ANNOUNCEMENT OF FIELD POST VACANCY IN THE FOOD AND AGRICULTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Post title (Post No., Project).—AGRICULTURAL PLANNING ECONOMIST, OMA/72/013

Vacancy announcement.—No. 1245-ESP-77.

Date issued.—19th February, 1974.

Closing date.—16th April, 1974.

Duty station.—Masqat, Oman.

Duration.—24 months.

Starting date.—As soon as possible.

Background.—An Economic Survey of Oman was carried out by the Whitehead Consulting Group, Harold Whitehead and Partners Ltd., in 1971, the report of which lays particular stress on the development of agriculture. There is considerable agricultural potential for development particularly along the eastern plateau between the coast and the hills. Since oil reserves are expected to last less than twenty years at the current rate of production, agriculture has to replace oil revenue. Hence the highest priority is to be given to agricultural development. There is a critical shortage of trained personnel and the Government needs the assistance of a well trained agricultural economist to prepare a comprehensive agricultural development strategy.

Duties.—The incumbent will play a key role in formulating the country's policy for agricultural development. In particular he would assist the Government in the following major tasks:

The formulation of a strategy for agricultural development and the preparation, in close collaboration with the planning advisory team, the centre for economic development and other concerned ministries, a development plan for the agricultural sector.

The follow-up and implementation aspects of the plan.

The strengthening of the country's planning capability, with particular emphasis on the training of counterpart personnel and the initiation of a programme of agricultural development studies relevant to agricultural development planning.

The co-ordination of project activities in the agricultural sector and liaisoning with IBRD and other international teams and financing agencies.

Qualifications.—University degree in economics or agricultural economics plus post-graduate studies to the M.Sc. or Ph.D. levels, with special emphasis on development planning and project analysis. Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their applications. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his official personal file.

Experience.—Minimum of ten years in agricultural development planning. Experience in working with national planning commissions or similar bodies.

Language.—English.

Other.—Ability to deal with government officials, to conceive and initiate policies and projects; to plan and direct the work of the staff; and to draft clearly, concisely and rapidly.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

Method of application.—Applications to reach Central Recruitment (Professional) Personnel Division, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100-Rome, Italy, by 16th April, 1974. Quote: 1245-ESP-77.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FIELD POST VACANCY IN THE FOOD AND AGRICULTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Post title (Post No., Project).—AGRICULTURAL OFFICER (FORAGE PRODUCTION) Development of meat and milk production—JOR 73/008.

Vacancy announcement.—No. 1244-AGP-249.

Date issued.—19th February, 1974.

Closing date.—16th April, 1974.

Duty station.—Wadi Dhulail, Jordan.

Duration.—12 months.

Starting date.—As soon as possible.

Background.—Jordan is an arid/semiarid country and only about 10 per cent of its 9.7 million ha. can be considered as cultivable. Livestock production is an important part of the agricultural sector but its expansion is hampered by deterioration of the rangelands, recurrent drought and absence of fodder crops in farm rotations, all resulting in severe shortages of feed. Of the 7.5 million ha. of land classed as range, only 1.1 million ha. appear to have favourable development prospects. The government intends to improve its livestock situation by increasing feed supplies through expanding forage and feed crop production and improved range management.

Duties.—Under the supervision of the project manager, the expert will review previous Jordanian work in his fields of competence and assess the merits and demerits in order to develop sound recommendations for improvement. He will assist in developing forage production, in irrigated and rainfed farming and initiate trials on fodder conservation. He will review progress at existing range stations and make proposals for strengthening the activities as well as selecting new sites for demonstrations. He will assist in preparing for implementation of the large-scale project as required.

Qualifications.—University degree in agriculture, with specialisation in range management and/or fodder crop agronomy.

Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their applications. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his official personal file.

Experience.—Seven years' experience in research, development or extension in range management and/or fodder crop agronomy; experience in semiarid regions is highly desirable.

Language.—Good knowledge of English.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

Method of application.—Applications to reach Central Recruitment (Professional), Personnel Division, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100-Rome, Italy, by 16th April 1974. Quote 1244-AGP-249.

Closing date.—22nd April, 1974.

Duty station.—Eldoret, Kenya.

Duration.—36 months.

Starting date.—1st May, 1974.

Background.—Livestock, particularly beef and dairy cattle, is one of the Government of Kenya's three priorities within agriculture. Accordingly veterinary services have been stressed since the absence of a sufficient service is limiting increases in productivity. To improve the veterinary investigation services, more investigation laboratories are required, while at the same time establishment of veterinary clinical centres will promote faster provision of veterinary advice. The objective of the project is therefore to establish an investigation laboratory and six clinical centres to function in disease investigation, diagnosis and control.

Duties.—Under the supervision of the Team Leader:

Be responsible for the normal running of the laboratory and for the maintenance of the service to be provided. This involves the diagnosis and investigation of disease problems based on information and material received from the District Veterinary Officers, the Clinical Services and the private practitioners. In addition, laboratory support will need to be given to the Meat Inspection Service, National Artificial Insemination Service and other projects within the Ministry of Agriculture.

Responsible also for devising, conducting and reporting on the research programme associated with the activities of the laboratory. He will be expected to supervise the laboratory staff and their training.

Co-ordinate activities of other Veterinary Investigation Laboratories to be established under the same project.

Qualifications.—Degree in Veterinary Medicine, preferably with a post-graduate specialization in pathology or epizootiology. Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their applications. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his official personal file.

Experience.—At least seven years' experience in investigation and laboratory diagnosis of domestic animals. Tropical experience would be an advantage.

Language.—English.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

Public Notice No. 17

THE INSTITUTE OF CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS
OF NIGERIA
STATEMENT ON APPOINTMENT AND REMOVAL OF AUDITORS

It has come to the notice of the Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria that some company directors purport to appoint new auditors without first of all removing or obtaining the resignation of the previous auditors in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Decree 1968.

The Council therefore wishes to point out to the business community that there are statutory provisions in the Decree concerning the appointment and removal of auditors. Auditors have certain rights, duties and responsibilities which they can neither abandon nor be relieved of by the directors of a company.

The appointment of new auditors, other than the retiring auditors, normally requires the passing of a Resolution at the Annual General Meeting of the Company. Notice of the nomination of new auditors should be given to the members of the Company not less than fourteen days before the date of the general meeting. Although directors have a right to appoint the first auditors before the Annual General Meeting and directors could also fill any casual vacancy in the office of auditor which may arise during the year, they cannot usurp the rights of members of the Company in the matter of appointment and/or removal of auditors at general meetings.

<sup>a</sup>The removal of the existing auditors should precede the appointment of new ones. Members of the Institute are aware of the standard of professional ethics expected in effecting a change. In all cases, the new auditors before accepting appointment, normally ask the out-going auditors if there are professional reasons why they should not accept the appointment. The outgoing auditors would not unreasonably withhold consent upon being asked by the incoming auditors.

It is important to note that a Special Notice must be given to shareholders of the company where the removal of existing auditors is contemplated. The outgoing auditors should be allowed ample opportunity to submit any representations they may wish to make to shareholders of the Company as provided in the Companies Decree. If the auditors elect to make representations to the company, new auditors should normally not be appointed until such representations have been heard and disposed of.

It is considered necessary to direct the attention of directors and shareholders to the fact that Section 154 of the Companies Decree 1968 subjects the investigation and audit of Companies to the provisions of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria Act, 1965, which stipulates that only a member of the Institute who holds a practising licence to practise as an accountant may be appointed as the auditor of a company.

The same section excludes certain persons from being appointed as auditors of Companies. These are:

- (a) an officer or servant of the Company; or
- (b) a person who is a partner of or in employment of an officer or servant of the company; or
- (c) a body corporate.
