INTERNATIONAL LABOUR OFFICE
TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION PROGRAMME
ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCY

Country/Region.—Thailand.

Project No.—THA/82/005 (Post 01).

Pasrec No.—4205.

Date issued.—October 1982.

Closing date for applications.—No fixed date.

Applications from both men and women will be equally welcome:

General field.—(Title of project)—Working conditions and Environment.

Title of post.—Chief Technical Adviser/Expert in Occupational Safety and Training Methodology (Post 01).

Duty Station.—Bangkok.

Duration of appointment.—12 months, with possibility of extension.

Scheduled starting date.—Late 1982.

Terms of appointment.—ILO base salaries and allowances are normally free of income tax. In the absence of tax exemption, tax paid will be reimbursed in accordance with an ILO document which may be supplied on request. Although quoted in US dollars, salaries and allowances are payable partly in the currency of the country of assignment and partly in a freely chosen currency.

The pensionable remuneration of this assignment ranges from US $57,351 to US $72,166 and the (net) base salary ranges from US $30,776 to US $39,485.

The salary on appointment will be fixed on the basis of the qualifications, experience and family status of the person selected. The base salary will be supplemented by an annual post adjustment ranging from US $5,896.60 to US $7,260 which is subject to future changes depending on the fluctuation of cost-of-living index and the exchange rate. In addition, an assignment allowance will be paid of US $1,900 (single rate) or US $2,400 (dependant rate) and a child allowance of US $450 per year and child, except for the first child if the dependant rate of salary is paid in respect of that child. Further benefits are : installation allowance, education grant, repatriation grant, 30 working days' annual leave, home leave travel with eligible dependants every two years or, alternatively, annual travel to visit dependants if unaccompanied at the duty station, rest and recuperation leave for certain duty stations, participation in pension and health insurance schemes.

General project information.—Under the direction of the ILO and in collaboration with the Department of Labour, Ministry of Interior, Thailand, and the Regional Representative, UNDP, Bangkok, the Chief Technical Adviser will assume responsibility for ILO participation in the execution of the project aimed at the establishment and development of the National Institute for the Improvement of Working Conditions and Environment.

Description of duties.—His duties will comprise, among others:

- (a) establishing a detailed plan, based on the project document, including identification and description of major tasks to be performed, their starting and completion times, input/output relationships to previous or subsequent tasks, co-ordination requirements within and outside of the project, and the evaluative criteria for assessing performance. In the establishment of the plan, due consideration will be given to periodic reviews and changing project requirements ;

(b) co-operating with the ILO in all matters relating to the prospecting for and final selection of international personnel for the Institute ;

(c) assisting the Government in the selection of counterpart staff for the Institute and similarly regarding the selection of fellows and the timing of their placement ;

(d) taking an active part in the procurement of equipment from abroad and authorising local purchases as defined in relevant ILO rules ;

(e) co-operating with the ILO in the implementation of subcontractual arrangements and assuming the responsibility for local subcontracts for research translation services and administrative assistance.

Qualifications required :

(a) university degree in engineering with post-Graduate specialisation in occupational safety, occupational hygiene or occupational health, and with a wide theoretical and practical experience, in a responsible capacity, in the administration of comprehensive occupational safety and health programmes at either government or industry level including legislation, administration and inspection/enforcement, and plant-level procedures and techniques ;

(b) a managerial experience and ability to administer and implement a complex project of the nature of that being set up taking into account the various disciplines engaged in the project, viz. occupational safety, occupational hygiene, occupational health, working environment and conditions of work ;

(c) at least ten years of practical experience in, and sound knowledge of, latest accident-prevention methods and techniques ;

(d) ability to lecture on the subject and transfer knowledge and experience to counterparts ; and

(e) ability to establish and maintain good working relations with other people, institutions and bodies whose activities may bear some relationship upon those of the project.

Languages.—Full mastery of English ; knowledge of other languages being an additional asset.

General project information.—The Ministry of Manpower and Transmigration, through its directorate general of manpower development and utilisation, proposes to establish a national training authority which would be assisted by a permanent secretariat responsible for all manpower planning and vocational training activities, as well as the establishment of appropriate training legislation. Consistent with the directorate general of manpower development and utilisation vocational training policies to encourage employers to participate more effectively in manpower training by encouraging more apprenticeship and in-plant training, there is a need to plan and prepare apprenticeship legislation, set up apprenticeship training programmes and a system of tripartite organisation to explore various methods of implementation and provision of a scheme for employer incentive.

Description of duties.—The expert in apprentice training and legislation will work under the guidance of the co-ordinator in planning and organisation of national training systems and co-operate with other members of the international team and national counterpart staff. As a member of the international team of experts, it is his duty to assist with and advise on developing and establishing an apprenticeship system in accordance with the overall objective of the project.

Specifically the expert will :

(1) in liaison with employer and worker organisations and in keeping with the Government's policies, draft apprenticeship legislation which is compatible to Indonesia ;

(2) consider alternative approaches to the formal apprenticeship training system ;

(3) identify industries and training centres which will participate effectively with on-the-job and off-the-job training ;

(4) devise procedures for organising and administering apprenticeship training ;

(5) determine schemes of training, including entrance qualifications, duration of training and certification ;

(6) liaise with the occupational standards unit and vocational educational establishments to ensure consistent occupational standards, grading and certification ;

(7) consider incentive schemes in the form of grant/levy schemes or employer contractual schemes for financing the apprentice training ;

(8) prepare and submit to the co-ordinator such reports, as requested on the above-mentioned activities ;

(9) perform any other duties in connection with the assignment which are within the particular competence of an expert in apprenticeship training and legislation.

Qualifications required :

(1) a good general and technical experience up to the level of technician in mechanical/electrical engineering or equivalent qualification at the professional level ;

(2) considerable experience in the field of vocational/industrial training at the national level or in a large enterprise ;

(3) proven ability in a similar post which involved the preparation of apprenticeship legislation in developing countries ;

(4) the ability to plan and co-ordinate with employers and training centres relevant apprenticeship training schemes in developing countries ;

(5) ability to adapt to new working conditions and to establish good working relations with international and national staff.

Languages.—Thorough knowledge of written and oral English. Basic knowledge of Bahasa Indonesia would be extremely useful.

General project information.—The Expert in Conditions of Work and Welfare Facilities will be a member of an international team, assigned to the Department of Labour, Ministry of Interior, of the Government of Thailand.

He/she will work under the direction of the ILO Chief Technical Adviser and will be required to work closely with other members of the international team. Specifically, his/her duties will complement those of the Chief Technical Adviser's concerning conditions of work and welfare facilities.

Description of duties.—As Expert in Conditions of Work and Welfare Facilities, the incumbent will be responsible for :

(a) assisting the Chief Technical Adviser in establishing a detailed workplan based on the project document concerning the identification, description of major tasks to be done, their scheduling, the necessary inputs and expected outputs ; co-ordination requirements, etc., concerning the conditions of work and welfare facilities components of the project ;

(b) assisting the Chief Technical Adviser in the selection of short-term international and local consultants, and candidates for fellowships in the field of conditions of work and welfare facilities ;

(c) planning and developing the necessary procedures, materials, etc., for the conditions of work and welfare facilities components of various training courses ;

(d) supervising the training courses on condition of work and welfare facilities as well as conducting some of the courses ;

(e) developing the methodology and supervising the surveys of legislation concerning conditions of work, protection of women, child labour, and welfare facilities ;

(f) contributing the conditions of work and welfare facilities components in the design of various survey methodologies to evaluate conditions in industries, plantations, rural areas, urban-informal sector and small-scale enterprises.

(g) contributing the necessary procedures concerning conditions of work and welfare facilities in the design and implementation of the management information system, including the system for collection and analysis of statistical information and the documentation system ;

(h) assisting in the development of public awareness materials on conditions of work and welfare facilities and contributing to the roster of national, regional and international expertise and facilities of training ;

(i) evaluating the training programmes, studies, surveys, etc. on conditions of work and welfare and proposing improvements, if appropriate.

Qualifications required :

(a) University degree or equivalent experience preferably on areas on or related to working conditions and environment.

(b) Sound knowledge of the administrative and technical requirements of programmes for conditions of work and welfare facilities, particularly the ability to develop or adapt such programmes in the light of local conditions.

(c) Experience concerning training methodologies and training curricula.

(d) Ability to lecture on his/her subject and to transfer his/her knowledge and experience to others.

(e) Ability to initiate and maintain good working relationships with people at all levels and with relevant official institutions.

(f) Extensive and solid work experience in developing countries, preferably Asia, would be an asset.

—Language, Good working knowledge of English.

Government Notice No. 87

INTERNATIONAL LABOUR OFFICE TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION PROGRAMME ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCY

Country/Region.—Suriname.

Project.—SUR/82/003.

Pasrec No.—4150.

Date Issued.—October 1982

Closing date for applications.—No fixed dated.

Applications from both men and women will be equally welcome.

General field.—Social Security Development.

Title of post.—Social Security Actuary.

Duty station.—Paramaribo.

Duration of appointment.—Six months.

Scheduled starting date.—July 1983.

Terms of appointment.—The monthly net salary for this assignment ranges from US$2,564.67 to US$3,021. It is normally free of income tax. In the absence of tax exemption, tax paid will be reimbursed in accordance with an ILO document which may be supplied on request. The salary is payable in the currency of the home country of the person selected or in another currency of his/her choice.

During the assignment, a daily subsistence allowance will be payable in the currency of the country or countries of assignment. At present, this allowance amounts to 118 Guilder per day during the first 60 days, and to 88 Guilder per day during the following period. The daily subsistence allowance rate is subject to change during the assignment.

Short-term experts and consultants are entitled to 2½ working days' leave per month or the equivalent in cash for leave not taken. They also benefit from social security arrangements under specified conditions.

General information.—With a view to improving the over-all social well-being of the people of Suriname, the Government wishes to establish a comprehensive social security scheme providing a cash income protection for the whole population. At the present time a number of social security-type benefits are provided by the public and private sectors, but they remain piecemeal and unco-ordinated. Family allowances are payable, for example old-age pensions are also paid, without means of testing, to persons over 60 years of age. Civil servants are protected by a contributory benefit scheme and a State Health Insurance Foundation exists (also contributory) but is limited at the moment to civil servants or their dependants. Employment injury protection is of the employers' liability-type and there are some categories of workers excluded from coverage. Public assistance is available to householders whose means are insufficient. Benefits are available to employees in the private sector (it is estimated that nearly 50 per cent of such employees are covered by some form of collective agreement or pension scheme).

Description of duties.—The actuary will work in a team composed of :

(1) an expert in social security planning, legislation and administration ;

(2) himself ; and

(3) an accounting expert. He will join the former expert when the framework of the scheme has been decided, to be followed later by an accounting expert. His duties will be to assist the Government in the evaluation of the costs and the establishment of a financial system in view of the introduction of the proposed social security scheme.

This work will include the following tasks :

—to collect and analyse all economic, demographic and other data required for the actuarial estimates and to organise the compilation of data not now available ;

—to prepare actuarial estimates to serve as a basis for the fixing of the contribution rates and to formulate recommendations relating to the most suitable financial organisation of the scheme

—to advise on the statistical data to be maintained on a continuing basis to facilitate the periodical and other actuarial reviews ;

—to prepare a financial and actuarial report summarising the results of the actuarial estimates and presenting the recommendations resulting therefrom.

The actuary's assignment will be undertaken in three phases as follows :

1. The collection of statistical and financial data will be ensured during the first phase (approximately three months).

2. During the second phase (approximately two months), the actuary will undertake the actuarial calculations using, for the long-term benefits projections, the EDP facilities of the International Actuarial Services of the ILO and prepare the actuarial report containing the results of the actuarial review and his conclusions and recommendations.

3. The actuary will finally present to the national authorities the findings of the report and assist in the implementation of the recommendations.

Qualifications required.—Qualified actuary with wide experience in the application of actuarial techniques in all branches of social security. Previous experience in a developing country would be an advantage.

Language requirement. English.

At present, this allowance amounts to 118 Guilder per day during the first 60 days, and to 88 Guilder per day during the following period. The daily subsistence allowance rate is subject to change during the assignment.

Short-term experts and consultants are entitled to $\frac{1}{2}$ working days' leave per month or the equivalent in cash for leave not taken. They also benefit from social security arrangements under specified conditions.

General information.—With a view to improving the over-all social well-being of the people of Suriname, the Government wishes to establish a comprehensive social security scheme providing cash income protection for the whole population. At the present time a number of social security-type benefits are provided by the public and private sectors, but they remain piecemeal and unco-ordinated. Family allowances are payable, for example old-age pensions are also paid, without means of testing, to persons over 60 years of age. Civil servants are protected by a contributory benefit scheme and a State Health Insurance Foundation exists (also contributory) but is limited at the moment to civil servants or their dependants. Employment injury protection is of the employers' liability-type and there are some categories of workers excluded from coverage. Public assistance is available to householders whose means are insufficient. Benefits are available to employees in the private sector (it is estimated that nearly 50 per cent of such employees are covered by some form of collective agreement or pension scheme).

Description of duties.—The accounting expert will work in a team composed of :

(1) an expert in social security planning, legislation and administration ;

(2) a social security actuary ; and

(3) himself. He will join the other experts when the framework of the scheme has been decided upon and its cost evaluated by the actuary. His duties will be to assist the Government and, in particular, the Social Security Institution in designing and implementing a system of accounting for the efficient operation of the social security scheme.

This work will include the following tasks :

—designing an effective system of registration of employers and contributors and insurance of membership numbers ;

—designing an effective system of records of contribution and other income and of benefits and other expenditure ;

—advising on the establishment of security checks for financial control and of an internal auditing system ;

—assisting with training of officials charged with accounting duties ;

—designing a system of data collection and analysis for managerial use.

Qualifications required.—Fully qualified accountant with practical experience of the accounting systems of social security schemes. Previous experience in a developing country would be an advantage.

Language requirement.—English.

General project information.—The organisational and structural arrangements in the Ministry of Manpower and Transmigration were established to manage a network of 14 to 17 vocational and agricultural training centres. In view of the accelerating establishment of additional new training centres between 1976 and 1984, increasing the number of new vocational centres to well over 300, there is a need to establish a national training authority assisted by a permanent secretariat responsible for occupational standards, curriculum development, manpower planning and skill needs analysis, staff training, training aids material development, evaluation and research, in-plant training and apprenticeship training. To ensure linkage between the national training authority and the provinces, regional committees will be established, similar in structure (tripartite) and having similar responsibilities.

Description of duties.—The consultant in management of vocational training centres will work under the guidance of the co-ordinator in planning and organising the national training systems and co-operating with other members of the international team and national counterpart staff.

As a member of the international team the expert's main duty will be to assist with and advise on development and establishing the management of vocational training systems in accordance with the over-all objective of the project.

Specifically the consultant will:

- (1) advise on and assist with the development of an organisational structure for the secretariat of the national training authority;
- (2) specify the posts by titles in the organisation with their interrelation, and prepare detailed job descriptions for all key posts;
- (3) arrange training programmes for selected training centre directors to enable them to plan, organise, and implement the administrative and training activities of their centres more efficiently;
- (4) prepare an operational management training manual for training centre directors;
- (5) arrange a transitional plan for transferring experienced and trained national staff to carry out similar functions with the secretariat;
- (6) organise training programmes for training officers from industry to enable them to plant their own in-plant training;
- (7) prepare and submit to the co-ordinator such reports as requested on the above-mentioned activities;
- (8) perform any other duties in connection with the assignment which are within his particular competence as a consultant in the management of vocational training centres.

Qualifications required:

- (1) a good general, technical and management education and training at university level or equivalent professional level in engineering;
- (2) considerable experience in managing vocational/industrial training at the national level or in a large enterprise;
- (3) adequate training and experience in the field of managing training systems;
- (4) good knowledge of the vocational training planning, organising and running of training centres;
- (5) the ability to plan, co-ordinate, and implement management training programmes in developing countries;
- (6) aptitude to adapt to new working conditions and establish good working relations with international and national staff.

Languages.—Thorough knowledge of written and oral English. Basic knowledge of Bahasa Indonesia would be extremely useful.
