COUNCIL OF LEGAL EDUCATION
INFORMATION CIRCULAR No. 5
CONCESSIONAL ADMISSION TO THE NIGERIAN LAW SCHOOL

The Council of Legal Education has for sometime now been considering the problems of how to help Nigerians who have become stranded in Great Britain because they have been caught by the English Council of Legal Education Consolidated Regulation 23 (part of which bars any students from further participation in its examinations after four unsuccessful attempts), and are thereby precluded from completing their legal studies.

The Council has recently decided to provide some assistance to any deserving case subject to the following conditions:—

(a) That the applicant for the concessional admission produces satisfactory proof that:

(i) he has fully utilised all the chances open to him for taking the English Bar Finals Examination, and

(ii) he has actually been barred from further participation in future attempts on the sole ground of failure to secure a pass;

(b) That his performances at the Bar Final Examinations are such that, in the opinion of the Council, there is a reasonable chance of the applicant being able to cope effectively with the course being proposed for him in the Nigerian Law School;

(c) That any concession granted will apply only to those who—

(i) were enrolled at the Inns of Court in the United Kingdom BEFORE 12th October, 1964, and

(ii) take advantage of the Council's present offer between October 1973 and September 1976;

(d) That any student admitted to the School under the terms stated in the foregoing paragraphs shall undergo a two-year course, during the first year of which he must pass the Part I Examination, and during the second year he must pass the Final Examination;

(e) That no student will be permitted to proceed to the Final Examination if he has not passed the Part I Examination;

(f) That a student who fails to pass the Part I Examination by the end of the first year will be asked to withdraw from the course;

(g) That the student undertakes to satisfy such other stipulations as may be prescribed by the Council from time to time.
