PURPOSE AND RATIONALE OF THE QUALIFICATION

Purpose:

The FETC (General) is aimed at learners in grade 12 in schools. These learners leave schooling either for further learning in Higher Education or for employment in the workplace.

The FETC (General) is the qualification, which will be awarded to learners who achieve the exit level learning outcomes stipulated in the National Curriculum Statement Grades 10 - 12 (General).

The FETC (General) has the objectives of:

- > Equipping learners irrespective of their socio-economic background, race, gender, physical ability or intellectual ability with the knowledge skills and values necessary for self-fulfilment and meaningful participation in society as citizens of a free country.
- > Providing access to higher education.
- > Facilitating the transition of learners from education institutions to the workplace.
- > Providing employers with a profile of learner's competencies.

This means that the FETC (General) will:

- > Deepen the foundation laid by General Education and Training.
- > Lay a foundation for specialist learning.
- > Prepare learners for further learning.
- > Prepare learners for employment.
- > Develop citizens with a commitment to democracy.
- > Promote the holistic development of learners.
- > Contribute to economic and social transformation.

Based on their history schools occupy a distinctive place in the minds of parents, young learners and educators. Because of this distinctive nature, schools will continue to offer subjects to learners. In this qualification, a subject is not merely a specific body of academic knowledge, but is rather an integration of theory, knowledge, skills and values, which are captured in learning outcomes. The FETC (General) consists of a combination of compulsory and optional subjects in which the learner has to demonstrate competence.

Learners leaving the formal school environment with an FETC (General) will be equipped with the knowledge, skills, values and attitudes that will enable them to participate meaningfully in society. They will have a basis for continuing learning in Higher Education, for entering a career of their choice and for being productive, responsible citizens.

The qualification complies with the provisions of the National Education Policy Act 1996 (Act 27 of 1996) and the South African Schools Act, 1996 (Act 84 of 1996).

Rationale:

The Further Education and Training Certificate (FETC) (General) gives expression to what South Africans regard as knowledge, skills and values worth learning. It is based on the assumption that knowledge in itself is not neutral, but is underpinned by the collective vision, mission, values and principles of people. In the South African context the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa and the Manifesto on Values, Education and Democracy (2001) stipulate, among other things, the principles of democracy, human rights, social justice, equity, non-racism and Ubuntu. These principles underpin the FETC (General) and its contents. The qualification is designed to remove the negative effects of the previous education system and forms part of the transformation process for education and training in the Further Education and Training band.

As the Further Education and Training band is located between the General Education and Training band and Higher Education, the FETC (General) is designed to allow for progression from General Education and Training and at the same time to provide access to Higher Education. This qualification also aims to equip learners adequately for the social, economic and cultural challenges they face in their daily lives. It also lays a solid foundation for life-long learning and different career paths. It is a qualification that will ensure that learners will acquire and apply knowledge and skills in ways that are meaningful in their own lives. It has the intention of grounding knowledge in local contexts while at the same time being sensitive to global imperatives.

While an FETC can be obtained in a number of learning pathways, each with its own particular focus, the FETC (General) is aimed at providing general formative education organized into subjects. It will be offered mainly in schools.

The FETC (General) is based on the following underpinning principles:

- > Social transformation.
- > Outcomes based education.
- > High knowledge and high skills.
- > Integration and applied competence.
- > Progression.
- > Articulation and portability.
- > Human rights, inclusivity, environmental and social justice.
- > Valuing indigenous knowledge systems.
- > Credibility, quality and efficiency.

In collaboration with the Department of Education, SAQA will ensure that, for each of the Additional Subjects listed in Annexure B, Group B (Refer to Qualification Notes), the Specific Subject Learning Outcomes and Associated Assessment Criteria will be developed in line with the NQF.

Integrated assessment:

Assessment for the awarding of the FETC (General) will be done through both internal and external assessment. Each of the internal and external assessments will be allocated a weighting.

A. Internal Assessment:

Internal Assessment is assessment conducted by the provider, the Outcomes of which count towards the achievement of a qualification. Internal Assessment thus refers to School-Based Assessment or Site-Based Assessment, Continuous Assessment (CASS) and Performance Assessment. Internal Assessment will comprise the following:

1. A portfolio of evidence containing Internal Assessments for all subjects conducted by the teacher in line with the relevant Subject Assessment Guidelines and carried out on a continuous basis. The portfolio of evidence must be based on Internal written and task based assessments.
2. A practical assessment component as prescribed for subjects with a definite practical component conducted by the teacher on a continuous basis in line with the relevant Subject Assessment Guidelines and instructions from the assessment body.

The practical assessment is a direct, systematic observation of actual learner performance in activities that require the demonstration of specific skills. This practical assessment should assess how learners put theory into practice, for example by creating a product. This practical assessment must be subject to external moderation put in place by the assessment body and Umalusi.

B. External Assessment:

External assessment will consist of written assessments and/or practical assessments that are externally set, marked and moderated.

C. The relative weighting of internal and external assessment for the purposes of awarding the FETC (General):

1. The combined internal written and performance site-based assessment as contained in the portfolio of evidence must constitute 25%, and the external assessment 75% of the final assessment.
2. Subjects with a prescribed subject specific practical assessment component may contribute a further 25% over and above the 25% of the folio of evidence assessment to the final assessment. In such cases the external assessment will constitute 50% to the final assessment.
3. In the case of Life Orientation, however, the weighting is different. The Internal Assessment component, which should consist of a combination of assessments, as contained in the portfolio of evidence and the prescribed subject specific practical assessments, must constitute 100% of the final assessment.

INTERNATIONAL COMPARABILITY

The FETC (General) with Matriculation Endorsement is regarded as being comparable to the GCE Advanced Subsidiary AS level/Scottish Higher Standard. The FETC (General) without Matriculation Endorsement is considered comparable to GCSE grades A - C Credit Standard Grade standard, which does not grant admission to Higher Education in the United Kingdom.

The FETC (General) is regarded as being equivalent in broad terms regarding learning content and outcomes to an Australian Senior Certificate of Education as awarded by one of the Australian States or Territories on completion of year 12 of formal schooling. In Australia a Senior Certificate with Matriculation Endorsement would be required for admission to Higher Education as is the case with this qualification.

ARTICULATION OPTIONS

This Qualification offers the learner access to learning in the Higher Education band, provided the learner meets the requirements for Higher Education study in terms of subject combinations and level of achievement as laid down by the body issuing such requirements. Such access is, however, subject to the specific admission requirements of the individual institutions offering learning programmes in Higher Education.

Articulation is also possible with workplace and vocational education qualifications at NQF level 5, which are aligned with the subjects taken by the learner.

Learners can also access other FETC qualifications offered by providers such as FET Colleges and workplace providers.

MODERATION OPTIONS

Moderation options and criteria for the registration of assessors:

- > Internal Assessment of learners by teachers in schools is subject to external moderation by the Department of Education in accordance with the regulations, policies and procedures as laid down from time-to-time.
- > External Assessments will be conducted by assessment bodies, which may be a department of education or any other body registered with Umalusi, as a body responsible for conducting external assessment.

- > External Assessment will be moderated by Umalusi according to its laid down policy and procedures.
- > Final assessments including internal and external assessments will be subject to moderation by Umalusi according to its laid down policy and procedures.
- > To be appointed as an examiner, assessor or moderator the person should be in possession of an NQF qualification at least at level 6 with the subject in question at level 6 and should have taught the subject at grade 12 level.
