ANNOUNCEMENT OF FIELD POST VACANCY IN THE FOOD AND AGRICULTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Post title (Post No., Project).—RICE AGRONOMIST
Land Development Project, SUD 73/001.

Vacancy announcement.—No. 1293-AGO-5.

Date issued.—17th April, 1974.

Closing date.—13th June, 1974.

Duty station.—Aweil, Southern Sudan.

Duration.—42 m/m.

Starting date.—As soon as possible.

Background.—The project will aim at improved rice production in a pilot area of 1,320 feddans over a period of three years through land and water development including land levelling, irrigation development and drainage improvement. Of this pilot area some 300 feddans will be used as an experimental farm where various agronomic studies including variety trials, fertilizer application, cultivation methods, pest and disease control etc. will be undertaken.

Duties.—Under the overall supervision of the Project Manager, the incumbent will be responsible for:

(i) conducting trials with improved varieties and cultural practices in order to determine the best varieties and agronomic requirements with special reference to planting systems, fertilizer application and weed control;

(ii) formulating and identifying crops that would fit into a rotation cycle with rice;

(iii) identifying pests and diseases and working out suitable and economic control measures;

(iv) training local technical personnel in the field of rice agronomy;

(v) performing other duties within his field of responsibility.

Qualifications.—University degree in agriculture, preferably post-graduate training in agronomy.

Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their applications. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his official personal file.

Experience.—Minimum of 7 years' experience of rice production in a large-scale irrigated and mechanized rice scheme. Experience in crop rotations and large-scale production techniques.

Languages.—Good knowledge of English.

Other.—Tact and ability to work with persons of various nationalities. A wide knowledge of improved varieties of rice and related disciplines. Working knowledge of modern machinery and equipment for experiments and large-scale production.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FIELD POST VACANCY IN THE FOOD AND AGRICULTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Post title (Post No., Project).—RANGE MANAGEMENT EXPERT Strengthening of the Agricultural Research Centre—(Libya Funds in Trust) FII No. 919700.

Vacancy Announcement.—No. 1292-AGO-4.

Date issued.—16th April, 1974.

Closing date.—12th June, 1974.

Duty station.—Jebel Akhdar.

Duration.—3 years.

Starting date.—September 1974.

Background.—Libya covers 1.76 million km² but only 3.4 million ha. are cultivated. Rainfall ranges from zero in the deserts to 600mm in Jebel Akhdar but is concentrated in a few months. The low rainfall, high summer temperatures and scanty vegetation impose severe limitations on livestock production.

Overgrazing, lack of supplementary feed and low management standards magnify these limitations. Libya intends to utilize its oil income to finance development of other segments of the economy including agriculture. Four regions have been selected for development with emphasis on increased livestock production. Research is needed to solve the problems now limiting successful implementation of livestock programmes and range management research will play a leading role.

Duties.—Under the general guidance of the team leader and in co-operation with other members of the team, the range management expert will examine the problems and prepare detailed programmes of research with particular reference to Jebel Akhdar and Jefara. He will assess grazing resources, determine carrying capacity, develop suitable grazing systems and soil/water conservation practices, conduct reseeding trials and study other range improvement practices. He will provide in-service training to counterpart staff in range research, improvement and management. He will also co-operate with ecology consultants of TF No. 949600.

Qualifications.—University degree in agriculture with specialization in range management and ecology. Advanced degrees, preferably to the Ph.D. are desirable.

Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their applications. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his official personnel file.

Experience.—A minimum of seven years' experience in range management research and development in semi-arid zones.

Languages.—Fluent English, knowledge of Arabic advisable.

Other.—Experience in Mediterranean climatic zones and with sheep management under extensive range grazing systems is desirable.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

Method of application.—Applications to reach Central Recruitment (Professional) Personnel Division, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100-Rome, Italy, 12th June, 1974. Quote: 1292-AGO-4.
