FOOD AND AGRICULTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FIELD POST VACANCY

Post title (Post No., Project).—RANGE MANAGEMENT RESEARCH SPECIALIST, Strengthening of the Agricultural Research Centre (ARC) UFTN/LIB/6.

Vacancy Announcement.—No. AGO/AGP/779.

Date issued.—27th March, 1979.

Closing date.—22nd May, 1979.

Duty station.—Tripoli, Libya.

Duration.—12 Months extendible.

Starting date.—As soon as possible.

Background.—The Agricultural Research Centre (ARC) was established by law in 1972 as the principal agricultural research institution in Libya. FAO's involvement began in 1974 with the start of ARC's activities.

The ARC's mandate—and also the FAO staff's, as they are fully integrated within the structure of the Institute—is to promote a wide range of research activities related to key areas of required investigation. In summary, the main objectives of the ARC are to:

1. Establish and plan for scientific research which will promote agricultural development;

2. Collect, classify and evaluate all technical, economic and sociological studies pertaining to Libya's agriculture already carried out;

3. Carry out studies and investigations on socio-economic, ecological and any other factor presently confronting Libya's agricultural development and publish findings including proposals for overcoming possible constraints;

4. Hold conferences, symposia and seminars for the exchange of scientific information; and

5. Co-operate with other institutions involved with extending new findings/concepts to farmers.

Duties.—The Range Management Research Specialist will work in close collaboration with FAO and ARC specialists. In particular, the Specialist will liaise closely with the Range Ecologist, Forage Plant Production Specialist, Soil Fertility Specialist and other members of ARC working on Animal Nutrition, Sheep Breeding/Management, Animal Health and Farm Production Economics. The research programmes will be elaborated taking into account the practical back-up required to support other FAO executed projects, i.e. Range and Livestock Development in Gefara Plain (UFTN/LIB/10) and Grazing Land and Livestock Development in the Central Wadi Zone and Gulf of Sirte (UFTN/LIB/11). The Range Management Research Specialist's work will be:

(i) the preparation of detailed programmes of investigation and research on national exploitation and management, including secondary production, of various types of grazing land, rotation grazing systems, use of supplementary feed, fodder crop reserves and utilization of by-products according to animal needs;

(ii) elaboration of management models for each ecological zone based on systematic trials and demonstrations;

(iii) implementation of specific research and investigation programmes related to range and range plants;

(iv) Provision of in-service training to counterpart staff in these various activities.

Qualifications.—University degree in Agriculture with specialization in Range Management.

Experience.—Seven years' experience is required. The successful candidate must have a proven history of research experience in range management under arid or semi-arid conditions. He must also be able to work efficiently as a member of a team comprising both national and international staff.

Languages.—Full working knowledge of English is required. Arabic is desirable.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their application. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his/her official personnel file.

All Vacancy announcements invite both male and female candidates.

Applications to reach Manpower Planning Unit, AGO, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100, Rome, Italy, by 22-5-79. Quote : AGO/AGP/779.

Starting date.—As soon as possible.

Background.—The Agricultural Research Centre (ARC) was established by law in 1972 as the principal agricultural research institution in Libya. FAO's involvement began in 1974 with the start of ARC's activities.

The ARC's mandate—and also the FAO staff's, as they are fully integrated within the structure of the Institute—is to promote a wide range of research activities related to key areas of required investigation. In summary, the main objectives of the ARC are to :

1. Establish and plan for scientific research which will promote agricultural development ;
2. Collect, classify and evaluate all technical, economic and sociological studies pertaining to Libya's agriculture already carried out ;
3. Carry out studies and investigations on socio-economic, ecological and any other factor presently confronting Libya's agricultural development and publish findings including proposals for overcoming possible constraints ;
4. Hold conferences, symposia and seminars for the exchange of scientific information ;
5. Co-operate with other institutions involved with extending new findings/concepts to farmers.

Duties.—Within the framework of the existing status of the ARC Library/Documentation Centre, and working jointly with the ARC Librarian and other FAO and ARC staff, the Documentalist will :

- (a) organize and, as necessary, supervise the general work of the Library in all its aspects ;
- (b) organize and assist in the collection, classification and indexing of published and non-published documents, reports and articles on agricultural research activities and results in all fields of agricultural and related sciences in Libya ;
- (c) organize and participate in work related to acquisition requests with subject specialists for both the Central and Regional Libraries ;

(d) prepare abstracts, indexes and reviews of articles in periodicals in co-operation with subject specialists ;

(e) contribute input of agricultural literature from the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya to AGRIS ;

(f) implement the agricultural Literature Bureau Service programme as and when this becomes feasible ;

(g) compile a controlled vocabulary in the Arabic and English languages from existing documentation profiles ;

(h) train counterparts for eventual full responsibility and assist in the technical upgrading of library staff in all the above aspects of Library/Documentation Work ;

(i) lend assistance with the translation of specialized agricultural documents from time to time.

Qualifications.—University degree in Library Science/Documentation.

Experience.—5 years' experience. It is highly desirable that the incumbent should have had training in agricultural science or at least relevant work experience.

Languages.—Full working knowledge of English. Arabic essential. Because of the nature of the work, the incumbent must, out of necessity, be fluent in Arabic.

Emoluments.—Salaries and benefits are liberal, commensurate with the responsibilities of the post and in line with the depth and breadth of training and experience.

Candidates may be requested to provide satisfactory evidence of the educational qualifications shown in their application. Appointments to vacant positions may depend upon the candidate selected providing such evidence for inclusion in his/her official personal file.

Applications to reach Manpower Planning Unit, AGO, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100 Rome, Italy, by 23-3-79. Quote : AGO/GIL/778.

All Vacancy Announcements invite both Male and Female candidates.

GENERAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCY No 759-FIR

Post title and Number.—SENIOR FISHERY
RESOURCES OFFICER (6321-0041).

Grade.—P-5.

Duration of assignment.—Continuing.

Vacancy notice issued.—26th March, 1979.

Organizational Unit.—Marine Resources Service, Fishery Resources and Environment Division, Fisheries Department.

Duty station.—Rome.

Deadline for applications.—21st May, 1979.

Duties and responsibilities.—Under the general direction of the Service Chief, but with a high degree of initiative, assist member countries with their programmes of evaluating their marine resources, and with the provision of timely and relevant scientific advice for the rational utilization and management of those resources. In particular, take immediate responsibility for all technical aspects of FAO resources activities in major ocean areas assigned. Specifically :

Prepare and promote regular reviews of the state of resources in the region assigned of responsibility, and the provision of scientific advice to governments, particularly through the planning, execution or assistance in those studies and advice.

Give technical support to the field programme, especially in the region assigned, by participating in project formulation, giving technical guidance to international and national experts on their research activities, and reviewing technical reports.

Promote training and education in the fields of resources evaluation and management, particularly through the planning, preparation and publication of manuals and similar material.

Give support to regional fishery bodies in the area assigned, especially through appropriate working parties, and in general promote intra-regional collaboration in fishery science.

Promote the comparative study of the population dynamics, research on patterns of exploitation and management of selected groups of fishes throughout the world, including the planning of those studies, organization of and participation in appropriate working parties and other relevant activities.

Perform other professional duties as assigned.

Qualifications essential.—University degree in biology, mathematics or other related disciplines.

Ten years' progressively responsible professional experience in research in the evaluation of fishery resources, with particular reference to international co-operation, and to the provision of advice to administrators and other decision-makers.

Full working knowledge (level 6) of English, French or Spanish.

Ability to work in harmony with staff members of different national and cultural backgrounds.

Qualifications desirable.—Record of original research in relevant fields, as measured by significant publications.

Familiarity with international collaboration in resource evaluation in developing regions.

Working knowledge (level 4) of a second language mentioned above.

Net salary per annum, from $30,217 to $37,385.

Allowances/benefits upon appointment.—Paid travel, shipment of household and personal effects, or assignment allowance, installation allowance.

Other benefits.—Subject to specific terms of appointment: Annual salary increment, variable cost-of-living adjustment, dependency allowances, children education grant, 30 working days' annual leave, home leave travel every two years with eligible family members, sick leave and maternity leave, pension and medical schemes.

Emoluments.—Are based on US $ equivalents and are deemed to be exempt from national income tax. Salaries and allowances are payable in the currency of the duty station and in any one other currency. "Net Salary" includes a variable cost-of-living component and is the amount payable to the staff member less deductions (e.g. Pension Fund, health and life insurance schemes).

Applications: staff members.—Complete 10 copies of Adm. 75. Please note that post is coded "C". Assignment limitations do not affect the tenure of staff members who have continuing appointments.

Other candidates.—Please complete FAO Personal History Form or send detailed Curriculum Vitae if form not available.

All announcements of vacancy invite both male and female candidates.

N.B.—Applications (quoting Vacancy No.) to: Central Recruitment, Personnel Division, FAO, via delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100—Rome, Italy.
