Plaintiff's failure to state his address or a mis-statement was made innocently and without intention to deceive, the plaintiff shall not give security by reason of sub-rule (1) (c) of this rule.

(3) The reference to a plaintiff and a defendant in rule 1 of this order shall be construed as references to the person, howsoever described on the record, who is in the position of plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, in the proceeding in question, including a proceeding on a counter-claim.

has been unnecessarily put in the proceedings, as well as compensated for his time and effort in coming to Court and the Judge may take into account all the circumstances of the case.

(2) Where the Court orders for cost to be paid, the judge shall summarily determine the amount of such costs, if practicable, at the time of delivering the Judgement or making the order.

8. The Judge may order any costs to be paid out of any fund or property to which a suit or proceedings relate.

Stage of proceeding at which costs to be dealt with.

10.—(1) The issue as to cost may be dealt with by the Judge at any stage of proceedings.

(2) Cost where ordered becomes payable immediately and shall be paid within seven days of the order, otherwise the defaulting party or his legal practitioner may be denied further audience in the proceedings.

(b) the doing of anything calculated to occasion or in a manner or at a time calculated to occasion unnecessary cost ; and

(c) any unnecessary delay in the proceeding.

(3) The Judge may instead of giving direction under sub-rule (1) of this rule in relation to anything done or any omission made, direct the taxing officer to inquire into it and if it appears to him that such direction as aforesaid should have been given in relation to it, to act as if the appropriate direction had been given.

14.—(1) Subject to the following provisions of this rule, where in any proceeding cost is incurred improperly or without reasonable cause or is wasted by undue delay or by any other misconduct or default, the Judge may make against any legal practitioner whom the Judge considers to be responsible whether personally or through a servant or agent, an order—

Personal liability of

(2) The provisions of rule 13 sub-rule (1) of this order shall apply where any proceeding in Court cannot conveniently proceed, fail or is adjourned without useful progress being made because of the failure of the legal practitioner to—

(a) attend in person or by a proper representative ; or

(b) deliver any document for the use of the Court which ought to have been delivered or to be prepared with any proper evidence or account or otherwise to proceed.

(3) Where, on the taxation of cost to be paid out of a fund, one-sixth or more of the amount of the bill for the cost is taxed off, the legal practitioner whose bill it is shall not be allowed the fees to which he would otherwise be entitled for drawing the bill and for attending the taxation.
