(2) If, upon the trial of any person for the crime of rape, the Court is satisfied that the accused is guilty of an offence under sub-section (1) of this section, but is not satisfied that he is guilty of the crime of rape or of an assault with intent to commit rape, it may acquit the accused of rape and find him guilty of an offence under sub-section (1) and thereupon he shall be liable to the punishments in that sub-section provided.

(3) If upon the trial of any person for the crime of rape or assault with intent to commit rape or for an offence under sub-section (1) of this section insufficient evidence is adduced aliunde as to whether or not the complainant is under the age when her consent would be a lawful defence to the act charged against the accused, the Court may decide the question of the complainant's age from her appearance.

Provided that it shall be a sufficient defence to any charge under this section if it shall be made to appear to the Court before whom the charge is brought that the girl at the time of the commission of the offence charged was a prostitute, or that the person so charged was at the said time under the age of sixteen years.

Provided further that nothing in this section shall be deemed to alter or impair the law in regard to the crime of rape upon girls who are of or above the age of twelve years and under the age of sixteen years.
