VACANCY FOR A SCIENTIFIC ADVISER TO THE COMMONWEALTH SECRETARY-GENERAL AND SECRETARY TO THE COMMONWEALTH SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Applications are invited from suitably qualified candidates for consideration for the above-mentioned vacancy notified by the Commonwealth Secretariat.

Duties.—(a) To serve as Scientific Adviser to the Commonwealth Secretariat and to assist it to maintain effective liaison with the Commonwealth Scientific Committee and with other Commonwealth and international scientific and technological organisations.

(b) To act as Secretary to both the Commonwealth Scientific Committee and its Consultative Committee and to organise the meetings of these bodies and prepare their Agenda.

(c) To implement the policies and decisions of the Commonwealth Scientific Committee as determined at its biennial meetings.

(d) To establish and maintain through frequent visits and other means, personal contact with the scientific organisations of member countries.

(e) To encourage greater contact between scientific institutions and between scientists working in related fields.

(f) To provide member countries with information to assist them in developing their own scientific policies and scientific structures.

(g) To provide developing countries with information about the various sources of Commonwealth and international assistance in science and the channels through which bilateral or multilateral assistance may be sought.

(h) To recommend to the Commonwealth Scientific Committee on useful Commonwealth activities and on further opportunities for scientific collaboration.

To carry out these duties, it will be necessary for the appointee:—

(a) to co-operate with the Directors of Divisions and other senior officers in the Commonwealth Secretariat to explore ways and means by which science and technology can support the other professional and development programmes, and vice versa;

(b) to acquaint himself with the scientific organization and broad lines of research in Commonwealth countries and gain a knowledge of sources of more detailed information;

(c) to make regular visits to Commonwealth countries, particularly those where scientific effort is in its early stages of development, and to acquaint himself with the individuals and organizations responsible for the scientific effort and with the problems being encountered; and

(d) to become familiar with existing assistance schemes and with relevant consultants and advisers in Commonwealth countries and international agencies.

The terms of the appointment are:

(i) Salary £2,750-150-3,650 per annum, net of tax.

(ii) Overseas allowance of £1,250 per annum, net of tax.

(iii) Allowance for furnished residential accommodation of up to a maximum of £2,340 per annum for a married man with 4 or more children.

(iv) Accountable entertainment allowance of up to £400 a year.

(v) An educational allowance as provided for in the Staff Rules which will not exceed £400 per year per dependent child in the case of attendance at a day school and £500 per year per dependent child in the case of attendance at a boarding school.

(vi) One-time installation grant of £300.

These emoluments, and those of other senior officers of the Secretariat are currently being reviewed by a Committee of Experts drawn from Commonwealth Governments.

The officer selected will be entitled to travel expenses to London for himself and the dependent members of his family. He will enjoy the status of a Director of a Division of the Commonwealth Secretariat and will have diplomatic immunities and privileges. The Secretariat will be pleased to take steps to safeguard his pension rights if he is a beneficiary in any existing pension scheme.

The appointment will be for a minimum period of four years.

If the candidate selected is a career member of a government service, which is not of course a necessary condition of appointment, his position in that service could be retained and he could be seconded to the Commonwealth Secretariat, if his Government is agreeable, either on leave without pay, when he would be entitled to the emoluments mentioned above, or on leave with pay. In the latter case, his government would pay him appropriate salary and allowances and the Secretariat would reimburse his government the emoluments paid to him, up to the maximum limit of the Secretariat scale.

Methods of application.—Applications should be addressed to the Secretary, Federal Public Service Commission, P.M.B. 12586, Lagos, to reach him not later than 22nd January, 1972.

(ii) Applications from candidates in Government Service should be submitted through the applicant's Head of Department and in the case of State Officers they should be routed through the appropriate Public Service Commission. Applications from serving officers should be accompanied by confidential reports on the prescribed form.
