NOTICE 444 OF 2005DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING*EXPLANATORY SUMMARY OF THE PREVENTION OF ILLEGAL EVICTION
FROM AND UNLAWFUL OCCUPATION OF LAND AMENDMENT BILL, 2005

In accordance with Rule 241(1) of the Rules of the National Assembly –

1. The Minister of Housing herewith gives notice of the intention to introduce the Illegal Eviction From and Unlawful Occupation of Land Amendment Bill, 2005 during the first Parliamentary session of 2005.
2. The Bill can be summarised as follows:
 - 2.1 The meaning of the word "land" is extended by amending the definition of "land" to include buildings or structures on land.
 - 2.2 In accordance with a Cabinet decision in this regard, the administration of the Act is transferred to the Minister of Agriculture and Land Affairs by means of an amendment to the definition of "Minister".
 - 2.3 There has been confusion as to whether the Act applies to tenants who hold over after the lease has been terminated and mortgagors who refuse to vacate after the Bank has foreclosed on the mortgage bond. The decision of the Supreme Court of Appeal in the Ndlovu/Bekker case, which was handed down on 30 August 2002, held that these categories of persons do indeed fall under the provisions of the Act. It is submitted that it is not desirable and that it was not the intention that the Act should have jurisdiction over tenants and mortgagors who default in terms of their prior agreements with landlords and banks, respectively. The Act should only cover those persons who unlawfully invade land without the prior consent of the landowner or person in charge of land.

It has accordingly been necessary to amend section 2 of the Act (application section) to state specifically that the Act does not apply to persons who occupied land by consent and continues to occupy once such consent has been withdrawn.

A problem, which can arise as a result of the amendment of section 2, is the situation where an owner or person in charge may try to avoid adherence to the Act by granting consent to occupiers, just to withdraw it shortly thereafter. To address this situation, a new subsection (3) has been inserted.

- 2.4 Whilst the Act currently prohibits the receipt or solicitation of money or other consideration as a fee for arranging for a person to occupy land without the consent of the owner, the act of arranging an unlawful occupation of land is not an offence. Due to the nature and increase in land invasions, often on land, which has already been earmarked for low cost housing development, it is deemed necessary to make it an offence for a person to arrange an unlawful occupation of land. Section 3 of the Bill has been amended accordingly.
- 2.5 In respect of eviction proceedings before a court, sections 4(6), 4(7) and 6(3) of the Act currently draws a distinction between persons occupying for less than 6 months and persons occupying for more than 6 months. In cases of occupation of less than 6 months, the Act prescribes certain criteria which a court may take into account when deciding whether or not to issue an eviction order, whilst the Act prescribes different criteria in cases of occupation in excess of 6 months. This clearly constitutes unequal protection of a person's right not to be evicted, as afforded by section 26(3) of the Constitution, and the proposed amendments to the said sections remove the 6 months distinction and provides for a single set of criteria to be applicable in all cases of unlawful occupation.
- 2.6 Section 4(2) of the Act, as well as section 5(2) of the Act incorrectly provides that "the court must serve/give written and effective notice ...". This is clearly not the function of the court and the sections have been amended accordingly.

deals with the collective application of signs, markings, and signals for specific subject areas such as traffic accommodation at roadworks, tourism signing, public transport signing and signing for the control of heavy vehicles.

provides in depth detail on the selection, installation, operation and control methods for traffic signals.

Volume 4
