3. CONSTITUTIONAL AND LEGISLATIVE FRAMEWORK

3.1 Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996

The relevant sections provide as follows:

- 3.1.1 Section 6(1) to (4): "(1) The official languages of the Republic are Sepedi, Sesotho, Setswana, Siswati, Tshivenda, Xitsonga, Afrikaans, English, isiNdebele, isiXhosa and isiZulu.
(2) Recognising the historically diminished use and status of the indigenous languages of our people, the state must take practical and positive measures to elevate the status and advance the use of these languages.
(3)(a) The national government and provincial governments may use any particular official languages for the purposes of government, taking into account usage, practicality, expense, regional circumstances and the balance of the needs and preferences of the population as a whole or in the province concerned; but the national government and each provincial government must use at least two official languages.
(b) Municipalities must take into account the language usage and preferences of their residents.
(4) The national government and provincial governments, by legislative and other measures, must regulate and monitor their use of official languages. Without detracting from the provisions of subsection (2), all official languages must enjoy parity of esteem and must be treated equitably."

- 3.1.5 Section 31(1) to (2): "(1) Persons belonging to a cultural, religious or linguistic community may not be denied the right, with other members of that community—
(a) to enjoy their culture, practise their religion and use their language; and

 - (g) provide for any other matter that the Minister may prescribe; and
 - (h) be published in the Gazette as soon as reasonably practicable, but within 90 days of its adoption.

- (b) does not exist in the language so preferred or the requester has no preference or has not indicated a preference, be given access in any language the record exists in."

4. OBJECTIVES OF POLICY

- 4.1 This Policy seeks to—
 - 4.1.1 give effect to section 4(1) of the Act, a legislative measure contemplated in section 6(4) of the Constitution;
 - 4.1.2 promote the equitable use of all 11 official languages;
 - 4.1.3 regulate and monitor the use of official languages in the Department;
 - 4.1.4 facilitate equitable access to the services offered by the Department;
 - 4.1.5 to promote good language management in the Department for efficient public service administration and service delivery;
 - 4.1.6 maintain effective communication in the Department and facilitate access to services, resources, programmes, information and knowledge for all South Africans; and
 - 4.1.7 redress the linguistic inequalities of the past, which resulted in the underdevelopment of indigenous African languages and discrimination against speakers of such languages.

5. GUIDING PRINCIPLES AND VALUES

As this Policy seeks to give effect to section 4(1) of the Act, it is based on the following guiding principles:

- 5.1 Usage, practicality, expense, regional circumstances, the balance of the needs and preferences of the population (as a whole and in the province concerned); the imperative to take practical and positive measures to elevate the status and advance the use of indigenous languages of historically diminished use and status; the provision that all official languages must enjoy parity of esteem and must be treated equitably.
- 5.2 Recognition that English is understood across the country, and has become a general language of use nationally and internationally.
- 5.3 Prevalence of language use at service points and on service sites.
- 5.4 Acknowledgement that Afrikaans¹ is an indigenous language that enjoys popularity in the country, except in the Mpumalanga and Limpopo provinces. It had official status in the past, is still an official language in terms of the Constitution, and is a second language in many communities.
- 5.4.1 The demographics of the country in terms of human settlement caused by apartheid policies and the establishment of ethnic-based self-governing states prior to 1994. This is reflected in the Mpumalanga province, which incorporates the former self-governing territory, the KwaNdebele homeland, which had isiNdebele as official language. As the Ndebele community is largely concentrated in Mpumalanga, it is recommended that, despite isiZulu being the most spoken language in the province, isiNdebele should be selected as an official language for use in the province. IsiNdebele is the least spoken language in all other provinces, and failure to select it for Mpumalanga would result in its exclusion from official government use, and substantively diminish its status as official language.
