INTEGRATED COASTAL MANAGEMENT AMENDMENT BILL, 2013

The Minister of Water and Environmental Affairs intends introducing the National Environmental Management: Integrated Coastal Management Bill, 2013 in Parliament in 2013. An explanatory summary of the Bill is hereby published in accordance with Rule 241 (1) (c) of the Rules of the National Assembly.

Copies of the draft Bill can be obtained from Mr. Heinrich Muller, Department of Environmental Affairs, East Pier Building 1, East Pier Road, V&A Waterfront, Cape Town, hmuller@environment.gov.za. The draft Bill is also available on the Department of Environmental Affairs' website, www.environment.gov.za.

BOMO EDITH EDNA MOLEWAMINISTER OF WATER AND ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT: INTEGRATED COASTAL MANAGEMENT AMENDMENT BILL, 2013

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1. The National Environmental Management: Integrated Coastal Management Amendment Bill, 2012 (“the Amendment Bill”), seeks to amend the National Environmental: Integrated Coastal Management Act, 2008 (Act No. 24 of 2008), (“the Act”). The Act is a specific environmental management Act within the framework of the National Environmental Management Act, 1998 (Act No. 107 of 1998) (NEMA). The Act was promulgated in 2008 and came into operation on 1 December 2009. Most of the amendments were identified through implementation of the Act and some originated through consultations with Organs of State such as Transnet on the impact of the Act on their operations as discussed below.

The Act created the notion of ‘coastal public property’, which gives special status to South Africa’s territorial waters up to the high-water mark (beaches, the sea and the sea-bed) including admiralty reserves. In other words, everything that occurs below (seaward of) the high-water mark is part of coastal public property. Ownership of these natural assets is vested in the citizens and held in trust by the State. Due to its dynamic nature, it is critical to manage coastal public property to ensure long-term sustainability and the protection of people and their properties against the natural elements. As part of the management regime, coastal public property cannot be sold or leased for longer than 20 years and all leases must be concluded with the Minister of Environmental Affairs. It is essential to prohibit sale of these natural assets. However, the current lease provisions are very restrictive and prohibit any activity on coastal public property without a lease from the Minister. The section dealing with leases and ownership of coastal public property have not been put into effect because the Act did not clearly deal with the impact of coastal public property on other Organs of State that own assets and operate in that space. The Amendment Bill seeks to correct this.

- 1.2. Definitions and terminology needed to be revised and clarified. In addition, several gaps and textual errors presented themselves during the implementation of the Act. During the printing process, several textual errors occurred in the Act.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

2.1. The purpose of the Bill is to-:

- ensure that coastal public property does not impact on the ownership of assets and operations of other Organs of State;
- expand the provisions on reclamation;
- simplify the administration of coastal access fee approvals;
- extend the powers of MECs to issue coastal protection notices and coastal access notices;
- simplify and amend powers relating to coastal leases;
- abolish the National Coastal Committee;
- expand the powers of delegation by MEC's;
- expand categories of activities requiring dumping permits;
- provide for exemptions;
- revise offences and increase penalties; and
- make corrections.

2.2. CLAUSE BY CLAUSE EXPLANATION

2.2.1. Ad clause 1 (Amendment of definitions)

Certain definitions are amended to clarify their meanings and usage. These include technical improvements to definitions such as “estuary”, “high water-mark”, and “land unit”. It is proposed that the scope of “coastal waters” be expanded by including the Exclusive Economic Zone and the continental shelf. New definitions are proposed for insertion as a consequence of proposed amendments to the Act, e.g. the definitions for “reclamation” and “harbour”.

2.2.2. Ad clause 2 (Insertion of coastal protection zone in the objects clause)

It emerged from the public comments that the coastal protection zone was erroneously omitted from the objects of the Bill.

2.2.3. Ad clause 3 (Insertion of the purpose of the coastal public property)

Public comments revealed that whilst the purpose of the coastal protection zone is fully covered in section 17, there is no similar clause in respect of coastal public property. A new section is therefore proposed.

2.2.4. Ad clause 4 (Amendment of section 7 - coastal public property)

- (a) The Act created the notion of 'coastal public property' (CPP), which comprises the territorial waters of South Africa up to the high-water mark and includes admiralty reserves. In other words, the beaches, sea and sea-bed which occur below the high-water mark form part of coastal public property. Section 11 of the Act (which is not yet in operation) vests ownership of these natural assets in the citizens to be held in trust by the State. Section 65 (also not yet in operation) prohibits occupation of CPP without a lease from the DEA Minister. Coastal Public Property cannot be sold or leased for longer than 20 years. The Act did not clearly specify whether the infrastructure below the high water-mark also formed part of coastal public property and as a result, Organs of State such as Transnet felt uncertain about the status of their assets within ports. Transnet, for example, leases out spaces on jetties which extend into the sea in order to fund port operations. Their leases are often longer than 20 years in order to secure funding. They are concerned that the Act may be interpreted as divesting Transnet of its ownership and right to lease these jetties. In addition, they are concerned that the 20-year limitation on leases in section 65 limits their ability to secure finances through long-term leases. Clause 4 seeks to clarify that coastal public property does not include assets or infrastructure above or below the high water-mark. Hence the Act would not negatively impact on their leases as they would not be subject to the ownership and lease restrictions in sections 11 and 65.

- (b) The section has also been re-arranged so that it clearly states what does and does not form part of coastal public property.

2.2.5. Ad clause 5 (Insertion of new clause – reclamation)

Section 27(6) of the Act briefly addresses reclamation. The section was inserted late during the parliamentary process to address ad hoc concerns that arose when the Act was being considered by the Portfolio Committee. It was inappropriately placed and the current provision in section 27(6) is inadequate. The Bill proposes an insertion of a new comprehensive clause in a more appropriate place in the Act. In addition, a definition for 'reclamation' was inserted under clause 1.

2.2.6. Ad clause 6 (Amendment to clause 8 Consequential amendment)

This proposed amendment is a consequential amendment to the insertion of section 6A – purpose of coastal public property.

2.2.7. Ad clause 7 (Amendment of section 11 – ownership of coastal public property)

Section 65(2) (coastal leases and concessions) currently provides that a right to exploit a natural resource from coastal public property may only be exercised in terms of national legislation. The section is more appropriately placed under the section dealing with ownership of coastal public property (section 11), as it qualifies/limits such ownership. In addition, during the public comment phase it became evident that there is some confusion about the status of rights to use and exploit natural resources that occur on or in coastal public property. This amendment seeks to clarify the legal position.

2.2.8. Ad clause 8 (Amendment of section 13 – Access fees to coastal public property)

Section 13 of the Act currently obliges a person to obtain the approval of the Minister before charging access fees to coastal public property. The current provisions result in multiple individual applications being made to the Minister for permission to charge any access fees to coastal public property. Fee payers would include municipalities, boat-clubs, events organisers, etc. This would result in hundreds of applications which need to be responded to and delays in processing such applications may negatively impact on municipal revenue. To streamline the process and standardise access fees, it is proposed that the Minister publish a maximum fee and anyone who wishes to charge a higher fee would only then have to apply to the Minister, justifying the need. In addition, it is made clear that access fees are not to be confused with the costs of tickets for commercial activities that take place on or in coastal public property, e.g. a trip to seal island or a beach volley ball event.

2.2.9. Ad clause 9 (Amendment of section 14 – high-water mark)

After the stakeholder engagement on the high water mark, it became apparent, particularly from the Surveyor-General that the substitution of the high water-mark for a straight line boundary was no longer necessary as those properties that were bounded by the high-water mark would gain or lose land depending on the natural movement of the high-water mark. Allowing a property owner to determine a fixed line could potentially create unfair land grabs of coastal public property which would impact on the public's access to the beach. The relevant sections have therefore been deleted and the remaining sections clarify the consequences of the high-water mark moving inland or seaward.

2.2.10. Ad clause 10 (Amendment of section 15 – erosion and accretion)

This proposed amendment to section 15 of the Act is intended to align it with National Environmental Management Act (NEMA).

2.2.11. Ad clause 11 (Amendment of section 16 – composition of the coastal protection zone)

The proposed amendments to section 16 of the Act address textual corrections and a technical change to increase the surface area of flood prone areas as a consequence of climate change. Public comments pointed out that relevant parts of rivers were not part of the coastal protection zone and this is corrected through the proposed amendment to 16(1)(f). The proposed amendment to s16(1)(i) is intended to refer to flooding only from the sea and not from storms upstream from rivers. It is therefore limited to areas adjacent to the other categories of the coastal protection zone. If not, it could potentially cover areas of land that are nowhere near the sea. In addition, the 1:100 year flood line is more appropriate in light of climate change.

2.2.12. Ad clause 13 (Amendment of section 17 - terminology)

The proposed amendment seeks to clarify terminology. The term “coastal waters” is more accurate in the context.

2.2.13. Ad clauses 14 and 15 (Amendment of sections 18 and 19 – designation of coastal access strips)

Currently, there is no power to intervene if a municipality fails to designate coastal access land which is an essential function in complying with the objectives of the Act. Given our strategic focus on access, it is important to empower the MEC and failing the MEC, the Minister to act if a municipality fails to.

2.2.14. Ad clause 15 – 17 (Amendment of section 25 – Coastal set-back lines)

There was confusion between EIA development set-back lines (in terms of the NEMA Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) regulations) and coastal setback lines under this Act. It is therefore proposed that 'coastal setback-lines' be changed to 'coastal management lines'. The proposed amendments to these sections are consequential to that change. In addition, a few problems were raised during the public consultations. The Act, in section 26, provides that coastal boundaries may be determined or adjusted by notice in the Gazette. However, section 25 of the Act provides that the MEC must in regulations establish or change coastal (set-back) management lines. Provinces point out that they are currently experiencing difficulties and have to amend some of their set-back lines. It is in fact easier to withdraw or amend notices as opposed to amending regulations, it is therefore proposed that the MEC be given the power to publish a notice in the Gazette to establish or change coastal set – back lines, similar to the powers in section 26 (adjustment of boundaries). The MEC may then still by way of regulations prohibit or restrict the building of structures seaward of that coastal set-back line.

2.2.15. Ad clause 18 (Amendment of section 27 – determining and adjusting the boundary of coastal public property)

During the Parliamentary process when enacting the Act, an attempt was made to address the issue of Transnet with coastal public property (see par. 2.2.4 above) by inserting a power to exclude areas from Coastal Public Property with the ratification of Parliament. Such an 'exclusion' was effected prior to the commencement of the Act, whereby portions of ports under the control of Transnet were excluded from coastal public property, which resulted in unintended and undesirable consequences for both Transnet and DEA. Transnet found itself in a worse position after the exclusion, as the ports which were previously coastal public property now became State owned land, placing them in an equally precarious situation regarding their ownership status. From the environmental perspective, an unintended consequence of exclusion of an area of sea and sea-bed from CPP meant that the excluded portion of the sea and sea-bed could be privately owned, thereby subverting the principle established in the ICM Act – that the sea and sea-bed cannot be privately owned. It is therefore necessary to delete the provision empowering the Minister to exclude CPP.

Reclamation – The reclamation provision in section 27 was inserted late during the parliamentary process to address ad hoc concerns that arose when the Act was being considered by the Portfolio Committee. It was inappropriately placed and the current provision in section 27(6) is inadequate. A new clause has been drafted and more appropriate placed through an insertion of section 7A.

2.2.16. Ad clauses 19 and 42 (Amendment of sections 31 and 42)

The proposed amendments are consequential to the amendment to the definition of local municipality.

2.2.17. Ad clauses 20 , 21, 22 and 39 (Amendment of sections 35 – 37 and section 39 – National Coastal Committee)

Section 35 of the Act provides for the establishment of a national intergovernmental body to give strategic direction on implementation of coastal management issues under the Act. To avoid duplication and streamline government processes, the Bill proposes that the existing intergovernmental forums in terms of the Intergovernmental Framework Relations Act, 2005 (Act No. 13 of 2005), (MINMEC and MINTECH), assume the role of the National Coastal Committee. This proposal is also in line with the Intergovernmental Framework Relations Act.

2.2.18. Ad clauses 23, 26 and 27 (Amendment of sections 38, 51 and 56 – corrections and improvements to text)

The Bill proposes to correct a cross-reference in section 38 of the Act, align the wording of section 51 with NEMA, and make a textual improvement to section 56 of the Act.

2.2.19. Ad clause 28 (Amendment of section 59 – extending powers of MECs)

The Act erroneously failed to give an MEC the power to issue coastal protection notices and coastal access notices. Clause 18 of the Bill proposes to correct that omission and to cover a loophole in the criteria for issuing such notices. In addition, the wording in section 59(3) appears to be in conflict with the powers of the MEC as it relates to delegations in terms of s91. It is therefore proposed that section 59(3) be deleted.

2.2.20. Ad clause 29 (Amendment of section 60 – correction)

Section 60(3) of the Act erroneously gives the Minister the power to delegate a power to the MEC, while subsection (1) already assigns the original power to the MEC. The Amendment proposes to correct this. There is also a significant typographical error which will simultaneously be addressed.

2.2.21. Ad clause 30 (Amendment of section 62 – EIA report)

Section 62(2) of the Act requires an Organ of State to first consider an environmental impact assessment report before authorising land to be used for activities within the coastal protection zone which may have an adverse effect on the coastal environment. Since the NEMA Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) Regulations already cover activities which may have an adverse effect on the coastal environment, this section is unnecessary. In addition, it is unclear what is meant by an “environmental impact assessment report” and it is assumed to be a reference to the report under the EIA Regulations, although it is not clearly stated so. An EIA report is only one component of an environmental impact assessment process so this terminology is inaccurate. It is therefore proposed to delete subsection (2).

2.2.22. Ad clause 31 (Amendment of section 63 – criteria for considering EIAs for coastal activities)

The criteria in section 63 of the Act have given rise to interpretational difficulties for competent authorities. The factors listed for which authorisation must be refused are so broad, that it could potentially prevent competent authorities from granting authorisations. The amendment proposes to address this problem by incorporating the exclusionary criteria as part of the general criteria to be taken into account by competent authorities when considering EIA applications.

2.2.23. Ad clause 32 (Amendment of section 64 – Minister's override)

The Bill proposes the deletion of section 64 of the Act. This section currently gives the Minister an override power over a competent authority to issue an environmental authorisation in certain circumstances, which creates a parallel process to the appeal process in NEMA and causes confusion.

2.2.24. Ad clauses 33 - 37 (Amendment of sections 65 and 66 – coastal leases and concessions)

The original need for coastal leases was to generate funds and to control activities within coastal public property. Section 66 of the Act, which provides for leases of coastal public property is administratively cumbersome, over-regulatory and has a potential unintended impact on other Organs of State that operate within coastal public property. In addition, it is not practical to subject every activity on coastal public property to a lease as it not all activities have impact and it would therefore serve no real environmental value. As a result, it was not put into operation. The Bill is proposing to replace the leases with coastal use permits whereby the Minister is authorised to list activities which require authorisations, thereby removing the blanket restriction on activities that do not require regulation. It is intended to create a mechanism to only regulate certain activities which impact on coastal public property but which are not appropriately dealt with under other environmental legislation such as the NEMA Environmental Impact Assessment Regulations. In addition, the time limitation of 20 years has caused concern among industries that require security of tenure for financial investments – e.g. aquaculture/ sea-ranching within coastal public property. It therefore proposed that the time period be removed and made discretionary, to allow for different scenarios.

2.2.25. Ad clauses 38, 42 and 46 (Amendment of sections 68, 74, and 83)

These proposed amendments are consequential to the change in terminology from 'authorisation' to 'coastal authorisation' – see definitions. The term authorisation was causing confusion with EIA authorisations and was therefore proposed for amendment.

2.2.26. Ad clauses 39 (Amendment of section 69 – consequential amendment)

The proposed amendment is a consequential amendment to the amendment to the definition of authorisation and the repeal of the National Coastal Committee (sections 35-37).

2.2.27. Ad clause 40 (Amendment to section 70)

The proposed amendment is a consequential to the amendment of the definition of 'coastal waters'. 'Coastal waters' currently covers the Republic's territorial waters (12nm) but excludes the exclusive economic zone – 200 nm (EEZ). It would mean therefore that cabling and pipelines etc. that require coastal authorisations would require no authorisation if they extend beyond the 12 nm. It was therefore considered necessary to extend it to the EEZ as well.

2.2.28. Ad clause 41 (Amendment of section 71 – dumping permits)

There are a limited number of activities for which the Minister may issue dumping permits under section 71. There may be circumstances where additional categories are required as changes occur in the international regime which governs dumping, namely the London Dumping Protocol 1996, to which South Africa is a signatory. The amendment proposes to give the Minister the power to prescribe in regulations, additional waste and other material that may be permitted without the need to continuously amend the Act as and when new categories occur. The amendment also proposed to clarify the time period for validity of permit which is ambiguous.

2.2.29. Ad clauses 42- 45 (Amendment of section 79 – 81 offences and penalties)

There have been complaints that the sentencing is inadequate and that there are gaps in the sentencing provisions. Section 79 – 81 Offences and Penalties have been tightened up. There are now only two categories of offences instead of 3 and the sentences for category two offences have been increased. In addition, the proposed amendment to section 81 deals with extra-territorial jurisdiction of South African citizens and improves the text regarding the jurisdiction of courts in respect of offences in terms of the Act.

2.2.30. Ad clause 47 (Amendment of section 84 – terminology)

The proposed amendment is consequential to the amendment of the definition of “coastal set-back lines”.

2.2.31. Ad clause 48 (Amendment to section 85 – penalties for regulations)

There was initially no maximum limit set for offences in regulations this has now been inserted to provide certainty as to the upper limit of the Minister’s powers.

2.2.32. Ad clause 49 (Amendment of section 89 – delegations by the Minister)

Currently, the Minister is required to publish in the Gazette any delegation of power to a functionary outside the Department. This is an administrative procedure which is not strictly necessary and may hinder efficient service delivery. It is recommended for deletion.

2.2.33. Ad clauses 50 (Amendment of section 90 – correction)

The proposed amendment is consequential to the amendment the definition of 'coastal set-back lines'. It also proposes a correction to subsection (1)(d) of the section which does not make sense.

2.2.34. Ad clauses 51 (Amendment of section 91 – delegations by MECs)

The Act erroneously does not allow an MEC to delegate to an official within his/her department. This amendment proposes to correct this.

2.2.35. Ad clauses 36 (Amendment of section 92 – urgent action by Minister)

Following requests during the public comment period, it was considered appropriate to give this power to the MEC to allow for improved efficiency in urgent situations, hence the proposed amendment to subsection (1).

This proposed amendment to subsection (3) is consequential to the proposed amendment to section 59.

2.2.36. Ad clause 54 (Amendment to section 93 – reporting)

With the proposed repeal of the National Coastal Committee, there is no requirement to report to the National Coastal Committee on the status of pipelines. It is recommended that the reporting requirement in section 69(11) be inserted in this section as part of the state of the coast report.

2.2.37. Ad clauses 55 (Proposed insertion of new clause)

There is a probability that many Organs of State may require exemptions from certain provisions. Unforeseen situations need to be accommodated without the need for an unnecessary statutory amendment. It is therefore proposed that an exemption provision be inserted so as not to hinder service delivery. The provision is similar to that it in the Marine Living Resources Act, 1998 (Act No. 18 of 1998), which has been approved by the courts.

2.2.38. Ad clause 56 (Amendment to section 95 - transitional provisions relating to leases)

Since it is proposed that the concept of leasing in section 65 be replaced with coastal use permits for activities which are yet to be listed, there is no need to keep existing leases alive. The reason being that some activities which are currently governed by leases may not require a permit. An example of this is the use of slipways, for which there is no real need for a permit as they would already have undergone environmental scrutiny through the Environmental Impact Assessment process. The only value therefore in asking for ALL existing leases, would be to assist the Department in determining which activities currently under lease (in terms of the Sea Shore Act), would need to be listed as requiring a coastal use permit under the new section 65. It is therefore proposed that copies of all existing leases be submitted to the Minister within 24 months.

2.2.39. Ad clause 57 (Amendment to section 96 - transitional provisions)

The proposed amendments are consequential to the amendment to section 65 – i.e. the new regime of coastal use permits which replace leases.

2.2.40. Ad clauses 58 (correction by deleting section 97)

A transitional provision based on earlier versions of the Act, which were subsequently changed, was erroneously retained and is creating confusion.

Section 97 currently saves activities which were previously listed in a schedule. It was subsequently decided to integrate these activities with the NEMA EIA provisions and this section no longer serves a purpose.

2.2.41. Ad clauses 59 (Proposed insertion of new clause)

Parliament excluded certain portions of the Transnet ports from coastal public property prior to the Act commencing. The exclusion had unintended and undesirable consequences for both Transnet and DEA. Transnet found itself in a worse position after the exclusion, as the ports which were previously coastal public property now became State owned land, placing them in an equally precarious situation regarding their ownership status. From the environmental perspective, an unintended consequence of exclusion of an area of sea and sea-bed from CPP meant that the excluded portion of the sea and sea-bed could be privately owned, thereby subverting the principle established in the ICM Act – that the sea and sea-bed cannot be privately owned and is held in trust by the State. It is necessary to nullify that exclusion in the legislation, as section 7 dealing with coastal public property, now clearly excludes port structures/assets and there is no longer a need for exclusions from coastal public property. It is important to retain the principle that the sea and sea-bed is not capable of private ownership and is held in trust by the State. Allowing for exclusion subverts this principle.

2.2.42. Ad clause 60 (Amendment of section 101 – long title and commencement)

This clause proposes a typographical amendment to the long title of the Act.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

6.1 The State Law Advisers and the Department of Environmental Affairs are of the opinion that the proposed Bill falls within the ambit of section 76(3) of the Constitution as it deals with a functional area listed in Schedule 4. As such, the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established in terms of section 76(1) or (2) of the Constitution.

6.2 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.

DATE:7 DECEMBER 2012.....

NOTICE 1049 OF 2012INTERNATIONAL TRADE ADMINISTRATION COMMISSION*CUSTOMS TARIFF APPLICATION*LIST 12/2012

The International Trade Administration Commission (herein after referred to as ITAC or the Commission) has received the following application concerning the Customs Tariff. Any objection to or comments on this representation should be submitted to the Chief Commissioner, ITAC, Private Bag X753, Pretoria, 0001. Attention is drawn to the fact that the rate of duty mentioned in this application is that requested by the applicant and that the Commission may, depending on its findings, recommend a lower or higher rate of duty.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

The submission of confidential information to the Commission in connection with customs tariff applications is governed by section 3 of the Tariff Investigations Regulations, which regulations can be found on ITAC's website at <http://www.itac.org.za/documents/R.397.pdf>.

These regulations require that if any information is considered to be confidential, then a non-confidential version of the information must be submitted, simultaneously with the confidential version. In submitting a non-confidential version the regulations are strictly applicable and require parties to indicate:

- ❑ Each instance where confidential information has been omitted and the reasons for confidentiality;*
- ❑ A summary of the confidential information which permits other interested parties a reasonable understanding of the substance of the confidential information; and*
- ❑ In exceptional cases, where information is not susceptible to summary, reasons must be submitted to this effect.*

This rule applies to all parties and to all correspondence with and submissions to the Commission, which unless clearly indicated to be confidential, will be made available to other interested parties.

The Commission will disregard any information indicated to be confidential that is not accompanied by a proper non-confidential summary or the aforementioned reasons. If a party considers that any document of another party, on which that party is submitting representations, does not comply with the above rules and that such deficiency affects that party's ability to make meaningful representations, the details of the deficiency and the reasons why that party's rights are so affected must be submitted to the commission in writing forthwith (and at the latest 14 days prior to the date on which that party's submission is due).

Failure to do so timeously will seriously hamper the proper administration of the investigation, and such party will not be able to subsequently claim an inability to make meaningful representations on the basis of the failure of such other party to meet the requirements.

REASONS FOR THE APPLICATION:

- RIC Manufacturing is the only manufacturer of the PTFE tape in the SACU region. It is a small company yet it employs a significant number of people.
- The government has prioritized entrepreneurship and the advancement of small, medium and micro-sized (SMMEs) as a catalyst to achieving economic growth and development in South Africa.
- RIC Manufacturing needs to increase its selling prices to recover production costs. Although its products are of a high quality most clients are purely price driven; and
- The WTO bound rate of 20% ad valorem is required to curb the flood of cheap imports into the SACU market, to ensure that the SACU retains this industry and to afford the relevant industry a chance to grow.

NOTICE 1051 OF 2012DEPARTMENT WATER AFFAIRS*INVITATION TO SUBMIT WRITTEN COMMENTS IN TERMS OF SECTION 110 OF THE NATIONAL WATER ACT 1998 (ACT 36 OF 1998) ON THE PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION OF THE GROOT LETABA RIVER DEVELOPMENT PROJECT (GLeWaP) AND THE ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESMENT RELATING THERETO

The Minister of Water and Environmental Affairs intend constructing the government water works as contained in Part A of the Schedule hereto.

In terms of section 110(1)(b)(iii) interested parties are invited to submit written comments on the proposed water works (Part A of Schedule) and the environmental impact assessment (Part B of Schedule), by 8 March 2013. Comments must be submitted to the Director-General, Department of Water Affairs, Private Bag X313, Pretoria; Fax 012 336 6863 and marked for attention of Mr. OJS van den Berg, Chief Engineer Options Analysis (North).

SCHEDULE TO THE PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION OF THE GROOT LETABA RIVER DEVELOPMENT PROJECT (GLeWaP) (GOVERNMENT WATER WORKS) AND A SUMMARY OF THE ENVIROMENTAL IMPACT ASSESMENTA. PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION OF THE SCHEME

The Groot Letaba River Water Development Project (GLeWaP) will augment the water supplies of the Groot Letaba River that supplies water to domestic users, commercial irrigation, commercial afforestation and tourism in the Mopani District Municipality (DM). This DM serves a total urban and rural population of about 1,2 million people, with 425 000 people from the directly affected Greater Tzaneen Municipality.

Locality maps of the proposed scheme are attached.

The project comprises of construction of a dam situated just below the confluence of the Groot Letaba and the Nwanedzi Rivers on a site known as Nwamitwa, the raising of the Tzaneen Dam and water treatment works, pipelines and reservoirs for the regional bulk distribution of water for domestic use.

The purpose of the development proposals are:

- To meet the projected growing primary water requirements to a planning horizon of 2030 at an acceptable assurance of supply. The envisaged beneficiaries are in the Mopani District Municipality, and specifically the Greater Tzaneen and Greater Letaba Municipalities.
- To prevent further degradation of the riverine ecosystem by implementing the recently signed-off preliminary Reserve determined in compliance with the National Water Act No 36 of 1998. At present the EWR of 82 million m³/a downstream of the Nwamitwa site is only partially met by judicious management of the available supplies in co-operation with the Water User Association. Construction of a new dam at Nwamitwa will, inter alia, make it possible to manage the Reserve flow downstream so as to improve the flow regime in the Kruger National Park while respecting international obligations to Mozambique specifically as downstream neighbour, but also to Botswana and Zimbabwe that also shares the Limpopo River basin.

- To minimize further lowering of the assurance of availability of water supplies to the irrigation sector for the existing development. This sector is the major contributor to the economy of the region and worsening shortages will have serious negative socio-economic consequences through job losses and increased poverty. The avoidance of insidious worsening of poverty in the region is essential for economic transformation.
- To improve water availability for the establishment of resource-poor farmers (about 2000 ha of which 658 ha is available for beneficiaries), who require dedicated support to become commercially successful and gain a share of the existing market for their products. The process of identifying candidate farmers and settling them has not commenced. For this to be possible they must again receive reliable water allocations from the increasingly stressed water resource system. In this way a positive contribution can be made to agrarian reform as well as to the economic transformation of rural communities.

The overall yield of schemes in the Groot Letaba Catchment is 126 million m³/a, and the total allocation for domestic, industrial and irrigation usage from these schemes is 177 million m³/a.

Besides potable bulk water distribution infrastructure, the GLeWaP will consist of:

1. NWAMITWA DAM

The Nwamitwa Dam will be situated on the Groot Letaba River, downstream of the confluence of the Nwanedzi River, on the farm Janetsi Farm No 463LT (Coordinates S23° 45' 21.4" E30° 29' 23.9") and about 1 km south of the Nkambako village. A name for the dam has not yet been decided upon, although it is sometimes referred to as Nwamitwa Dam. It is planned to construct a dam with a height of 36 m above the river bed level and a gross storage capacity of approximately 190 million m³. The proposed dam will increase the firm yield from the river system for domestic use by 14 million m³ per annum.

This supply will be available after ensuring sufficient flow in the river to meet the Ecological Water Requirements (EWR) as defined in the approved Preliminary Reserve, allowing for improvement in assurance of supply to existing irrigators and enabling resource poor farmers to access water for irrigation on land previously irrigated. The obligations of SA towards Mozambique as a co-basin state will be respected.

The dam will be of composite construction with a concrete spillway discharging onto a concrete apron and stilling basin in the river section and with earthfill embankments on both flanks. A multilevel, screened intake tower will be incorporated into the concrete spillway section. The centreline of the dam will be confirmed by detailed geological investigations. Technical details of the proposed dam is summarised in the table below:

Description	Detail	Unit
Dam type	Embankment	-
Gross full supply capacity	190	million m ³
Dam's contribution to system yield	14	million m ³ /a

* The above detail is based on the preliminary design of Nwamitwa Dam and is subjected to final design which may result in changes to the FSL and the overall length of the dam wall.

2. RAISING OF THE TZANEEN DAM

The Tzaneen Dam, on the Groot Letaba River, will be raised by 3 m with a Labyrinth spillway (a fuse gate option is also being considered) to a Full Supply Level (FSL) of 726.9 m.a.m.s.l. This will increase the storage capacity from 157 million m³ to 200 million m³ and increase the firm yield from the system by 4 million m³/a.

The intention is to use the increased storage capacity for growth in Tzaneen's urban requirements and to mitigate future restrictions on water use for irrigation. Water allocations for irrigation will not be increased.

B. SUMMARY OF THE ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT (EIA)

The Department of Environmental Affairs has granted Environmental Authorisation in terms of the National Environmental Management Act, 1998 (Act No. 107 of 1998), for the works outlined in Part A. The key findings and recommendations of the Environmental Impact Assessment are summarised below.

(For more information please see full EIA on the website

<http://www.dwa.gov.za/Projects/GrootLetaba/>)

- Multiple level outlets

Stratification is predicted to occur in the proposed new dam, and the release of cold, anoxic bottom water will have a detrimental effect on the aquatic life up to a distance of about 15 km below the dam wall. To overcome this effect it is recommended that a multiple level outlet structure, with outlets between 4 - 5 meter intervals from 6 meters below the fully supply level (FSL), be installed.

- Dam Basin Clearing

Orchards and trees/bushveld in the dam basin should be cleared prior to first filling.

- Pipelines

Pipeline routes through untransformed vegetation should be regarded as least favourable options and routes should whenever possible traverse transformed habitats in order to minimise impacts on terrestrial ecology and heritage resources.

- Booster Pump-stations

Pump-stations should be located at least 250 m from residences, school or public facilities in order to maintain acceptable noise levels.

- Road re-alignment

The construction of the proposed new dam will inundate sections of Road R529, Road D1292 (R81) and Road P43/3 that will require re-alignment. The new road will deviate northwards from the R529 approximately 8.5 km north of the intersection with Route 71; it will cross over the D1292 (R81) until it links with the existing R529 1km south of Ka-Malubane.

- Sedimentation

The coffer dams should be designed not to cause river bank erosion or local scour at the dam site. The sediment concentrations 300 m downstream of the dam site should be monitored during construction to ensure present (90 percentile) high sediment concentrations are not exceeded.

The post-dam river will become narrower as a result of flood attenuation. The river bed between the dam and the Klein Letaba River tributary will become coarser due to sediment trapping at the dam and local bed degradation over a limited area near the dam of at least 2 m is expected.

- Cultural Sites and Graves

26 sites of cultural significance, which includes five Stone Age sites, nine Iron Age sites, four sites dating to historic times, and eight sites containing graves, were identified in the EIA.

Confirmation and detailed investigations of archaeological sites must be completed and the required excavation and documentation must be undertaken prior to the impact on the affected sections on the project. A grave relocation programme must be implemented in accordance with applicable legislation.

- Compensation and development plan

The landowners who have land in the proposed dam basin are all commercial fruit farmers. A few also grow vegetables on a commercial basis. Some also farm with cattle. 12 farmhouses and two packing facilities and approximately 26 small irrigation dams will be affected by the proposed new dam (at 1.5 MAR capacity). No re-location of rural village homesteads or facilities will be required.

A compensation and development plan that includes the prioritisation of the land acquisition process in accordance with the established legal procedures to minimise impacts on citrus farmers that require a lead time to re-establish their landuse, and the procedures to deal with the loss of rights of access to water must be compiled and implemented. Continued liaison with directly affected landowners and occupiers in the preconstruction and construction phases is required.

- General communication strategy

A general communication strategy should be implemented for the implementation phase of the project.

- Labour procurement

The project is expected to create 250 direct jobs. Negative social impacts can be mitigated by using local labour for construction. Labour procurement for construction must be undertaken through a Labour Desk in accordance with the Departments procedures and policies and gender and race targets to be set and measured as stated in the EMP.

- Water distribution

The project will result in an increase in the water availability and associated health and economic sustainability and stimulation in the operation phase. This is dependent on the implementation of distribution infrastructure.

Continued liaison with authorities responsible for the implementation of water distribution is therefore required.

- Fauna and flora

The project area covers two different vegetation types, Granite Lowveld and Tsende Mopaneveld with a wide range in ecosystem status. The main factors of disturbance in the project area are human settlements, agriculture and forestry. Nearly 60% of the project area is transformed or degraded by such developments.

Loss of fauna and flora in the areas to be disturbed and inundated should be mitigated by plant and animal rescue programmes, and establishing a holding nursery where plants can be kept for rehabilitation purposes.

- Aquatic ecology

Negative impacts on aquatic habitats and biota downstream of the construction activities are predicted if no mitigation is implemented. Mitigation includes limiting the disturbance on the local construction site, stabilising the downstream river bed and banks if necessary, and ensuring that connectivity between upstream and downstream riverine habitats is maintained at critical fish life-cycle periods during the construction phase.

Fish communities and populations upstream of the dam and within the dam will be impacted permanently upon in terms of abundances, but it is expected that the majority of species will manage to adapt and find adequate habitats for spawning and life-cycle stages. The habitats of the Groot Letaba River downstream of the Nwamitwa Dam should support the current diversity of fish species, provided that the mitigation measures are implemented correctly and that the Reserve requirements are maintained.

Bi-annual biomonitoring of river sections up and downstream of the dam should be implemented to inform a river management plan and the implementation of the Reserve.

- Construction related impacts

Construction activities result into a range of impacts that are common to most construction sites. Potential impacts include dust, noise, traffic, influx of people, crime and destruction of valuable flora and fauna. The Environmental Management plan will address and mitigate these impacts.

The impacts on the community are only expected to be significant when certain construction activities are in progress during the night time. Noisy construction activities should therefore be limited to day time hours wherever possible.

Construction activities will also impact on the movement patterns, social relationships and safety of local communities. This should be mitigated by providing safe passage as required.

- Baseline studies

Baseline studies should be undertaken to be completed as soon as possible before implementation commences in order to provide a benchmark against which impacts resulting from the construction and operation of the project can be measured. Aspects to be included are social, economic, water quality, aquatic ecology, terrestrial ecology, air quality and noise.

- Environmental Management Plans

The draft Pre-construction Environmental Management Plan (this includes monitoring mechanisms and specifications); and construction and operation EMPs based on the generic EMP (this includes monitoring mechanisms and specifications) must be finalised, approved and implemented.
