AUDITORS' REPORT

As auditors appointed under Section 44 (1) of the Central Bank of Nigeria Act (Chapter 30), we have examined the above Balance Sheet and Income and Expenditure Account and Notes 1(a) to 1(h) and 2 which are in agreement with the books of account. We have obtained all the information and explanations we considered necessary and in our opinion proper books have been kept.

During and at the end of the year there was a breach of Section 28 of the Central Bank of Nigeria Act, 1958 as amended by Section 3 of the 1967 Act, relating to the minimum level of external assets the Bank is expected to maintain relative to its total demand liabilities.

In our opinion, these accounts together with the Notes thereon show a true and fair view of the state of the Bank's affairs at 31st December, 1984 and of the Operating Surplus ascertained and apportioned in the manner indicated for the year ended on that date.

To the best of our knowledge and from our examination of the books and records, no contravention of the Productivity, Prices and Incomes Board Policy Guidelines has come to our notice in respect of the year ended 31st December, 1984.

Background and justification.—The development of skilled manpower in Botswana is one of the most important areas of concern to the Government. The Presidential Commission on Economic Opportunities reaffirms that the Government must now do more to meet the economy's requirement for skilled manpower. Botswana cannot afford to ignore the inherent skills and aptitudes of its people including those who lack or have little formal education.

The Apprenticeship and Industrial Training Act of 1983 intends to provide opportunities for those who are employed in industry and have developed basic skills for upgrading through the trade testing and certification system during the course of their employment in Botswana. This will be achieved through the Trade Testing Unit of Industrial Training Division under the Labour Department.

The first recorded trade tests were carried out in Botswana in 1962 starting with drivers and gradually incorporating other occupations over the years. This Department received an 18 months' ILO/UNDP assistance under the project BDT/78/011 to develop and implement systematic trade testing scheme. Unfortunately, the project came to an end in June 1981, partly because of lack of funds and partly due to other difficulties but now the project is coming up on its footings in Botswana. The Apprenticeship and Industrial Training Act has passed Botswana Parliament in December 1983. The Act provides for trade testing in Part V.

A feasibility study on strengthening the industrial training and trade testing was carried out by two German consultants and the report has been submitted to the Government of Botswana. It has been recommended to use the services of an ILO.

Adviser for the purpose of updating and strengthening the trade testing system in Botswana.

As the Act is expected to be operational by September 1985, so there is a vital role to be played by ILO consultancy to update and strengthen the whole trade testing system. The Act further provides training opportunities for those who are employed in industry and developed job skills in their trade during the course of employment. Through systematic trade testing and certification, the specific training requirements of these employee will be ascertained and implemented by the Industrial Training Unit.

In addition, it is expected to develop training standards for apprentices from the trade testing standards in selected trades.
