STANDARDS ACT, 1993
STANDARDS MATTERS

In terms of the Standards Act, 1993 (Act No. 29 of 1993), the Council of the South African Bureau of Standards has acted in regard to standards in the manner set out in the Schedules to this notice.

All South African standards that were previously published by the South African Bureau of Standards with the prefix "SABS" have been redesignated as South African National Standards and are now published by Standards South Africa (a division of SABS) with the prefix "SANS".

A list of all existing South African National standards was published by Government Notice No. 1373 of 8 November 2002.

In the list of SANS standards below, the equivalent SABS numbers, where applicable, are given below the new SANS numbers for the sake of convenience. Standards that were published with the "SABS" prefix are listed as such.

SCHEDULE 1: ISSUE OF NEW STANDARDS

The standards mentioned have been issued in terms of section 16(3) of the Act.

Standard No. and year	Title, scope and purport
SANS 279:2004/ ISO 1518:1992	Paints and varnishes – Scratch test. Specifies a method for determining under defined conditions, the resistance of a single coating or a multi-coat system of paint, varnish or related product to penetration by scratching with a hemispherically tipped needle. Penetration of the needle is to the substrate, except in the case of a multi-coat system, where penetration of the needle may be either to the substrate or to an intermediate coat.
SANS 332:2004/ ETSI TBR 38:1998	Public Switched Telephone Network (PSTN); Attachment requirements for a terminal equipment incorporating an analogue handset function capable of supporting the justified case service when connected to the analogue interface of the PSTN in Europe. Specifies the technical characteristics (electrical and acoustic requirements) to be provided by a single, handset telephony terminal equipment which is intended for pan-European approval; and for connection by 2 wires to an analogue interface of a PSTN. This interface is characterized by a d.c. loop to indicate seizure and clearing, low frequency a.c. ringing signals below the speech passband to indicate an incoming call and the transmission phase having an approximate bandwidth of 3 kHz at the network terminating point; and for supporting the voice telephony justified case service. This standard only applies to terminal equipment supporting handset telephony. It specifies the functions necessary to provide 2-way real-time speech conversation.
SANS 336:2004/ ETSI TBR 21:1998	Terminal equipment (TE); Attachment requirements for pan-European approval for connection to the analogue Public Switched Telephone Networks (PSTNs) of TE (excluding TE supporting the voice telephony service) in which network addressing, if provided, is by means of Dual Tone Multi Frequency (DTMF) signaling. Specifies the technical characteristics (electrical and mechanical interface requirements and access control protocol) to be provided by a single Terminal Equipment (TE) which is intended for pan-European approval; and capable of 2-wire access to an analogue Public Switched Telephone Network (PSTN) line at the Network Termination Point (NTP); but excluding TE which is capable of supporting the voice telephony justified case service. Covers TE which is capable of originating a circuit-switched call using Dual Tone Multi Frequency (DTMF) signalling or receiving an incoming circuit-switched call (or both). The connection arrangements (plug or socket, of the supplier's choice) to be provided by the TE, are also specified.
SANS 6887-2:2004/ ISO 6887-2:2003	Microbiology of food and animal feeding stuffs – Preparation of test samples, initial suspension and decimal dilutions for microbiological examination – Part 2: Specific rules for the preparation of meat and meat products. Defines general rules for the aerobic preparation of the initial suspension and of decimal dilutions for microbiological examinations of meat and meat products intended for human or animal consumption.
SANS 6887-3:2004/ ISO 6887-3:2003	Microbiology of food and animal feeding stuffs – Preparation of test samples, initial suspension and decimal dilutions for microbiological examination – Part 3: Specific rules for the preparation of fish and fishery products. Defines general rules for the aerobic preparation of the initial suspension and of decimal dilutions for microbiological examinations of fish and fishery products intended for human or animal consumption.
SANS 6887-4:2004/ ISO 6887-4:2003	Microbiology of food and animal feeding stuffs – Preparation of test samples, initial suspension and decimal dilutions for microbiological examination – Part 4: Specific rules for the preparation of products other than milk and milk products, meat and meat products, and fish and fishery products. Defines general rules for the aerobic preparation of the initial suspension and of decimal dilutions for microbiological examinations of products intended for human or animal consumption.
SANS 7675:2004/ ISO 7675:2003	Plastics piping systems for soil and waste discharge (low and high temperature) inside buildings – Chlorinated poly(vinyl chloride) (PVC-C). Specifies the requirements for chlorinated poly(vinyl chloride) (PVC-C) pipes and fittings for soil and waste discharge (low and high temperature) inside buildings, as well as the system itself. It does not include buried pipework.
SANS 10391:2004	The welfare of wild animals transported by sea. Specifies requirements to ensure the welfare of wild animals transported by sea.
SANS 11564:2004/ EN 1564:1997	Founding – Austempered ductile cast irons. Defines the grades and corresponding properties of austempered ductile cast irons. Specifies a classification based on mechanical properties measured on machine test pieces.

Standard No. and year	Title, scope and purport
SANS 15000-1:2004	Service management – Part 1: Specification for service management. Defines the requirements for an organization to deliver managed services of an acceptable quality for its customers. It may be used by businesses that are going out to tender for their services; by businesses that require a consistent approach by all service providers in a supply chain; by service providers to benchmark their IT service management; as the basis for an assessment which may lead to a formal certification; by an organization who needs to demonstrate the ability to provide services that meet customer requirements; and by an organization which aims to improve service through the effective application of processes to monitor and improve service quality. It specifies a number of closely related service management processes. The relationships between the processes depend on the application within an organization. The list of objectives and controls contained in this standard are not exhaustive, and an organization may consider that additional objectives and controls are necessary to meet their particular business needs.
SANS 15000-2:2004	IT service management – Part 2: Code of practice for service management. Represents an industry consensus on quality standards for IT service management processes. These processes deliver the best possible service to meet an organization's business needs within agreed resource levels. The variety of terms used for the same process, and between processes and functional groups (and job titles) can make the subject of service management confusing to the new manager. Failure to understand the terminology can be a barrier to establishing effective processes. SANS 15000-2 recommends that service providers should adopt common terminology, and a more consistent approach to service management. It gives a common basis for improvements in services. It also provides a framework for use by suppliers of service management tools. Furthermore, it provides guidance to auditors and offers assistance to organizations planning service improvements, or those preparing to be audited against SANS 15000-1.
