NOTICE OF SCHEME MEETING

Case No. 04/22344

IN THE HIGH COURT OF SOUTH AFRICA
(Witwatersrand Local Division)

Before the Honourable Justice Van Oosten

In the ex parte application of: FORIM HOLDINGS LIMITED (Incorporated in the Republic of South Africa)
(Registration No. 1986/004111/06), Applicant

Notice is hereby given that, in terms of an Order of Court dated Tuesday, 12 October 2004, the High Court of South Africa (Witwatersrand Local Division) has ordered, in accordance with the provisions of section 311 of the Companies Act, 1973 (Act 61 of 1973), as amended ("Companies Act"), that a meeting ("scheme meeting") of the members of the Applicant, other than Unicorde Solutions (Proprietary) Limited ("Unicorde"), registered as such at 17:00 on Thursday, 4 November 2004, be held under the chairmanship of Mr Christopher Haig Ewing, or failing him, any other independent person appointed by the Court, in the boardroom of the Applicant at the registered office of Forim, 4th Floor, 17 Faraday Street, Village Main, Johannesburg at 10:00 on Monday, 8 November 2004 (or any adjourned date as determined by the chairperson) ("adjourned meeting") for the purposes of considering and, if deemed fit, agreeing to, with or without modification, a scheme of arrangement ("the scheme") proposed by Thebe between the Applicant and its shareholders, other than Unicorde ("the scheme participants"), provided that the scheme meeting shall not be entitled to agree to any modification of the scheme which has the effect of diminishing the rights that are to accrue in terms thereof to scheme participants.

The implementation of the scheme is subject to the fulfilment of the conditions precedent stated therein including, but not limited to the sanction by the above Honourable Court and a certified copy of the Order of the above Honourable Court sanctioning the scheme being lodged with and registered by the Registrar of Companies.

The basic characteristic of the scheme is that, upon implementation, Thebe, together with its associated company, Unicorde, will become the owner, either directly or indirectly, of the entire issued share capital of the Applicant. In terms of the scheme, the scheme participants will receive a cash consideration of 68 cents plus interest at a rate of 7,5% per annum, compounded monthly in arrear, from Friday, 27 August 2004 to the operative date of the scheme, for every 1 (one) ordinary share in the Applicant held by such scheme participant.

Each scheme member who holds certificated ordinary shares in the Applicant ("certificated scheme member") or who holds dematerialised ordinary shares in the Applicant through a Central Securities Depository Participant ("CSDP") and has "own name" registration ("dematerialised own name scheme member"), may attend, speak and vote, or abstain from voting in person at the scheme meeting or any adjourned meeting, or may appoint one or more proxies (who need not be shareholders of the Applicant) to attend, speak and vote, or abstain from voting at the scheme meeting or any adjourned meeting in the place of such certificated scheme member or dematerialised own name scheme member. A form of proxy (pink) for this purpose, for completion by certificated scheme members and dematerialised own name scheme members only, is included in the document which has been posted to all holders of ordinary shares in the Applicant at their addresses as recorded in the register of members of the Applicant at the close of business on or about 4 (four) calendar days before the date of such posting. If more than one person is appointed on a single form of proxy, then only one of those proxies (in order of appointment) will be entitled to exercise that proxy. In the case of joint certificated scheme members and joint dematerialised own name scheme members, the vote of the senior certificated scheme member or senior dematerialised own name scheme member (seniority will be determined by the order in which the names of the joint certificated scheme members or joint dematerialised own name scheme members stand in the Applicant's register of members) who tenders a vote (whether in person or by proxy) will be accepted to the exclusion of the vote of the other joint certificated scheme member(s) or joint dematerialised own name scheme member(s).

Properly completed forms of proxy (pink) must be lodged with or posted to the transfer secretaries of the Applicant, Computershare Investor Services 2004 (Proprietary) Limited, Ground Floor, 70 Marshall Street, Johannesburg, 2001 (PO Box 61051, Marshalltown, 2107) to be received by no later than 10:00 on Friday, 5 November 2004, or more than 24 (twenty-four) hours preceding any adjourned meeting or handed to the chairperson of the scheme meeting no later than 10 (ten) minutes before the scheduled time for the commencement of the scheme meeting or adjourned meeting. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the chairperson of the scheme meeting may approve, at the chairperson's discretion, the use of any other form of proxy.

Each scheme member who holds a beneficial interest in dematerialised ordinary shares in the Applicant and who does not have own name registration ("dematerialised scheme member") may attend, speak and vote, or abstain from voting in person at the scheme meeting or adjourned scheme meeting only if such dematerialised scheme member informs his/her CSDP or broker timeously of his/her intention to attend and vote, or abstain from voting at the scheme meeting or adjourned meeting or be represented by proxy thereat in order for his/her CSDP or broker to issue him/her with the necessary authorisation in writing to do so or such dematerialised scheme member provides his/her CSDP or broker timeously with his/her voting instruction should such dematerialised scheme member not wish to attend the scheme meeting or adjourned meeting in person in order for his/her CSDP or broker to vote in accordance with his/her instruction at the scheme meeting or adjourned meeting. The CSDP or broker will then provide the transfer secretaries of the Applicant with forms of proxy in terms of each individual dematerialised scheme member's instruction.

In terms of the aforementioned Order of Court, the chairperson of the scheme meeting or adjourned meeting must report the results thereof to the above Honourable Court on Tuesday, 16 November 2004 at 10:00, or so soon thereafter as Counsel may be heard. A copy of the chairperson's report to the Court will be available on request to any scheme member, free of charge, at the registered office of the Applicant and at the office of the chairperson, during business hours at least 1 (one) week prior to the date fixed by the Court for the chairperson to report back to it.

Copies of this notice, the form of proxy (pink) to be used at the scheme meeting or any adjourned meeting, the scheme, the explanatory statement in terms of section 312 (1) of the Companies Act, explaining the scheme and the Order of Court summoning the scheme meeting, are included in the document which will be sent to holders of ordinary shares in the Applicant and of which this notice forms part. Such documents may be inspected and copies thereof obtained on request, free of charge, during normal business hours, at any time prior to the scheme meeting, at the registered office of the Applicant, being 4th Floor, 17 Faraday Street, Village Main, Johannesburg, and at the offices of the Chairman, c/o Cliffe Dekker Incorporated, 4th Floor, 1 Protea Place, Sandown, Sandton.

Mr Christopher Haig Ewing, Chairperson of the Scheme Meeting.

Case No. GCC 145/15/09/04

IN THE GAUTENG CONSUMER AFFAIRS COURT HELD AT JOHANNESBURG

In the matter between DERECK DU PREEZ, Complainant, and CUSTOM DOORS AND GATES, Respondent

Introduction:

1. This is the judgment concerning an alleged unfair business practice arising out of the Respondent's failure to supply and install a double garage door motor in accordance with an agreement the Complainant concluded with the Respondent on or about 4 June 2004.

2. The hearing took place on 4 October 2004. The Complainant was represented by Ms N Ngcobozi of the Gauteng Provincial Government's Office for the Investigation of Unfair Business Practices. The Respondent elected not to attend the hearing, which proceeded in the Respondent's absence.

Summary of evidence:

3. Only the Complainant testified in support of his complaint. According to the Complainant, on 4 June 2004 he entered into a verbal agreement with the Respondent in terms of which the Respondent would supply and install one double garage door motor (the motor) at 12 Glenanda Village, Glenanda, Johannesburg, for the amount of R2 900,00.

4. It was a term of the agreement that the Complainant would pay the Respondent a deposit of R1 500,00 and the balance of R1 400,00 was to be paid on completion of the work.

5. On 4 June 2004, the Complainant paid the Respondent the deposit of R1 500,00 and understood that the work would be completed the following week.

6. The Respondent did not commence the work by the Thursday of the following week. Accordingly, the Complainant telephoned the Respondent, whose representative Pam informed the Complainant that the Respondent had bought the motor. The Complainant understood that the motor would be installed almost immediately.

7. The Respondent did not install the motor and the Complainant telephoned the Respondent almost daily, and in some instances up to 3 times a day, to find out when the motor would be installed.

8. The Respondent had not installed the motor by about 9 July 2004. The Complainant then cancelled the agreement and requested the Respondent to refund the deposit, which the Respondent undertook to do on 12 July 2004. The Respondent failed to refund the deposit and on 14 July 2004, the Complainant asked the Respondent to do so by 16 July 2004. The Respondent did not do so by 16 July 2004.

9. The Complainant dealt with the Respondent's Pam at all relevant times. A male by the name of Daryl was present when the Complainant handed over the cheque for the deposit.

10. On or about 9 July 2004 the Complainant secured someone else to supply and install a garage door motor, which installation was done by about 13 July 2004.

Analysis of evidence:

11. The Complainant is required to prove his case against the Respondent on a balance of probabilities. This standard means that the Complainant's version must be more probable than the Respondent's version.

12. The Respondent, despite being summoned to attend the Court hearing and the summons having been duly served on him, elected not to do so. Accordingly, the uncontested evidence before the Court is that the Respondent accepted R1 500,00 as a deposit from the Complainant to supply and install the motor but failed to do so. The Respondent's conduct has unfairly affected the Complainant and constitutes an unfair business practice under the Consumer Affairs (Unfair Business Practices) Act, 1996 (the Act).

13. The unfair business practice committed by the Respondent is aggravated by the Respondent's actions. The Respondent took R1 500,00 from the Complainant and failed to comply with its side of the agreement. The Respondent strung the Respondent along for over a month yet failed to install the motor and refund the deposit. Moreover, the Respondent failed to attend Court to explain its behaviour. It follows that the Respondent has acted grossly unreasonably.

Compensation:

14. The Complainant has been clearly prejudiced. In accordance with the agreement, the Complainant paid an amount of R1 500,00 towards the costs of the motor but did not receive the benefit of the motor from the Respondent, who held itself out to be in the business of supplying and installing garage door motors. Accordingly, the Complainant is entitled to be refunded the amount of R1 500,00 together with interest on this amount.

ORDERS OF THE COURT (continued) • ORDERS VAN DIE HOF (vervolg)Costs:*

15. Section 17 (1) (b) of the Act empowers the Court to award costs on a prescribed scale or in amount determined by the Court against a person who is found to have acted, amongst other things, grossly unreasonably. The Court has found that the Respondent has acted grossly unreasonably and considers it appropriate to order the Respondent to pay towards the costs of the investigation by the Office for the Investigation of Unfair Business Practices and the sitting of the Court.

Other:

16. Accordingly, the Court orders that—

16.1 the Respondent is, through the Office for the Investigation of Unfair Business Practices and within 21 days of this judgment having been served on the Respondent, to refund the Complainant the amount of R1 500,00 together with interest thereon at the prescribed rate from 4 June 2004 to date of payment;

16.2 the Respondent is to pay to the Office for the Investigation of Unfair Business Practices and within 21 days of this judgment having been served on the Respondent the amount of R1 500,00 towards the costs of the investigation of this complaint by the Office for the Investigation of Unfair Business Practices and sitting of the Court.

Members K Madlala, A Mayet, I Jones and K Govender Concur with this judgment of Chairperson T Bailey.

Case No. GCC 115/06/04/04

IN THE GAUTENG CONSUMER AFFAIRS COURT HELD AT JOHANNESBURG

In the matter between: NASIMA MOHAMED, Complainant, and BIG BEN CARPET FITTERS
AND CLEANERS, Respondent

INTRODUCTION:

1. This is the judgment concerning an alleged unfair business practice arising out of the respondent having cleaned and scotchguarded the complainant's Kortisaan lounge suite in accordance with an agreement the complainant concluded with the respondent during February 2003.

2. The hearing commenced on 10 August 2004 and was ultimately concluded on 9 September 2004. The complainant was represented by Mr R. Sedibane of the Gauteng Provincial Government's Office For The Investigation Of Unfair Business Practices. The respondent was represented by an attorney Ms J. Marston.

3. It was agreed between the parties that the question of compensation, if any, be dealt with once the court had ruled whether or not the respondent had committed an unfair business practice envisaged by the Consumer Affairs (Unfair Business Practices) Act, 1996 (the Act).

SUMMARY OF EVIDENCE*The complainant*Nasima Mohamed

4. Nasima Mohamed (the complainant) testified that on or about 25 February 2003, she telephoned the respondent's proprietor, Jon-Jon Groenewald (Groenewald) to request that the respondent scotchguard and clean her Kortisaan lounge suite (the lounge suite). Groenewald agreed to do so.

5. The respondent cleaned the lounge suite on 27 February 2003 in the complainant's absence. The following day, the complainant telephoned Groenewald and told him that the lounge suite's colour "was not the same". Groenewald undertook to rectify the problem. The following Friday, the respondent's workers returned to the complainant's house and again cleaned the lounge suite in the complainant's absence. Despite this treatment, the lounge suit was "a more whiter colour". The complainant gave one of the lounge suite's cushions to one of the respondent's workers to show Groenewald.

6. Later, Groenewald telephoned the complainant and told her that he thought he knew what the problem was. Groenewald then personally came to the complainant's house and his workers then rinsed the lounge suite again in Groenewald's presence.

7. The rinse worsened the problem. The complainant telephoned Groenewald and told him that she was still unhappy. Groenewald told the complainant that there was a fault with the scotchguarding and she should telephone Mr Mageri (Mageri), the owner of 5 in 1 Fabric Protection. Mageri told the complainant that the scotchguard was fine and she should hold the respondent liable for any damage because the respondent should have tested a part of the lounge suite before cleaning it.

8. The complainant paid the respondent an amount of R600,00 for the respondent's services.

9. The complainant has 5 children. However, she denied that the lounge suite was dirty before the respondent cleaned it. She now requires the lounge suite to be re-upholstered as the present colour does not match the rest of the room.

The respondent*Jon-Jon Groenewald

10. Groenewald testified that 5 years ago he took over the respondent as an existing business together with its existing staff. The respondent does all purpose cleaning, including carpets and upholstery. It employs 35 persons and at month end cleans about 30 "houses" a day. This complaint is only the second complaint Groenewald has received since he took over the business.

11. The respondent purchases its carpet and cleaning materials from a recognised carpet cleaning company, Swing Chem. These cleaning materials include a powder, and a fibre rinse B109. The powder cleans carpets and upholstery while the fibre rinse prevents any colour run on any fabric being cleaned. It also conditions carpets and upholstery from hardening once the cleaning work has been completed.

12. According to Groenewald, the complainant telephoned him and asked whether the lounge suite could be cleaned and scotchguarded (the work). Groenewald was unsure whether the lounge suite could be scotchguarded because the fabric was new to him as he had not treated this type of fabric before. Therefor, he telephoned Mageri, who is the respondent's fabric protector supplier, to determine whether the work could be done. Mageri confirmed that the fabric could be scotchguarded. Groenewald telephoned the complainant and told her that the respondent would be able to do the work.

13. The respondent sent its employee, Hlephi Nkhomo (Nkhomo) to the complainant's house to do the work. Before starting the work, Nkhomo telephoned Groenewald to say he had not seen this type of fabric before and it was a "difficult" fabric. Groenewald told Nkhomo to do a colour-fast test and in the absence of a colour run to proceed with the work.

14. A few days after Nkhomo had done the work, the complainant telephoned Groenewald and expressed her unhappiness with the work because the couch had gone "lightish". Groenewald sent Nkhomo back to the complainant's house to rinse the couch, brush the fabric pile (the pile) back and smooth it. Nkhomo returned to the respondent with a cushion so that Groenewald could see "what was happening there".

15. Later, the complainant phoned Groenewald and again expressed her unhappiness. Groenewald then brushed the cushion back and concluded that there was nothing wrong. As a courtesy to the complainant, Groenewald went to the complainant's house and explained to the complainant that he thought the "couch was fine". It is possible that the fabric protector could have made "it" go lighter although Mageri rejected this possibility when Groenewald raised it with him.

16. Groenewald gave the complainant 5 litres of fibre rinse and warned the complainant that he could not be held responsible if the complainant used the fibre rinse to remove any marks. The respondent's workers then sprayed the couch with the fibre rinse in Groenewald's absence.

17. Groenewald asked the complainant for a piece of Kortisaan fabric. Groenewald tested the piece of fabric by using the respondent's usual cleaning process and chemicals and there was no colour run. Groenewald concluded that the fabric looked either brighter or darker depending on which way the pile was brushed.

18. According to Groenewald, not all fabrics can be cleaned. Groenewald is confident about the quality of Nkhomo's work. Nkhomo has worked in the cleaning industry for 11 years and probably knows more than Groenewald.

Hlephi Nkhomo

19. Nkhomo testified that he has been employed by the respondent for about 5 years. Before that, he worked for Protective Cleaning Systems, where he did the same type of work.

20. Nkhomo cleaned the complainant's lounge suite with the help of a colleague. The lounge suite's fabric was not the usual type of fabric that the respondent usually cleans. Nkhomo telephoned Groenewald to ask if they should clean the lounge suite, which was to be scotchguarded and cleaned "at the same time". Groenewald instructed Nkhomo to first do a colour run test. Nkhomo mixed the chemicals and did the test on one of the lounge suite's cushions. The test revealed the fabric's colour to be "fine" as he detected no colour in the water, which only showed dirt. Nkhomo and his colleague did the work. Nkhomo gave the complainant an invoice and she handed a cheque to him in payment for the work done.

21. Nkhomo returned to the complainant's house after she had complained to Groenewald. The complainant told Nkhomo that the lounge suite's colour was not the same. The only thing Nkhomo noted was that the pile was not facing in the same direction. Nkhomo then sprayed the lounge suite with the fibre rinse and brushed the pile to ensure it faced the same direction. The reason for doing the rinse was to make the fabric softer so that the pile could be brushed to the same side because one does not always vacuum in the same direction. The pile can give a different colour when combed in a different direction. Nkhomo returned to the respondent's premises with the lounge suite's cushions.

22. Nkhomo then rinsed the cushions using the same chemicals he had used on the lounge suite. A few days later, Nkhomo and Groenewald took the cushions back to the complainant's house, where Nkhomo sprayed the lounge suite again. Nkhomo and Groenewald gave the complainant less than a half a litre of fibre rinse, which the complainant said she would apply herself. The complainant's request was unusual and the respondent does not usually give its cleaning chemicals to its clients.

23. Nkhomo has subsequently cleaned Kortisaan fabric and has not experienced any problems. Normally, if the colour of the fabric runs following a colour run test then Nkhomo informs the owner and does not continue with the job to be done.

24. Nkhomo is able to determine whether there is a problem when the fabric is still damp. He did not detect a colour run or any other problem with the fabric.

Maghadie Salie

25. Maghadie Salie (Salie) testified that he is a director of Eloquent Interiors & Upholsterers (Eloquent Interiors), which manufacturers and sells furniture. Salie has worked in the furniture manufacturing trade for 18 years but does not consider himself an expert in fabrics or the cleaning of fabrics.

26. Eloquent Interiors buys all its fabrics. Although Eloquent Interiors cleans some of its fabrics, it generally sub-contracts its cleaning functions because each fabric is made of a different compositions. According to Salie, the Kortisaan fabric has a composition of 60 000 rubs, which ranks it among the top fabrics. It should be warm washed without chlotine at 40 degrees and should not be bleached. The fabric has been on the market for between 2 to 3 years.

27. The complainant bought the lounge suite directly from Eloquent Interiors about 2 years ago. Salie saw the lounge suite when it was sold to the complainant and again when he inspected the lounge suite to compile his report.

28. His recent inspection revealed the lounge suite to be in a poor state. He found the fabric to have been smudged. There are water marks, patches and runny streaky bits on the lounge suite. The patches or white marks are caused by cleaning against the grain. There are more white patches than anything else. Salie assumes that the proper cleaning procedures were not followed.

29. When assembling furniture, one should ensure that the grain runs downwards. Salie accepted that when cleaning the fabric, the cleaning pipe could jam if one works upwards. One should always work with the pile and not against it.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENTS*The complainant

30. Mr Sedibane submitted, among other things, that the complainant had first established from the respondent whether or not the work should be done before contracting with the respondent to confirm that the work could be done satisfactorily.

31. Second, as a result of the respondent's work the fabric of the lounge suite had been damaged and the complainant had thereby suffered prejudice. Accordingly, the respondent had committed an unfair business practice and the complainant is entitled to relief.

The respondent

32. Ms Marston submitted that the complainant had brought her claim before the improper tribunal. In this regard, even if it is assumed that the respondent damaged the lounge suite, it did not commit an unfair business practice because the complainant's claim is at best one of negligence, which amounts to a claim for damages and must be decided by another court.

33. However, if this court disagrees with this submission, then for the reasons set out below the complainant had not shown that the respondent had acted negligently when doing the work.

34. First, before accepting to do the work, Groenewald researched whether the work could be done and concluded that it could be done.

35. Second, Groenewald's research is in part confirmed by Salie who gave evidence on the fabric's composition, which confirms that the fabric is suitable to be cleaned.

36. Third, Nkhomo's undisputed direct evidence reveals that he conducted a test on one of the lounge suite's cushions to establish colour fastness before doing the work.

37. Fourth, the materials used to do the work had been used by the respondent and Nkhomo for 5 and 8 years respectively. More specifically, the fibre rinse is used to prevent the colour running and to stabilise the condition of the fabric.

38. Fifth, the evidence reveals that the lounge suite's lighter colour was the cause of the complainant's unhappiness. However, some 18 months after the work was done and upon Salie having examined the lounge suite the question of water runs, light patches and water stains were raised for the first time. None of these issues were raised by the complainant in her evidence nor were they put to the respondent in cross examination. This means the court has no knowledge of what happened to the lounge suite in the intervening 18 months.

39. Sixth, Salie testified that the pile runs downwards and that the cleaning machine requires the fabric to be cleaned downwards to avoid clogging up the cleaning machine's pipe. This evidence alone indicates the small likelihood of Nkhomo having cleaned against the pile.

40. Seventh, neither the respondent nor Salie have received any other complaints concerning the cleaning of Kortisaan fabric.

41. Eighth, the complainant requested and the respondent gave to her a quantity of fibre rinse, being a substance which must be diluted with a measure of professional expertise. It is not known what happened to this preparation and Ms Marston felt it would be improper to speculate on what had happened to it.

42. Accordingly, it follows that the respondent took all reasonable precautions before doing the work and therefore did not commit an unfair business practice.

ANALYSIS OF EVIDENCE AND ARGUMENT

43. At the outset of her argument, Ms Marston submitted that the complainant had brought her claim before the improper tribunal and the complainant's claim should be dismissed on this ground alone.

44. The Act states that an "unfair business practice" means—

any business practice which, directly or indirectly, has or is likely to have the effect of unfairly affecting any consumer.

45. We are of the view that the conduct complained of falls within the terms of the definition of an unfair business practice. The definition is an "open-textured" one, which cannot be so narrowly construed to exclude questions of negligence and consequent claims for damages. Were Ms Marston to be correct in her submission, then it is difficult to imagine that consumers will have any hope of relief on any matter before this court. Ms Marston's submission on this ground must therefore fail.

46. The next string to Ms Marston's bow was that the respondent had not acted negligently because it took all reasonable precautions before doing the work. For the reasons set out below, we are not persuaded that the respondent took all the precautions that could reasonably have been expected of it before doing the work.

47. First, the evidence reveals that the lounge suite was damaged by a colour change after work was done by the respondent. The complainant testified that she telephoned Groenewald the day after the work was done. On Groenewald's own version, the complainant telephoned him a few days after the work was done to complain that the couch had gone "lightish". Groenewald then sent Nkhomo back to the complainant's house twice to rinse the couch and brush the pile back.

48. Second, there is no evidence on which we can rely to suggest that someone else caused the damage. In this regard, Groenewald testified that it was possible that the fabric protector could have lightened the fabric but presented no evidence to substantiate this possibility. Moreover, on Groenewald's own version, Mageri denied that the fabric protector could have caused the problem.

49. Third, it was common cause that the complainant and respondent only entered into the contract after the complainant had specifically enquired whether the respondent could do the work satisfactorily and after the respondent had ascertained from Mageri that the work could be done. The complainant's enquiry indicates that the complainant was concerned whether or not the work could be done and she relied on Groenewald's representation that it could be done.

50. Fourth, Groenewald accepted that Nkhomo had more experience than him in this field and he relied on Nkhomo's opinion. Although Nkhomo's experience exceeded Groenewald's, Nkhomo still felt compelled to consult Groenewald because he was unfamiliar with this type of fabric. Despite this telephone call indicating uncertainty with the fabric, Groenewald instructed Nkhomo to continue with the work. In our view, Groenewald was wrong, despite having taken advice from Mageri, to allow Nkhomo to work on an unfamiliar and difficult fabric without at least being present when the work was done to take responsibility.

51. Fifth, Salie, who made a good impression as a witness, pointed out that he was not an expert in fabrics or the cleaning of fabrics. Accordingly, the court has treated his evidence concerning the cleaning of fabrics with caution and in the context of the evidence taken as a whole. Ms Marston accepted that part of Salie's evidence that the fabric could be damaged by cleaning against the pile. She submitted that there was small likelihood that Nkhomo could have cleaned against the pile because this could lead to clogging up the cleaning machine's pipe.

52. Ms Marston's submission is not supported by the evidence. Nkhomo testified that he does not follow the same direction when cleaning and the only thing he noted when he went back to the complainant's house was that the pile was not facing the same direction. Nkhomo also accepted that the pile can show a different colour when combed in a different direction. Groenewald testified similarly. Accordingly, the probabilities indicate that Nkhomo damaged the lounge suite's fabric by the manner in which he cleaned the lounge suite.

53. Sixth, we are not persuaded by Nkhomo's evidence that after doing a colour run test on a cushion he concluded that the colour had not run and the water was just dirty. Since the couch was a colour beige and despite Nkhomo's experience, it would have been difficult to distinguish between the colour beige running into the water and a beige murkiness from the soiling of the water.

54. Seventh, the respondent returned twice to the complainant's house to rinse the lounge suite. This indicates that the respondent acknowledged that there was a problem with the colour of the lounge suite and attempted to rectify the lounge suite's change in colour. The respondent's actions are tantamount to having a second bite at the cherry.

55. Moreover, we believe that the respondent showed less than professional responsibility in giving the complainant a quantity of fibre rinse, which required professional expert handling.

56. It follows that we are of the view that the respondent's conduct has unfairly affected the complainant and constitutes an unfair business practice.

ORDER

57. Accordingly, the court finds that the respondent committed an unfair business practice when scotchguarding and cleaning the complainant's lounge suite.
