Background information.—The Government of Nepal passed in 1965 a law which required employers to employ Nepalese nationals for all posts becoming vacant but due to a dearth of trained Nepalese this law has not been enforced and many vacant posts continue to be filled by foreigners. A major object of the UNDP project is to make available trained workers to fill the vacancies with Nepalese as envisaged by the act.

The Government is presently engaged in developing and reconstructing the road system in the country and is enlarging and improving airports and airstrips throughout the country. For this work a large quantity of equipment has been provided through development banks and by bilateral donors. There is at present no regular training scheme for personnel to maintain heavy plant and very limited training for vehicle mechanics; much equipment and many vehicles have short or uneconomical utilisation due to lack of efficient repair and maintenance.

The University therefore proposes extending the training facilities at the Nepal Engineering Institute, which have already been extended under Phase 1 of the project by the establishment of a Vocational Training Scheme for skilled workers and overseers for building, civil engineering and electrical trades.

Description of duties.—The Expert will be a member of an international team attached to the Institute of Engineering, Tribhuvan University. (a) the planning and implementation of job entry and upgrading training courses for personnel at different skill levels (workers, overseers, supervisors/foremen) in the field of heavy construction equipment repair and maintenance in particular with respect to hydraulic systems, transmissions, chassis and auxiliary mechanisms and body repair;

(c) the development of practical test content for; periodic and progressive assessment of trainees and the preparation and application of occupational standards and certification procedures as far as required;

(d) the laying out of workshops, installing and putting into operation of equipment and the preparation of training materials and aids.

3. The Expert will also be required to:

(a) deliver instructions both theoretical and practical as required during the initial phase and supervise progressively the established courses;

(b) train the counterpart staff who will continue the training in the occupational field of heavy equipment repair and maintenance after termination of international assistance;
