Government Notice No. 385Labour Code Act, Cap. 91 of the Laws of the Federation of NigeriaRECRUITMENT OF LABOUR FOR OIL PROSPECTING COMPANIES

It has come to the notice of the Federal Ministry of Labour that certain persons or companies are supplying the services of workers to certain oil companies in the oil producing areas of Nigeria in such manner that their activities contravene the provisions of section 62 of the Labour Code Act (Cap. 91) relating to the recruitment of "natives" for employment either within or without Nigeria. Those concerned are hereby warned to stop such illegal recruitment forthwith.

2. Pursuant to the provisions of section 64 of the Labour Code Act, it is an offence:

(a) for an employer who is desirous of recruiting for himself or for any other person to do so without first obtaining a permit under section 65 of the Labour Code Act;

(b) for a recruiter who wishes to recruit workers for an employer to whom a permit has been issued to do so without first obtaining a licence under section 70 (1) (b) of the Labour Code Act.

3. Employers and recruiters who are now engaged in the recruitment of labour in the circumstances described above without the necessary authorisation are warned, in their own interest, to regularise their operations by applying to the Commissioner for Labour for the necessary permits and licences within four weeks from the date of publication of this notice.

4. Members of the public are hereby advised that—

(a) all persons or companies at present engaged in the recruitment of labour on behalf of oil companies and all persons or companies intending to recruit labour on behalf of oil companies should apply for permits or licences under the Labour Code Act. Furthermore, in order to comply completely with the provisions of the law, all oil companies (and indeed other employers) who at present use or intend to use the services of recruiters to recruit their labour must apply for operational licences as stipulated by the Act.

(b) in the case of expatriate companies or companies employing expatriates, applications for licences must include photo copies of the necessary permits issued by the Chief Federal Immigration Officer authorising them to engage in such activities by virtue of the provisions of the Immigration Act, No. 6 of 1963.

S. O. KOKU,
Permanent Secretary,
Federal Ministry of Labour

Vacancy announcement.—No. 371-ESN-9.

Date issued.—3rd February, 1970.

Closing date.—31st March, 1970.

Duty Station.—Accra, Ghana.

Duration.—12 months, with possibility of extension.

Starting date.—As soon as possible.

Background information.—(a) The need for a regional food scientist to assist countries in the development of protein foods, particularly those suitable for consumption by the vulnerable groups, has been recognised by FAO and the Protein Advisory Group for many years. Recently the need has been confirmed by ECOSOC (Vienna, November 1968), the report of the Secretary-General of UN on "The Protein Problem" and the Resolution of the UN General Assembly of 2nd December, 1968 on "Increasing the production and use of edible protein" which all stress the development of protein foods of semi-conventional and unconventional nature. The incumbent would be responsible for developing such programmes for which the Nutrition Division is responsible within FAO.

(b) Several governments, notably Nigeria, Tunisia, Algeria, Ivory Coast and Ethiopia have already initiated such programmes.

Duties.—1. To conduct preliminary surveys, in countries of the region where protein malnutrition is particularly severe, to explore the possibilities for the development, production and distribution of protein foods based essentially on locally available raw materials; the selection of the countries to be done in consultation with the Nutrition Division and the Regional Nutrition Officer.

2. To encourage the governments of the countries, where such possibilities exist, to consider the development of appropriate projects and assist in the preparation of appropriate plans for funding and execution of such projects.

3. To maintain close contact and co-operate with the UNDP Resident Representative, the WHO and UNICEF regional and field officers in activities for the identification, planning and preparation of projects in the protein food field.

4. To participate in feasibility surveys in the countries where his preliminary surveys indicate that the development, production and distribution of protein food mixtures is promising.

5. To assist governments in preparing the appropriate requests to UNDP, UNICEF or bilateral technical assistance programmes for financing projects after the execution of feasibility studies.

6. To assist in pilot production and in the designing of industrial production for protein food mixtures.

7. To participate in the assessment of acceptability tests of protein foods.

8. To perform other related professional tasks within the broad scope of the above activities, in close liaison with and in the framework of the Protein Food Development Group, as assigned.

Qualifications.—University degree or equivalent in nutrition, food science or biochemical engineering experience in food research and food processing, formulation and protein food development (at least 7 years' professional experience). Ability to write clearly and concisely and to plan and execute projects; ability to co-operate extensively with other officials of FAO as well as of other organizations; willingness and ability to travel and work under field conditions.

Languages.—French and English essential.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with depth and breadth of training and experience.

Method of application.—Applications to reach Chief, Recruitment Section, Office of Personnel, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100-Rome, Italy, by 31st March, 1970. Quote : 371-ESN-9.

Government Notice No. 419

UNESCO VACANCY
SPECIAL FUND APPOINTMENT

1. Title of Post.—Expert in Production Engineering.

2. Location.—Mechanical Engineering Research and Development Organisation (MERADO), Madras India.

3. Background and functions.—With aid from the United Nations Development Programme, the Central Mechanical Engineering Research Institute (CMERI) was established in 1958 at Durgapur, about 150km north-west of Calcutta, CMERI's task is the development of mechanical engineering technology within India. To this end it seeks collaborative efforts with industry involving design of new products, product improvement, solution of production problems, and in general the rendering of service delineated by the institution's name. Other supporting activities have naturally evolved in the fields of evaluation methods for engineering products and materials and basic supporting research. Achievements of the Institute to date include designs for cable-making machinery, a 20hp tractor, quick ice-making machinery, economical steel structural forms, a small moped and a scooter.

Recognising the success of CMERI, the Government and UNESCO/UNDP have agreed to a co-operative effort to extend its services, both geographically and in their scope. Thus the Mechanical Engineering Research and Development Organisation has been established with headquarters in Durgapur and three extension centres at Poona (near Bombay), Ludhiana (north of Delhi) and Madras. These centres are in operation with small staff in quarters recently completed for the purpose. The MERADO centres will serve the primary purpose of giving advice and service to local industry on their day-to-day problems. They will also serve as regional outlets for CMERI, referring to the Institute for major and applied and basic problems requiring facilities and skills not available at the local MERADO. When fully established, these centres will fulfill the function of identifying problems of design, co-ordination, standardisation of locally produced components, material testing and processing, drawing up recommended specifications, adapting international codes and running appropriate training courses.

In the region of the location in question, Madras, the mechanical industry consists in the main of numerous medium-sized firms, many of them mass-production oriented. The Herald-Standard auto-factory is located at a short distance from the city, as well as a truck-auto wheel firm and other automobile ancillary equipment producers, a bicycle factory, boiler fabricators, among numerous others.

MERADO forms a part of a complex of national laboratories at Madras, including the National Leather Research Institute, the National Structural Engineering Research Institute and the National Electro-chemical Research Institute. The National Metallurgical Research Institute will also be placed here. The Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, is close by. The expert will provide technical guidance in projects taken up by the Centre. The expert will work in close collaboration with the Director of the Madras centre and will advise him;

(a) Outside the centre in bringing to the notice of local industries the services offered by the centre and CMERI;

(b) Within the centre in the planning of activities, training of staff, and collaboration on projects.

The expert will be under the supervision of the project Chief Technical Adviser, based at headquarters in Durgapur.

4. Qualifications.—The expert should have extensive experience in production engineering in industry. Experience in the areas of quality control, testing, production-line layout, tooling, and others associated with the production of mechanical products is highly desirable.

5. Language qualifications.—ENGLISH.

6. Duration of appointment.—Two years, starting 1st January, 1971.

7. International salary and allowances.—(Net of national income tax—payable partly in the currency of the staff member's home or of the duty station).

Base salary per annum :

each dependent child .. .. .		$300

Travel is provided for the expert and his dependants (spouse and children under 18 years of age). In addition, UNESCO contributes towards the cost of installation at the duty station, the education of dependent children, and the medical expenses of the staff member. On separation from UNESCO, a repatriation grant is paid.

8. Method of application.—Applications have to be made on special Curriculum Vitae Forms, which can be obtained, in person or by post, from the Secretary, Nigerian National Commission for UNESCO, Federal Ministry of Education, Senate Buildings, Lagos.

All applications for Curriculum Vitae Forms should state :

(a) the particular advertisement for which the forms are wanted :

(b) very brief (2 or 3 lines) summary of applicants qualifications for the post in terms of :—

(i) basic academic or professional qualifications ;
