1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 All around the world, the migration to digital broadcast transmission technology has begun. In Europe and Africa, a time-line has been agreed upon within the framework of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU) treaty, the WRC-06. After June 2015 analogue television transmissions will no longer be protected from harmful interference caused by digital television transmissions. Hence the South African Government identified digital migration as a national priority. The parameters were planned around the three-year dual illumination period as contemplated in the BDM Policy as amended.
- 1.2 The key benefit of digital broadcast technologies is that they use the scarce national radio frequency spectrum far more efficiently than analogue technologies. This means that existing broadcasting services can be provided using less of the radio frequency spectrum currently occupied, hence the additional and dedicated delivery of government information, education, health and SMME programmes.
- 1.3 There is no doubt that digital broadcasting can facilitate the delivery of e-government services, present opportunities for jobs and new skills, investment opportunities and contribute significantly to addressing the challenges such as reducing the digital divide, information gaps, building social cohesion and a common national identity.
- 1.4 The Health Content Policy Framework for Television Broadcasting in South Africa is seen as presenting a unique opportunity for e-Health advancement in order to benefit the citizens as well as to ensure that the country is well positioned amongst the leading countries in the use of modern digital broadcasting.

- 1.5 The aim of this policy is to set policy parameters within which health content production should be delivered.

2. STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE

- 2.1 The Health Content Policy Framework is intended to guide the production and broadcasting of health content. The intention is to realise the directives outlined in the Broadcasting Digital Migration (BDM) Policy, 2008, which proposes establishment of a dedicated television channel for health.
- 2.2 The Policy will also provide guidance in the promulgation of related regulations by the Authority, to meet this Policy objective.
- 2.3 This Policy has to find alignment with National Health Policies particularly on health promotion.

3. CONTEXT

- 3.1 In accordance with the Broadcasting Act No.4 of 1999, broadcasting services exist amongst others, to
- serve the needs of the whole South African society,
  - ensure efficient use of the broadcasting frequency spectrum,
  - integrate multi-channel distribution systems into the broadcasting framework,
  - encourage the development of local programming content.
- 3.2 Television and radio broadcasting are the most influential and convenient ICT media to reach most people. The visual and oral nature of broadcasting makes it easy to reach more individuals thereby influencing public behaviour. The health TV channel/s, once established, as contemplated in the Broadcasting Digital Migration Policy, will ensure health promotion, sharing clinical health knowledge and other health information relevant to the South African populace. This will also contribute to dealing with socio-economic issues of the country by contributing to the reduction of child mortality, HIV & AIDS and TB deaths, and all other causes of death.

- 3.3 The country has developed a draft National Integrated Health Promotion Strategy in 2009, which aims at identifying priorities for health promotion and to provide mechanisms for enhancing existing health promotion strategies and initiatives.
- 3.4 The BDM Policy provides an opportunity for the health sector to develop effective health promotion and communication strategies that will empower communities to live healthy lifestyles.

4. HEALTH TELEVISION BROADCASTING AND ITS BENEFITS FOR HEALTH PROMOTION

- 4.1 The concept of health television broadcasting is not new. There are a number of such initiatives in many countries of the world. Mass media has provided a boost to health education for many years; however, the lack of a targeted approach may have explained the failure of early campaigns. In recent times, the role of the media in health promotion has been to inform the public, motivate at the individual level, and advocate social and political changes to create healthy environments. This has been a more global approach to health, based on health promotion principles.

- 4.2 The effective use of the mass media is a critical component of HIV/AIDS and TB prevention. In South Africa there are three major programmes that utilise the national mass media platform for HIV/AIDS prevention, and these are the Beyond Awareness II campaign, the multimedia edutainment programme Soul City and the youth programme, Love Life. The Khomanani Campaign has also extensively used the mass media for HIV/AIDS campaigns.
- 4.3 The media can play a major role in defining what health is. If we want to move away from the old concept of health as 'an absence of disease', media reporting may have to move away from 'illness news' towards 'health news'.

5. HEALTH CONTENT GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES

International trends show that health television channels are governed through formal structures. The Health Content Policy Framework therefore proposes the following governance principles: -

- 5.1 Content governance should take into consideration the rich cultural and linguistic diversity of the South African people in formulating language policy for the Health Television Channel. It should respect and recognise the value of Indigenous Knowledge Systems (IKS) as well as the importance of traditional practitioners and traditional medicine in the South African society.
- 5.2 The trade in traditional medicines in South Africa is estimated to be worth R2.9 billion per year, representing 5.6% of the National Health Budget. With 27 million consumers, the trade is vibrant and widespread. There are at least 133 000 people employed in the trade, including a large percentage of rural women (Economics of the Traditional Medicines Trade in South Africa). The South African Government has taken steps towards official recognition and institutionalisation of African traditional medicine. The DoH has, in this regard, enacted the Traditional Health Practitioners Act, No. 22 of 2007.

- 5.3 Government has also provided funding for research and development of African traditional medicine. The Draft African Traditional Medicine Policy for South Africa was gazetted on 25 July 2008.
- 5.4 Broadcast content for health promotion should be presented in a balanced manner. Such programming may not be intentionally misleading.
- 5.5 This policy promotes the broadcasting of content of the acceptable standard, which is scientifically sound, medically factual and is locally and culturally relevant to the target audience. This structure will have a balance of relevant expertise in public health and should include health scientists, health professionals as well as policy makers. It will also ensure that content is aligned to the government's health priorities and also to ensure that content on particular programmes is in line with specific programme guidelines, without infringement on the editorial independence of broadcasters.

6. THE HEALTH CONTENT BROADCASTING COMMITTEE

In terms of the Broadcasting Act, (Act no 4 of 1999), the Minister of Communications is empowered to establish the South African Broadcast Production Advisory Body to advise the Minister on how the development, production and display of local television and radio content can be supported. A Health Content Broadcasting Committee will therefore be established as a sub-committee of the South African Broadcast Production Advisory Body .

6.1 TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR THE HEALTH CONTENT BROADCASTING COMMITTEE

The Terms of Reference include:

- maintaining scientific and ethical standards in all health content used in broadcasting in South Africa.
- taking note of all policy guidelines by the Department of Health on all health programme related content.
- observing general adherence to the Policy without contravening the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996, especially freedom of expression.
- reporting any abuse of health content for broadcasting to the BCCSA or ICASA. The abuse of health content for broadcasting refers to any broadcast content that is in any way harmful to the health and well-being of the individuals.
- Make recommendations for the improvement of health content broadcast.

6.2 ROLE OF THE COMMITTEE

- The role of the Health Content Broadcasting Committee is to guide the health content provision for television broadcasting so that the South African public receive credible health information to help them lead healthy lifestyles.
- Health Content should be of high quality, comprehensive, medically accurate and clinically significant.

- The Committee should conduct regular reviews and assessment of the health broadcasting trends to ensure the following principles: -
- to enhance health promotion efforts towards the improvement of the health profile for all South Africans;
- to promote the availability of content in all official local languages;

- All health content production should target the majority of the South African population especially the youth, elderly and the rural poor. Content should therefore be made available as far as possible in indigenous languages to ensure accessibility by the African majority.
- The Health Content Broadcasting Committee's role will be to guide all digital content production for health to ensure that health digital content is produced in-line with the Local and Digital Content Development Strategy for South Africa.
- The Committee will also ensure scientific integrity as well as the alignment of content to the prevailing government health policy.
- The Committee will comprise of a pool of public health experts across different fields of health.

6.3 GUIDING PRICIPLES ON HEALTH BROADCAST CONTENT

6.3.1 Health information and education

The health content should inform and educate consumers. The Health Content Broadcasting Committee as contemplated in paragraph 6, should advocate for consumer-focused health content that reflects what the public wants to know. The health information should be on health issues that the public is interested in learning.

6.3.2 Health Promotion

The health content should reflect relevant health content that conforms to policy guidelines and current treatment and clinical practices. Health content should be focused on the promotion of good health practices and lifestyle.

6.3.3 Evidence-based and clinical significance

The health content should be well-researched and supported by evidence-based findings as well as peer reviewed medical journals.

6.3.4 Current

The health content may be reflective of current events, health calendar, seasons and health trends.

6.4 COMPOSITION OF THE COMMITTEE

The Health Broadcasting Content Committee should be constituted of members who, collectively have qualifications, expertise and experience to review and evaluate the science, health aspects and ethics of all public health content for television broadcasting on regular intervals. The Committee must be independent and multi-disciplinary in approach.

6.5 THE COMMITTEE SHOULD :

- be representative of the communities reflective of South African population and should reflect the demographic profile of the South African population and be gender representative.
- The Minister will select a chair from committee representatives.
- consist of at least nine members, with 60% constituting a quorum.

- represent a fair balance of subject experts, health policy makers, academics and health professionals such as nurses, clinicians, pharmacists and health promotion practitioners .

6.6 APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS

- Members will be formally appointed by the Minister of Communications.
- Members will serve for a five-year term.
- A member may serve a second term upon re-appointment by the Minister.

7. HEALTH CONTENT ETHICAL PRINCIPLES FOR TELEVISION BROADCASTING

It is understood that the broadcasting of health content falls within the ambit of public health and as such should adopt the Code for Ethical Practice of Public Health. One of the main principles of Ethical Practice of Public Health is that "Humans have a right to the resources necessary for health". This public Health Code of Ethics affirms Article 25 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which states in part that "everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and his family."

Health content ethics and standards should comprise principles of ethics and of good practice as applicable to television broadcasting in South Africa. While various existing ethical codes in health practice have some differences, most share common elements including the principles of truthfulness, accuracy, objectivity, impartiality, fairness and public accountability as these apply to the acquisition of information and its subsequent dissemination to the public.

Health content for broadcasting should be free from discriminatory practices based on race, religion, sexual orientation and physical or mental disabilities. These ethics should centre on public trust, truth, fairness, integrity, independence and accountability.

7.1 DUTIES TO THE PUBLIC

The Health Content Broadcaster/Entity should:

- always have due regard for the best interest of the public.
- honour the trust of the public.
- be aware that they are in a position of power and authority with the health information they disseminate to the public and avoid abusing that position.
- make sure that the personal beliefs of employees or groups within the Health Content Broadcaster/Entity do not prejudice the public in any way. Prejudicial beliefs may include but not limited to race, culture, ethnicity, social status, lifestyle, age, gender, religious or spiritual beliefs, communicable disease status, sexual orientation or any condition of vulnerability.
- never give information that may be construed for diagnosis or prescription of treatment of a medical condition.
- ensure that all health content produced for broadcasting reflects appropriate ethical considerations, legal requirements and human rights.

7.2 STANDARDS

Health educational content should:

- aim to educate and inform the public on how best to maintain a healthy status.

- create a platform for the public to know their rights and responsibilities regarding their health.
- contextualise the public's realities, fears, concerns and needs related to communicable diseases such as TB and HIV/AIDS and provide a platform for health professionals and experts to address these issues.

7.3 WEB PORTALS

According to the Health On the Net Foundation, medical and health web portals/websites should adhere to the following principles:

Authoritative

The content should reflect the qualifications of the author.

Complementary

Information should support, not replace the doctor-patient relationship

Privacy

Portals/sites should respect the privacy and confidentiality of personal data submitted to them by visitors.

Attribution

Portals/sites should cite the sources and dates of published information, date and medical and health pages

Justifiability

Sites/portals should back up claims relating to benefits and performance.

Transparency

Accessible presentation, accurate email contact should be provided.

Financial disclosure

Portals/sites should identify funding sources.

Advertising policy

Portals/sites should clearly distinguish advertising from editorial content.

8. CONCLUSION

- 8.1 The Authority must consider this Policy in exercising its powers and performing its duties and should consider how to best give effect to this Policy.

INTRODUCTION

The importance of education and training information

1. The effective gathering, dissemination and analysis of information in the post-school education and training system of any country are vital for sound education and training planning, monitoring and management. In the case of South Africa, effective use of information can greatly advance meaningful democracy, transparency, efficiency and effectiveness in the post-school education and training system. The constitutional duty of the state to provide a post-school education and training system that develops individual citizens and the nation as a whole is thus of great consequence.

The overall goal and scope of the policy

2(i) This policy creates a framework that allows for the co-ordinated and sustainable development of post-school education and training information systems. The goal is post-school education and training information systems that would yield valuable data and statistics needed for planning, monitoring and management purposes at all levels, from individual post-school education and training institutions and entities to the Department of Higher Education and Training (DHET).

2 (ii) This policy is applicable to all post-school education and training institutions (PSETIs) and DHET entities.

The parts of this policy framework

3. The main components of the framework laid down by this policy are the following:

- i. A vision for South African post-school education and training information systems;
- ii. A framework for establishing and maintaining effective and sustainable standards governing post-school education and training statistics, data and information systems;
- iii. A framework for streamlining the provision of post-school education and training information by the DHET, PSETIs and DHET entities to the public and all role players; and
- iv. A framework for improving the flow of data and statistics between the DHET, the PSETIs and the DHET entities.

Fragmentation in South African post-school education and training information systems

4. The South African post-school education and training system is characterised by a multitude of information systems, computerised and paper-based or manual, which provide the basis for the many business procedures in which the post-school education and training system must engage. This requires, among others, the development of and adherence to effective and adequate information standards governing post-school education and training management information systems.

Problems related to the survey approach

5. In previous years, it was practice for the erstwhile Department of Education to depend heavily on annual national censuses, also called 'surveys', in gathering information from institutions. While this approach fulfils an important need, it is recognised that it is outdated. The approach of the DHET is to promote integrated electronic information systems through the establishment of common information standards that are shared, in order to generate data that is comparable and of an acceptable quality, and therefore sufficiently reliable to add maximum value to post-school education and training planning, monitoring and management.

The post-school education and training information policy gap

6. Attempts to generate information systems standards at the DHET have been hampered by the absence of a policy framework that would lay down the structures and procedures to be followed in the generation of such standards. Lack of properly mandated standards has prevented the development of systems, and where systems were developed in the absence of standards, the result was systems that could not be integrated and/or interfaced with related systems and systems that were not thoroughly informed by the education and training context.

A VISION FOR INFORMATION SYSTEMS IN POST- SCHOOL EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Principles guiding the Department's vision

7. The principles governing the vision for the South African post-school education and training system are the following:

- i. The aims, principles and operations of this policy may not infringe the ownership rights of the information shared, nor should it unreasonably frustrate the effective planning, monitoring and management of an institution.
- ii. The HETIS must be a well co-ordinated system of education management information sub-systems, such as the Higher Education Management Information System (HEMIS), which facilitate planning, monitoring and management at departmental, institutional and entity levels.
- iii. The ultimate aim of an information system is to improve efficiency in the broader planning, monitoring and management of the higher education and training system, to introduce more transparency in the activities of the DHET and to ensure greater accountability for the use of scarce public resources.
- iv. The HETIS must facilitate public access to accurate, timely and relevant information within the legal framework to all role players. Information on education and training inputs, processes and outcomes at all levels of the system should be accessible to the public, with the exception of personal information, where confidentiality should be ensured.
- v. The existing sub-systems will continue reporting in terms of relevant legislation, procedures and guidelines applicable to the institution.
- vi. The HETIS must be flexible to accommodate the changes taking place within the post-school education and training system and the new priorities at all levels of the system.
- vii. Data flow must be bi-directional, both vertically and horizontally.
- viii. The system must be simple, accessible, efficient and standardised.
- ix. There must be mechanisms for facilitation, support and training on collection, processing, analysis, dissemination and use of information at all levels of the post-school education and training system.
- x. There must be mechanisms for co-ordination between the DHET, PSETIs and the DHET entities to accommodate diverse needs in establishing a core dataset and the use of appropriate and compatible technology.
- xi. The HETIS may, subject to agreement between parties, exchange data with other DHET entities and other government departments such as the Department of Labour, the Department of Basic Education and others, taking into account the issue of confidentiality and the purpose of data exchange.

Benefits for post-school stakeholders and participants

8. Students will have access to reliable information relating to the skills development opportunities and post-school education and training institutions in the post-school system. HETIS will provide students with information on the educational and skills development choices available. Essential information on post-school education and training as a whole will be available in the DHET and in PSETIs. Essential information on skills development and skills shortages will be available from the Sector Education and Training Authorities.

Information systems in the DHET, PSETIs and DHET entities

9. It is also recognised that with better information systems in place, education and training planners at all levels would have access to greater volumes of reliable data for planning and other purposes, on condition that these information systems adhere to national standards that ensure compatibility at all levels. The PSETIs will benefit from the use of information systems that will facilitate planning, monitoring and management. The systems of the DHET will receive data from systems at institutions and entities in a standardised format, which will allow for more effective planning and administration in the DHET.

The need for inclusiveness

10. Transformation in terms of post-school education and training information systems should be inclusive. Parallel to the development of improved computerised systems and the diffusion of e-Government, should be the ongoing improvement of manual systems in line with the design of computerised systems, so that elements of education systems are not excluded and the transition from manual to computerised systems can be streamlined.

Improved education management

11. Planning, monitoring and management, at all levels from organisational and institutional level to departmental level, will be improved through the greater availability of accurate and relevant information on the education and training system. This will result in better-informed implementation and resource allocation strategies, which will improve the overall performance of the education and training system. Through access to this information, legislators and other publicly elected officials will be in a better position to serve their constituencies in education and training related matters.

LEGISLATIVE FRAMEWORK THAT INFORMS THE POLICY

Related Legislative Mandate

12. This policy is closely linked to other legislation and government initiatives, and is governed by the following legislation:

HEA	: Higher Education Act, 1997 (Act No.101 of 1997);
FETCA	: Further Education and Training Colleges Act, 2006 (Act No.16 of 2006);
AET	: Adult Education and Training Act, 2000 (Act No.52 of 2000);
NQF	: National Qualifications Framework Act, 2008 (Act No. 67 of 2008);
NSFAS	: National Student Financial Aid Scheme, 1999 (Act No. 56 of 1999);
SDA	: Skills Development Act, 1998 (Act No.97 of 1998);
PAIA	: Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000);
NASAA	: National Archives of South Africa Act, 1996 (Act No. 43 of 1996); and
Statistics Act	: Statistics Act, 1999 (Act No.6 of 1999).

13. This policy creates a framework that improves the processes by which post-school education and training institutions and the DHET entities provide information. The Minister of Higher Education and Training must monitor and evaluate the standards of education and training provision, delivery and performance, to a large extent through the use of the DHET statistics. This policy promotes the processes required to ensure that reliable education and training statistics are available.

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000

14. This policy will abide by the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000). While the Promotion of Access to Information Act deals mainly with access to individual records, this policy deals mainly with access to data and statistics as a whole. Moreover, where the Act focuses mainly on action to be taken by the state in response to requests for information, this policy focuses to a large degree on the pro-active steps that the department, the post-school education and training institutions and the DHET entities must take in order to ensure wide access to information, which will reduce the need for individual requests. This policy directly complements the Promotion of Access to Information Act, by specifying the level of the education system at which specific information is made available in the first instance.

The Statistics Act, 1999

15. This policy complements the Statistics Act, 1999 (Act No. 6 of 1999). Section 14 of the Statistics Act deals with the obligation of government departments to work closely with the Statistician-General, for example in maintaining standards of statistical reporting and co-ordinating the statistical collections of the country. This policy creates a framework for the DHET to comply with this obligation in a more organised and effective manner through improved procedures for ensuring the accuracy and proper presentation of education and training statistics.

Batho Pele public service delivery

16. This policy complements the Batho Pele strategy of Government to improve service delivery to the public, by creating a framework for systems development. This policy will facilitate the improvement of the post-school education and training information systems which will, in turn, improve the lives of those who participate in the post-school education and training sector.

South African Qualifications Authority

17. This policy complements the initiatives of the SAQA to create, manage and further develop the National Learners' Records Database (NLRD); by specifying that the development of student records should be in line with the NLRD initiative, optimum use should be made of resources in Government and unified datasets should be enhanced.

Focus on education and training specific information

18. This policy complements state regulations and standards governing financial and personnel systems used in all sectors of Government.

PART II*DUTIES OF STAKEHOLDERS IN HIGHER EDUCATION AND TRAININGDUTIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHER EDUCATION AND TRAININGNeed to respond pro-actively to the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000

19. In terms of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000), the DHET has an obligation to provide information to a variety of interested parties. To comply effectively with this obligation, the DHET must ensure that the most appropriate points of access for particular types of information are made clear to the public. Moreover, the DHET must be pro-active in satisfying the information needs of the public by distributing commonly requested information to potential requesters. Such a pro-active approach can reduce the need to respond to individual requests, and can ensure that more disadvantaged communities, which may normally not make formal information requests in terms of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, are empowered with the information they need.

Minimum information to the public

20. The DHET must make at least the following publicly available: (i) list of basic information on PSETIs, (ii) information data on state-funded programmes and learning opportunities, and (iii) annual statistics reports. In terms of section 20 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000), the DHET HETIS officer must transfer information requests to other information officers more suited to responding to the request. The DHET may not make facsimile or electronic mail addresses of PSETIs and DHET entities available for the purpose of marketing. Additional information can be made available according to publication and/or data dissemination standards.

Information to the public for research purposes

21. The DHET must anticipate the needs of researchers to analyse data on the post-school education and training sector and must be pro-active in preparing standards and typical data files. Such files must adhere to the standards, established in terms of this policy, with regard to definitions and formats. In the case of a researcher requiring data not included in the standard and typical data files, and where the research is not officially mandated within the post-school education system, the DHET must assess the possible value of the research against the departmental resources required to prepare the data, and should respond to the request accordingly. The DHET must ensure that the dissemination of the data does not breach the appropriate rules on confidentiality as stipulated in section 17 of the Statistics Act (No. 6 of 1999).

Feedback on analysed information to respondents

22. The DHET must take active steps to supply the PSETIs and the DHET entities with relevant statistical and analytical results of data collection surveys in which they participated. This will make participation in education censuses more meaningful to institutions and entities and will encourage future participation.

Information in DHET Statistics Report

23. The DHET must include statistics tables that contribute to its accountability to the legislature and the public in general in its statistics reports. The standards governing these statistics that were agreed upon must be adhered to. The DHET must publish and disseminate only aggregated data.

Protection of private information

24. In providing information to the public, the DHET must ensure that procedures exist that prevent the release of information considered private or protected in terms of Chapter 4 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000).

Warehousing of post-school education and training data

25. The DHET must safely and accessibly store data reflecting the current post-school education and training system, and historical profiles of the post-school education and training system from the past, in accordance with the DHET archiving standard.

DUTIES OF PSETIs AND DHET ENTITIESPSETIs and the DHET entities provide information to the DHET*

26. According to the applicable legislation, referred to in paragraph 12 of this policy, it is the duty of PSETIs and DHET entities to provide information to the DHET.

Adequate definitions of terms and classifications of data collection tools and systems

27. In order to facilitate the collection of accurate and comparable information from PSETIs, the DHET must ensure that all data collection systems and tools include clear and precise definitions of terms used and classification of data to prevent ambiguities and misinterpretations. These definitions and classifications must conform to existing and new approved standards in this regard.

Completion of education census forms

28. The DHET administers a number of regular data collections. It is the duty of all heads of PSETIs and chief executive officers (CEOs) of DHET entities to ensure that education data requirements is completed to the best of their ability, in the knowledge that the deliberate distortion of information constitutes fraud. For planning, monitoring and management purposes, it is necessary for data and statistics to be provided on a regular and cyclical basis by the PSETIs and the DHET entities to the DHET. The data and statistics must be reliable and in accordance with the DHET standards.

Special requests for statistics

29. The DHET may make special requests for additional data and statistics, where these are not covered in the regular cycles of submissions of data and statistics from PSETIs and DHET entities. In making special requests, the DHET HETIS officer must supply clear specifications for the request, and timeframes that are reasonable relative to the nature of the request. The DHET HETIS officer will specify the reason for the special request. It is the duty of the PSETIs and the DHET entities to adhere to the request and provide the DHET with the additional data.

PART III*ROLE AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF HETIS OFFICERSTHE DHET HETIS OFFICERHETIS officer

30. The Director-General of the DHET must designate a DHET HETIS officer, whose basic functions will be to:

- i. act as the only departmental official, apart from the Director-General of the DHET, with the authority to approve a data collection system;
- ii. analyse, report on and make continual recommendations for improvements to the electronic and non-electronic PSETI information systems, so that the system can contribute to the vision of education information systems explained in this policy;
- iii. ensure that statistics and data released according to paragraph 30 (v) of this policy comply with standards for accuracy and presentation;
- iv. act as the only departmental official, apart from the Director-General of the DHET, also known as the information officer in terms of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000, with the authority to classify statistics and data of the DHET as national and as a true record of higher education statistics, in accordance with section 14 of the Statistics Act, 1999 (Act No. 6 of 1999);
- v. co-ordinate and control the release of DHET statistics and data to other government departments, statutory bodies such as Statistics South Africa and international organisations;
- vi. monitor compliance with information systems standards where education information systems are being developed at the national level;
- vii. promote the adequate standardisation of information provided by institutions and entities to the DHET;
- viii. organise meetings with all information officers of the PSETIs and DHET entities and with relevant stakeholder information forums in the furtherance of the education information systems vision at the national level;
- ix. organise meetings with all internal data managers of the DHET to promote awareness of the DHET data available from each DHET branch and to cooperate and work together to contribute to post-school education and training statistics reporting;
- x. ensure that there is adequate communication between information officers of the PSETIs, DHET entities and the Education Information Standards Committee of the DHET to ensure delivery; and
- xi. liaise with the Statistician-General and Statistics South Africa to promote the aims of the Statistics Act, 1999 and to ensure that section 14 of the Statistics Act, 1999, requiring the relevant Minister to approve the undertaking of a new statistical collection, or the substantial changing or discontinuation of a statistical collection, is adhered to.

Efficient utilisation of state resources

31. In recognition of the fact that information systems are costly to develop, and the fact that needs across sectors, entities and institutions are often similar, the HETIS officer in the DHET must encourage national systems development projects, to avoid duplication and the inefficient use of state resources. The DHET HETIS officer thus has to undertake cost-benefit analyses, which will inform the development of systems.

The DHET HETIS officer and the Statistician-General

32. Section 14 of the Statistics Act No. 6 of 1999 requires the Statistician-General to ensure the maintenance of national standards in official statistical collections, and to co-ordinate statistical collections. The South African Statistical Quality Assessment Framework (SASQAF) (2008) indicated that all standards and policies must be in place to promote consistency of statistics collections and results. The HETIS officer in the DHET must actively support the Statistician-General in this obligation.

The DHET HETIS officer as designator of national statistics

33. Only data and statistics formally certified as a true record by the Director-General of the DHET or the DHET HETIS officer may be regarded as valid. In determining whether data or statistics can be certified as a true record, the DHET HETIS officer must ensure that a reasonable level of analysis and verification has occurred. The DHET HETIS officer must be informed of the purpose for which the data or statistics will be used when determining whether the data or statistics can be regarded as a true record. The DHET HETIS officer must be guided by generally accepted practice, and general government standards, in particular those issued by the Statistician-General in terms of the Statistics Act 1999. Where problems or possible problems exist in national data or statistics, the DHET HETIS officer must make this clearly known through adequate explanatory notes. Moreover, the DHET HETIS officer must clearly state the source of any data or statistics that have been disseminated by the DHET. Reasonable consistency between different releases of national data and statistics must be maintained.

The DHET HETIS officer may disseminate preliminary/provisional data

34. Notwithstanding paragraph 33, the DHET officials should not be precluded from exchanging data and statistics informally where there is no need for the data or statistics to be declared as a true record. This provisional data has to be referred to as estimates. However, only data and statistics that have been certified a true record may be used in final statistics reports and in final decisions.

HETIS OFFICERS OF THE PSETIs AND DHET ENTITIESInstitution and entity HETIS officers in the post-school sector*

35. Head of institutions and CEOs of entities must designate a HETIS officer or any appropriate official to liaise with the DHET on any matter regarding data and information. Those HETIS officers must collaborate with each other and the DHET HETIS officer in the furtherance of the HETIS.

Relationship between HETIS officers and the information officer as designated by the Promotion of Access to Information Act

36. Institutions must clearly define and distinguish the functions of the HETIS officers from the roles of the information officers as determined by the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000).

Guidelines for supporting HETIS officers

37. HETIS officers should be supported with adequate finances, human and physical resources in order to perform their contracted activities, which may include, but are not limited to the following:

- i. Design and plan education and training data collection systems in accordance with prescribed standards.
- ii. Manage data capturing processes, both manual and automated.
- iii. Maintain data accuracy and quality.
- iv. Submit data to the DHET HETIS officer in accordance with the required standard;
- v. Archive key historical data in accordance with information standards.
- vi. Analyse systems, including the effectiveness and compliance of management systems and standards.
- vii. Deal with the informal exchange of data and statistics.

The process of providing data and statistics

38. The HETIS officer in the DHET must clearly specify what data and statistics are required from PSETIs and from the DHET entities on a regular basis as indicated in the relevant standard. Specifications must be sufficiently detailed to minimise ambiguities and misunderstandings and must be stated in terms of standards governing definitions and formats. Dates of submission, determined after consultation, must also be specified. The designated HETIS officers or appropriate designated officials or the heads of PSETIs and CEOs of the DHET entities must officially hand over the requested data or statistics to the DHET HETIS officer. The HETIS officers of PSETIs and DHET entities must state formally any conditions regarding the information. Informal exchanges of data and statistics between the PSETIs and the DHET entities may occur, but for preliminary analysis and reporting only, as prescribed in this policy.

Collaboration between HETIS officers for development purposes

39. The HETIS officers or appropriate designated officials of the DHET, the PSETIs and the DHET entities must work together to improve the efficiency and value of statistical collections.

PART IV

HIGHER EDUCATION AND TRAINING INFORMATION STANDARDS

POWER TO SET STANDARDS

Power to set standards

40. The Minister of Higher Education and Training has the power to determine the standards referred to in paragraph 42 below insofar as they affect the PSETIs and the DHET entities referred to in legislation contemplated in item 1.7 of the Schedule of the Presidential Proclamation No. 44, published in Government Gazette No. 32367 of 1 July 2009.

Consideration of the broader information systems environment

41. Processes used to arrive at information standards must reflect the complexity of the information systems environment itself, and of a system of PSETIs and DHET entities with varying degrees of autonomy. Processes should strike a balance between the urgent need for standards to be generated, the constitutional rights of the PSETIs and DHET entities and the need for consultation. Moreover, processes should be sensitive to the reality that some PSETIs and DHET entities have, for historical reasons, not been in a position to invest as much in information systems as others. In this regard, it must be ensured that processes empower the historically disadvantaged, by ensuring that building capacity accompanies system development, while at the same time valuable lessons gained from systems where considerable investment has taken place, are made to benefit the country as a whole.

TYPES OF STANDARDS

42. For the purposes of this policy, different types of information standards will be identified and developed concerning the statistical value chain, including operational standards in accordance with the SASQAF 2008. The following are some of the information standards required, but do not constitute an exhaustive list:

- i. Descriptors and definitions of education and training terms. Terminology and classifications used in the administration and planning of the education and training sector need to be uniform across the country. This terminology should be captured in the higher education and training sector data dictionaries, which should also be a point of departure for specifying the inter-relationships between terms that systems designers require and the data field names that would correspond to particular terms. The existing standards should be integrated.
- ii. Statistical tables. Key statistical tables produced, for instance in annual statistical reports, must be standardised for higher education and training sector planning to be possible. Standards in this regard should consider and incorporate official and emerging higher education and training indicators for South Africa and international organisations.
- iii. Information publications. In the interest of user-friendliness and comprehensiveness, it is important for certain information publications to be standardised across the DHET, PSETIs, DHET entities and SETAs, for instance lists of institutions made available to the public.
- iv. Unique identifiers. Identifiers that are unique at the higher education and training sector are required for a range of people and items, for example learners/students, educators/lecturers, skills, occupations, curriculum offerings and institutions. Standards governing the generation of such unique identifiers are required.

- v. Data file layout. Where different datasets exist that must be integrated, the standardisation of data files is essential.
- vi. Data coding. Codes used to refer to attributes must be standardised for data integration to be possible.
- vii. Data quality. The processes of data capturing and cleaning by the DHET, PSETIs and DHET entities must be governed by minimum quality standards in order to ensure that data accuracy is of an acceptable level.
- viii. Platforms of systems. Minimum standards must be set for hardware and software in so far as this is required for integration of systems and transfer of data.
- ix. Performance of systems. Certain aspects of the performance of systems should be standardised, in particular aspects relating to efficiency, timeliness, quality of data, the protection of privacy and the backing up of data.
- x. Communication between systems. Network protocols must be standardised for the secure and effective transfer of data between systems.
- xi. Data archiving. Minimum standards for the archiving of historical data are required to ensure that individual histories, as well as the history of the system as a whole, are available for future use.

HIGHER EDUCATION AND TRAINING INFORMATION STANDARDS COMMITTEE

Functions of the committee

43. The Director-General of the DHET will establish and appoint members to the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee to advise him or her on the information standards generation process. The functions of this committee will be to:

- i. conduct research into the area of education information standards;
- ii. co-ordinate consultation on standards between key role players;
- iii. receive and evaluate written inputs from role players, including members of the public and information technology (IT) firms;
- iv. advise the Director-General on standards to be made official policy after careful consideration of the options;
- v. be the custodians of the definitive and most recent set of approved information standards for the education system; and
- vi. make standards widely known and available.

Composition of the committee

44. The Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee will consist of between 15 and 20 permanent members and will include representation from:

- i. the DHET;

- ii. the DHET entities;
- iii. the Department of Basic Education;
- iv. the Department of Science and Technology;
- v. the Department of Public Service and Administration;
- vi. the Provincial Departments of Education;
- vii. Statistics South Africa;
- viii. the State Information Technology Agency;
- ix. Higher Education of South Africa;
- x. the HEMIS Institute; and
- xi. any other relevant stakeholder.

The Director-General of the DHET may appoint DHET officials to represent the DHET in the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee. Representation from the PSETs and DHET entities will be collective in nature, and individual members will represent interests as a whole and not the interests of their respective entities or institutions. Representation from the IT industry shall not represent the interests of any particular firm, but the industry as a whole. The Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee is not intended to be a fully representative body with decision-making powers. It is instead a specialist advisory body that makes recommendations to the Director-General of the DHET. Appointment to the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee should be considered in this context.

Technical working group

45. In order to ensure that the necessary technical work is undertaken to prepare standards, the Education Information Standards Committee will designate a technical working group as a sub-committee of the Education Information Standards Committee. The technical working group will receive requests and proposals for standards, prepare the technical standards and present standards to the Education Information Standards Committee for inputs and recommendation to the Director-General. The technical working group will report directly to the Education Information Standards Committee.

Procedures for the committee

46. The Director-General of the DHET must request nominations from the organisations listed in paragraph 45 of this policy in deciding the appointments to be made to the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee. The Director-General of the DHET must appoint a chairperson of the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee. The chairperson shall determine the frequency of meetings and meeting protocols in consultation with the DHET. Only the Director-General of the DHET may terminate membership of the Education Information Standards Committee.

Co-option of members to the committee

47. The Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee may co-opt members for limited periods in order to obtain certain expertise, for instance expertise specific to a particular education sector, such as Adult Education and Training.

Process for generating information standards

48. The research conducted or commissioned by the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee must apply international best practice, local education priorities and trends in the information technology industry to influence the standards-generating process. Thorough and ongoing analysis of systems and censuses not directly controlled by the education department, but that may influence the development of post-school education information systems, must take place.

Consultation and dissemination of information by the committee

49. Regular and adequate consultation must occur between members of the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee, but also between the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee and other role players. Regular updates of current work must be submitted to the Director-General of the DHET.

The committee and role players in general

50. The Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee must attempt to make its work known to all potential role players, and must ensure that it is easy for role players to submit recommendations regarding information standards. The Committee must respond to every submission received within two months of submission.

Use of industry conventions

51. The standards generated by the Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee must be understandable, yet should adhere to conventions that are familiar to participants in the education and training related systems development industry, considering that these participants will constitute important beneficiaries of the standards documentation.

Format of the standards documentation

52. The standards generated must be documented in a format that makes the process of periodical revisions clear and manageable. The format must, for example, make it clear when previously existing standards have been withdrawn or modified.

Final approval

53. When new standards have been generated that serve the interests of the higher education and training sector, the Minister must officially approve the standards concerned and publish such standards by way of a notice referring to the latest amended collection of all standards generated in terms of this policy, in a Government Gazette.

Dissemination of approved information standards

54. The Higher Education and Training Information Standards Committee must ensure that the standards documentation becomes as widely accessible as necessary. Copies of the documentation should be available on a website.

Stakeholder information forums
---------------------------------------

55. In order to enable the participation of all stakeholders of the post-school education and training sector in the process of generating standards, stakeholder information forums may be set up. In the case where stakeholder forums exist, the DHET will cooperate with them. Each forum will serve a particular related set of institutions or entities such as SETAs, public universities, FET colleges, quality councils or similar bodies. The role of a stakeholder information forum is to request or suggest information standards to the technical working group of the DHET. Stakeholder information forums must be approved by the standards committee and will report to the standards committee via the technical working group.

-----------------

Some of the functions of Further Education and Training colleges and Adult Education and Training centres are the responsibilities of the Provincial Education Departments, hence all the Provincial Education Departments should continue working closely with the DHET .

GENERAL NOTICES ALGEMENE KENNISGEWINGS

NOTICE 1055 OF 2013

National Agricultural Marketing Council

Promoting market access for South African agriculture

REQUEST FOR THE CONTINUATION OF STATUTORY MEASURES (LEVY, REGISTRATION, RECORDS AND RETURNS ON COTTON LINT)

....

INVITATION TO DIRECTLY AFFECTED GROUPS IN THE COTTON INDUSTRY TO FORWARD COMMENTS REGARDING THE REQUEST FROM COTTON SA

The statutory levy of 21 c/kg (VAT excluded) on cotton lint produced, payable by ginners to Cotton SA, as well as the statutory measures relating to registration with Cotton SA of producers, purchasers, processors, importers and exporters of cotton and the keeping of records and the submission of returns to Cotton SA by exporters, importers, processors and purchasers of cotton, will lapse on 31 March 2014.

In terms of section 11 of the Marketing of Agricultural Products Act, 1996 (Act No. 47 of 1996) (MAP Act), the NAMC hereby announce that the Minister of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries has received a request from Cotton SA, on behalf of the directly affected groups in the cotton industry, for the continuation of the following statutory measures for four years as from 1 April 2014:

- Registration (in terms of section 19 of the MAP Act);
- the keeping of records and the submission of returns (in terms of section 18 of the MAP Act); and
- a cotton levy at a rate of 22c/kg (VAT excluded) with annual increases as from 1 April 2015 equal to inflation rate expectations (in terms of section 15 of the MAP Act); payable by South African ginners on cotton lint produced, in order to ensure the continuation of the functions performed by Cotton SA.

It is proposed that the levy be increased from the second year of the levy period to the following amounts (VAT excluded):

- From 1 April 2015 to 23.5/kg on cotton lint,
- From 1 April 2016 to 25c/kg on cotton lint, and
- From 1 April 2017 to 26.5c/kg on cotton lint.

The purpose and aims of the continuation of statutory measures are to enable Cotton SA to perform the following functions that the cotton industry has identified as essential and in the interest of the industry as a whole:

- a) the rendering of information services to all role players;
- b) promotion of cotton production and usage;
- c) co-ordination of research;
- d) maintenance of quality standards and norms and provision of training in this regard;
- e) facilitation of the development of the emerging cotton production sector; and
- f) to act as the representative industry forum.

The budgeted income from the proposed levies is estimated between R1.2 million and R5.3 million per annum on local production for the proposed levy period of 1 April 2014 – 31 March 2018. These forecasts are based on the assumption that no dramatic increase in the cotton crop is expected for the next few years. Other income for Cotton SA include amongst others, contributions for small-scale farmer training, income from the provision of grading services to outside parties, cotton mark royalties as well as investment income, that will again be used to supplement any shortfalls in levy funds. Further ways of broadening the income base are continuously being investigated.

Directly affected groups in the cotton industry are kindly requested to submit any comments regarding the proposed continuation of statutory measures to the National Agricultural Marketing Council in writing (fax 012 341 1811/ 012 341 1911 or e-mail to lizette@namc.co.za) before or on 15 November 2013, to enable the Council to formalise its recommendation to the Minister in this regard.

NOTICE 1074 OF 2013

MERCHANDISE MARKS ACT, 1941 (ACT 17 OF 1941)

PROPOSED PROHIBITION ON THE USE OF CERTAIN WORDS

ANNEXURE

THE RULES OF USE OF KAROO LAMB

1. Description of goods

The name KAROO LAMB will only be used in connection with lamb, produced and slaughtered in the Karoo region as defined herein. Only lamb originating from (that is, born in) the Karoo, or, alternatively, that is born outside the Karoo but remained in the Karoo (on natural veldt) for a continuous period of at least 6 months immediately before slaughter, and which are free of scheduled diseases, will qualify. The name KAROO LAMB denotes the origin of lamb products and can be associated to carcasses, freshly packed meat or derivative products complying with these Rules.

2. Specified standards

More specifically, the name KAROO LAMB will only be used in conjunction with lamb products that meet the following specifications:

a. Livestock

Only lambs weaned from any breed of sheep (Ovis Aries) that is produced according to the production practices listed below qualify.

b. Origin

The Karoo region is defined with reference to municipal districts listed in Schedule A (below) and the lamb producers farming within these municipal boundaries qualify for use of the term KAROO LAMB, provided compliance with the Rules can be shown as set out in clause 3. Schedule A comprises of municipal districts in which it was found that the following typical Karoo bushes occur naturally, constituting the predominant indigenous vegetation, namely, Plinthus karrooicus ("Silverkaroo"), Penzia spinescens ("Skaapbossie"), Eriocephalus ericoides ("Kapokbossie"), Salsola glabrescens ("Rivierganna"), Pentzia incana ("Ankerkaroo") and Pieronia glauca / rosenia humilis ("Perdebos"). It has scientifically been shown that the reputation or distinctive character of KAROO LAMB mainly derives from indigenous veldt vegetation consisting of the said species.

In addition municipal districts listed in Schedule B (below) can also qualify as forming part of the Karoo region, but a prospective producer or farm is required to first be inspected by an independent certification body in order to verify that at least two of the identified Karoo bushes [Plinthus karrooicus ("Silverkaroo"), Penzia spinescens ("Skaapbossie"), Eriocephalus ericoides ("Kapokbossie"), Salsola glabrescens ("Rivierganna"), Pentzia incana ("Ankerkaro") and Pieronia glauca / rosenia humilis ("Perdebos")] are significantly present in more than 60% of the area of specified grazing camps on the specific farm.

c. Production practices (including grazing and water)

The reputation or distinctive character of the meat of KAROO LAMB derives from free range grazing or production on indigenous veldt vegetation (comprising the identified Karoo plants in paragraph 2b above). Hence only sheep that feeds freely from indigenous veldt, in sizable camps representative of the identified typical Karoo vegetation, and that has access to clean water, qualifies for use of the name KAROO LAMB.

The occasional use of additional feeding supplements that may contain cereals, silage or any other natural plant matter, provided as supplementary feeding ("byvoeding"), for example, to assist during dry spells and to improve the condition of animals during the reproductive cycle, may be allowed to a maximum of 30% of the total intake/ daily requirements. The supplementary feeding must be given while the animal is still grazing on the Karoo veldt and roaming freely. Only registered brand names may be fed of which the composition is known to the farmer. It can consist of added minerals, urea, good quality hay and/or any other acceptable forms of supplementation. Feed not to contain any feedstuff known for excess heavy metal and pesticide disposition. Added antibiotics and other chemical additives (e.g. ionophores, etc.) are not allowed in the feed of any animal. During supplementary feeding, feed bins/troughs must be cleaned regularly, ensuring that old and damp feed is removed to prevent souring. Keep accurate written records of all supplementary feed, fed to animals on the farm.

Lamb originating from feed lots (as opposed to free grazing) does not qualify for use of the name KAROO LAMB; free range grazing or production is a specific requirement as it is acknowledged as a contributing factor to the taste or sensory attributes of KAROO LAMB.

Likewise, lamb mainly reared on cultivated or planted pastures, does not qualify to be described as KAROO LAMB. In addition the following general production practices should be adhered to:

Animals must be handled in such a way that does not compromise their welfare. Animals may be brought off the veld and kept in pens only for the following:

- Medical treatment, processing or any other form of examination.
- Adverse weather conditions.
- Marking/tagging of animals.
- Shearing activities.
- Awaiting loading for transportation.

After completion of the first four processes, the animals must be returned to veld immediately.

Farms must have well maintained handling facilities. The facilities must be well designed to ensure the easy flow of sheep through the facility. It must be free from sharp edges, corners and broken rails that may cause the sheep to injure them.

Owners and managers should ensure that the sheep are monitored on a routine basis to assess the overall health of the flock. An animal health program must be in place and reviewed at least annually. Growth stimulants: All growth stimulants, either hormonal or anti-microbial and administered in whatever way to the animal, are prohibited. Anti-microbial drugs: The prophylactic (preventative) treatment with any anti-microbial drug is not allowed in this program.

Camp stocking rates should be such as to ensure that the natural environment and general plant condition and density are not adversely affected (preventing over-grazing). Indigenous veldt must be rested (not be exposed to over-grazing) from time to time to ensure optimum growth and production (a planned and scientific veldt rotational system should be used). High pressure points (water troughs, lick bins, etc.) must be managed to minimize damage caused by trampling.

Water sources must be capable of supplying sufficient amounts of cold, fresh and clean water to meet the requirements of healthy, grazing sheep. Water points should be clean and free of excessive mud in and around water troughs. Drinking troughs must be cleaned on a regular basis to eliminate the growth of algae and the deposit of waste feed and other contaminants.

d. Carcass classification

Only carcasses falling in the following categories of the South African meat classification system (as specified in Meat Classification Regulations No R863 published in the RSA Government Gazette of 1 September 2006) qualify for use of the name KAROO LAMB:

Breed		Preferably meat breed types with good bone: muscle ratio with an even fat distribution.
Carcass mass	A-grades	>14 but < 25kg
Classification	Age classes	A
	Fat classes	1 to 6
	Conformation	3, 4 and 5
Damage		Only F1 damage allowed

In particular, all other age classes (AB, B and C) are not classified as "lamb" and therefore do not qualify to be called KAROO LAMB.

e. Slaughtering and packaging facilities

KAROO LAMB slaughtered must also comply with all the requirements for food safety and traceability. It is therefore expected that sheep will be slaughtered at abattoirs registered with the Red Meat Abattoir Association of South Africa and will have a HASS rating of at least 75%. Abattoirs also need to comply with food safety regulations applicable to the meat industry as well as The Meat Safety Act. In addition these role players must have an operational traceability system in place that has been approved by SAMIC, which competently verify the origin of carcasses and meat products in terms of these Rules. Added to this the abattoir needs to use the prescribed roller mark as more fully described in clause 3

Enterprises that do the cutting, processing and packaging of meat must also comply with the food safety regulations applicable to the meat industry, the Meat Safety Act and an acceptable standard on traceability procedures. Such parties would also be required to show that they are able to identify carcasses and meat products originating from the Karoo region (in terms of these Rules) and that a verifiable traceability system – back to the producer and the specific farm – is in place, adhered to, and on demand available for inspection.

3. Suggested mechanism for complying with rules

Compliance with the rules set out above can be achieved through certification under the KAROO MEAT OF ORIGIN certification scheme, and the use of the certification mark, “Certified Karoo Meat of Origin”. The presence of the certification mark will signal the authenticity of the product as KAROO LAMB. Lambs correctly classified at registered abattoirs in the Karoo and originating from “certified” farms in the Karoo who have adhered to the rules contained herein will be marked with the roller mark CERT KMOO issued by the SA Meat Industry Company (SAMIC) and DAFF. These carcasses then automatically qualify to be named KAROO LAMB.

Restaurateurs will only be allowed to use the name KAROO LAMB on their menus or in advertisements if they can demonstrate that they have acquired the lamb from approved and compliant producers, wholesalers, retailers or distributors.
