THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 65 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Management Staff Association

and

Mcleod and Company (E.A.) Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Retirement of C. C. Rowyer Tagg.

THE Kenya Management Staff Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Mcleod and Co. (E.A.) Ltd shall hereinafter be referred as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 28th February, 1983, and in addition to their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence during the hearing:

Claimants.—C. C. Bowyer Tagg.

Respondents.—W. Storthmann.

AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour referred this dispute to the Industrial Court in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act which dispute was received by the court on 10th June, 1983, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

C. C. Bowyer Tagg, the grievant in this dispute, is about eighty years of age and from what he told the court, he is completely destitute and is surviving through the good offices of the British Legion who provide him with basic necessities and who are also trying to put him in an old people's home in the United Kingdom. He confessed quite frankly that he and his wife were living on charity.

The grievant worked for the respondents for 14 years from 26th October, 1966 till 31st October, 1980, when he was retired by them. He was informed of his retirement by a letter dated 30th June, 1980 and there is no dispute that in terms of that letter he was paid full salary from the date of that letter until his retirement although he was required to attend office on Monday and Saturday mornings only. In addition the respondents paid his full house rent up to December, 1980, and also permitted him usage of the company car. The court agrees with the respondents that the grievant had at the material time become a sinecure.

The claimants have demanded on his behalf a refund of KSh. 10,000 which they alleged the respondents deducted from his salary which they had paid him to meet his hospital bills, etc., when he had fallen sick. They maintained that he started suffering from emphesema when he was on a business trip to Raymond Mills and Rivatex at Eldoret, and that he developed it after he had inhaled fluff and dust particles at those factories. The next day he fell sick and was admitted in hospital for two weeks. The respondents, however, pleaded that this disease is a self-induced illness caused by years of excessive smoking and intemperate intake of alcohol. The claimants' other demand is that the respondents should pay him salary in lieu of four years' annual leave which he had not been granted and the third leg of the claim is that he should be paid commission to which he was entitled.

On the medical claim of KSh. 10,000 the court finds that the claimants' reliance on section 12 of the Employment Act is not correct because as a result of a ministerial order this section did not apply to the relationship established by a contract between the grievant and the respondents. The relevant ministerial order exempted the application of certain provisions and stated that sections 12 and 13 of the Act shall not apply to an employee whose average monthly salary or wage is KSh. 1,000 and over. This exemption by the minister was in force at the material time. In view of this the court has to examine the provisions on medical expenses in the contract of employment. In the contract it is stated that no medical expenses will be chargeable to the respondents except in cases of workmen's compensation. However, the respondents will arrange with their insurance company with general accident insurance coverage for him. Unfortunately for Bowyer Tagg when he started working for the respondents he was over 65 years of age and the insurance company declined to accept medical insurance scheme for him. The court finds that the KSh. 10,000 was really an advance to the grievant which the respondents were entitled to deduct from his salary and this claim must therefore fail.

As far as the claim for leave is concerned the grievant stated on oath that during his service he never saw a leave roster and he did not sign for any leave except for once when he went two weeks down to the coast. He also admitted in cross-examination that he had waived his 1979 leave. He could not, however, remember if he went on leave in 1978 or in 1980. The respondents could not produce any records in respect of his leave which is rather surprising. The court is inclined to agree with the grievant that except for the 14 days' leave he was given no annual leave for the years 1977, 1978, 1979 and 1980. The court finds that he is entitled to 84 days' leave based on his statutory entitlement of twenty-one working days per year. Since he admits having taken two weeks leave this would mean that he is entitled to be paid salary for eighty-four working days minus twelve working days in the two weeks he spent at the coast leaving a balance of seventy-two days. The court has carefully considered the authorities cited by the respondents but finds that the annual leave is a worker's statutory right. The court therefore awards that Bowyer Tagg should be paid salary for the balance of seventy-two days' leave due to him.

As far as the claim for the unpaid commission is concerned the court has carefully studied the PAYE record for the material time, i.e. January to October, 1980 and finds that he was paid commission for all the months except June and July but in July he was paid a bonus of KSh. 6,900. The court is satisfied on the evidence that this claim is misconceived and that the respondents are not liable to pay him any commission other than what they have already paid him.

This dispute was investigated by the Ministry of Labour whose finding was that the respondents should also pay him four months' salary by way of ex gratia payment and pay him medical bills of KSh. 10,000 and any balance due in respect of commission and his leave entitlement.

The court has already disposed of the medical claim, leave entitlement and as far as the recommendation of ex gratia payment of four months' salary is concerned the court finds that the respondents in June, 1980, on deciding his retirement treated him quite reasonably well as he was paid full salary up to 31st October, 1980, although he worked for only two days per week and they paid his house rent also until the end of December, 1980, and allowed him the use of the company car. Moreover, the grievant admitted in writing that he was not legally entitled to any terminal benefits but requested the respondents to award him some recognition for the long service. This was a matter entirely at the discretion of the respondents and they feel that they have already done enough for him.

The court accordingly awards that apart from the seventy-two days' leave for which the respondents should make a payment forthwith to the grievant (he was earning KSh. 4,600 p.m.) the court cannot assist Bowyer Tagg on his other claims as it would be creating an undesirable precedent to make awards on charity.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1667

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 82 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Timber and Furniture Workers' Union

and

Victoria Industries Limited

Issue in dispute:

Breach of negotiated collective agreement contrary to part 1 (a) of that agreement.

THE Kenya Timber and Furniture Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Victoria Industries Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 1st March, 1984 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 14th April, 1983, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 16th September together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The parties signed a two-year collective agreement on 5th May, 1982, but effective from 1st July, 1981. This agreement expired on 30th June, 1983.

The following paragraph in part 1 (a) (i) has given rise to this dispute as the parties give a different interpretation to it:

"Irrespective of the fact that an employee may have been earning a wage above the minimum for his group or grade he will receive the increase appropriate for the group or grade thus maintaining his personal differential."

The claimants' interpretation is that all employees should have received appropriate increases for the first year including those who were above the minimum rates for their grades prior to the new agreed minimum rates. There is no dispute on the wage increases for the second year.

The Respondents maintained that the question of personal differential could not have arisen where the personal wages were below the new minimum wages. The respondents stated that they had discovered that due to a clerical error some workers whose wages were above the minimum rates for the respective groups or grades were not granted wage increases for the first year of the agreement. They stated that they were prepared to correct this mistake.

The court has carefully studied the background to the collective agreement which the parties themselves negotiated and now have failed to interpret it correctly. Prior to this the first ever collective agreement between the parties the respondents had dealings with the Kenya Engineering Workers's Union and had a collective agreement with them which expired on 30th December, 1980. This agreement with the Engineering Union was superceded by the statutory rates specified in the Wages (General) Order, 1980—L.N. 72, which came into operation on 1st June, 1980. This brought about the following changes in the wage structure:

Group	Old C.A.	Gen. W.O.
	KSh.	KSh.
1 (a)	450	456
1 (b)	450	510
2	560	598
3 (a)	560	676
3 (b)	600	739
4	650	811
5	700	966
Clerical
III	522	576
II	550	676
I	600	891

The parties found the above wage structure as amended by the general order and then negotiated the collective agreement which is now the subject matter of the dispute. In this agreement they stipulated the first year minimums for the various grades and increase for the second year as follows:

Group	First year minimum 1st July 1981	Second year increase 1st July 1982
	KSh.	KSh.
1 (a)	601	60
1 (b)	628	63
2	655	66
3 (a)	724	72
3 (b)	812	81
4	892	89
5	1,062	106
Clerical
III	704	70
II	786	79
I	936	94

Having set out the first year minimum and the second year increase the parties then wrote in the aforesaid paragraph to which they are giving different interpretations now.

Bearing in mind the historical background to this dispute the court finds that it clearly established that all the employees who were earning above the first year minimums for their grades were to receive the increases appropriate for the groups or grades applicable to them. Others who were below the new minimums were to be brought up to these minimums for the first year. The court notes that the parties did not specify anywhere the incremental rates for the first year of the agreement. It, therefore, follows that they were to be brought up from their previous wages which were based on the statutory rates to the new established minimums. Those who were above the minimums were to receive the appropriate wage increases. The operative word in part 1 (a) (i) is the word "above" which clearly shows that it concerns the employees whose personal wages were above the minimum rates effective from 1st July, 1981 and 1st July, 1982.

The D.M.P.D. report states that there are about twenty employees who are earning wages above the new minimums agreed by the parties effective from 1st July, 1981, and the respondents have agreed to rectify this error in respect of these employees. The court directs them to do so immediately and rules that except for this bearing in mind the background to this dispute the respondents' interpretation is correct.

Given in Nairobi the 18th April, 1984.

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.
