UNITED NATIONS DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

HYDROMETEOROLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE CATCHMENTS OF THE LAKES VICTORIA, KYOGA AND MObutu SESE SEKO (Phase II)

Data on the equatorial lakes of the Nile has considerable international significance. The drainage area of the Upper Nile covers parts of Uganda, Kenya, Tanzania, Rwanda, Burundi and Zaïre. Egypt and Sudan are interested in the data and so is Ethiopia. The need for evaluation of the water balance of Lake Victoria, and its catchments has long been realized and efforts were initiated by the Governments in the fifties and sixties. The Project for the Hydrometeorological Survey which commenced in 1967 with the assistance of the UNDP and WMO was completed by the end of August 1972. During this period about sixty hydrological stations were set up as well as twenty-five meteorological stations, ten lake level recording stations, two hundred ordinary rain gauge stations, besides improving and upgrading several existing meteorological and hydrological stations. Seven index catchments were selected and densely instrumented for intensive studies. Topographic surveys of critical flat lake shore areas were conducted in Lake Victoria and a complete hydrographic survey was done for Lake Kyoga.

The principal problem in the period after August 1972, was the utilization of the large mass of data collected. As a result of studies made for the development of a plan for the conservation of available water resources including storage, regulation and use of the Nile, a Phase II project has been developed ; its main objective is to formulate a mathematical model representing the Upper Nile system including the lakes and rivers in all the riparian countries to help in the future development of the water resources of the Upper Nile.

The project will have a duration of three years and will include apart from the Chief Technical Adviser, an expert in data processing, a systems analyst and various consultant missions, provision for a sub-contract to develop the mathematical model, several fellowships and funds for the purchase of spares for existing equipment and for land and water transport.

ANNEX TO RAF/WMO/20

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Programme for strengthening the Agrometeorological and Hydrological Services of the Sahelian countries and establishment of a Centre for training and applications of agrometeorology/operational hydrology.

The strengthening of national services and the setting up of the Centre are among the medium-term and long-term measures intended to minimize the effects of climatological disasters and to improve the living conditions of the inhabitants of this area. The seven countries affected by the drought have set up a joint body in order to combine their efforts : the Permanent Inter-State Committee for the Fight Against Drought in the Sahel (CILSS). These countries are : the Cambia, Upper Volta, Mali, Mauritania, Niger, Senegal and Chad.

The present programme consists of :

Seven national projects intended to develop the agrometeorological and hydrological observational networks, to strengthen services for data processing and providing users with short-term forecasts, and lastly, the training of technical personnel required for these tasks ;

a regional Centre to provide training for these personnel. This Centre will subsequently have personnel and equipment for data processing on a regional basis.

Each national project comprises :

the services of an expert for two years, responsible for supervising meteorological and agrometeorological activities undertaken in the country ;

the supply of equipment for strengthening the networks ;

granting fellowships ;

hydrological activities undertaken under a sub-contract with ORSTOM (except the Gambia).

The Centre comprises :

the services of a Programme Manager responsible for the management and implementation of the entire programme ;

the services of four instructors in meteorology (2), agrometeorology (1) and climatology (1) ;

the services of two experts in operational hydrology responsible for planning and supervising the work of the subcontractor ;

the supply of didactic material.

It is also proposed to add data processing facilities on a regional scale by attaching two experts, providing data processing equipment and a telecommunication network for the collection and redistribution of these data.

The duration of these operations will be five years for the Centre and two years for the national projects.

The programme in the Centre commenced in June 1975. The present post is part of the national project for Mauritania.
