FINANCE (No. 2)

FINANCE (No. 2) BILL, 2020

MEMORANDUM

This Bill will amend the Finance Act [Chapter 23:04], the Income Tax Act [Chapter 23:06], the Value Added Tax Act [Chapter 23:12], the Customs and Excise Act [Chapter 23:02] and other Acts. These amendments will give effect to certain fiscal measures mentioned by the Minister of Finance in the National Budget Statement delivered on the 26th November, 2020, and make certain modifications to improve revenue collection and administration. In more detail, the individual clauses of the Bill provide as follows:

Clause 1

This clause sets out the Bill’s short title.

Clause 2

Businesses that trade in local and foreign currency are obligated to pay corporate tax in proportion to the gross income that is earned in either currency, without regard to the prevailing retention or liquidation thresholds operated by the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe. At the present time, exporters are liable to a standard retention threshold of 30% of export earnings while local traders are compelled to liquidate 20% of foreign currency receipts at the prevailing foreign exchange auction rate. This amendment to section 4A of the Finance Act will entail that businesses pay corporate income tax in foreign currency on the basis of gross foreign currency receipts remaining after deducting the prescribed retention or liquidation thresholds.

In addition, given that assessed losses and capital allowances are deductible against gross revenue in the determination of taxable income, companies that were using the provisions of the 4th and 5th Schedules to the Income Tax for this purpose were prejudiced by the promulgation of Statutory Instrument 33 of 2019, in that allowances and assessed losses that were denominated in United States dollars were converted and carried forward as RTGS dollars on a one-to-one basis. Most of the affected companies are recording artificial profits because of inflation since the conversion to the local currency, thereby increasing their tax liability. In order to minimise the tax burden on them, unredeemed capital allowances as at 1st January, 2021, will be rebased to the local currency equivalent of the outstanding foreign currency invoice value at the beginning of each financial year.

Clause 3

In our income taxation system, specified tax credits are given by a deduction of an actual amount of tax, that is, the credits are deducted from the actual tax payable. Generally speaking, no credits are deductible from the income tax with which a company or trust is chargeable in any year of assessment. However, an exception is sought to be made in the case of the youth employment credit, which was introduced by the Finance (No. 3) Act of 2019.

Clauses 4 and 5

The effect of these clauses will be to alter the income ‘bands’ on the basis of which rates of income tax are calculated in terms of section 14 of the Finance Act. The recent salary and wage adjustments for public and some private sector employees necessitates a corresponding review in the personal income tax framework. It is proposed by these clauses to review the Tax-Free Threshold from ZWL$5 000 per month to ZWL$10 000 per month, and to adjust the tax bands to begin at ZWL$10 001 and end at ZWL$250 000 per month, above which the Highest Marginal Tax rate of 40%. In addition, the lower general corporate tax rate of 24% will also apply to corporate taxpayers who are licensed investors, mining companies, industrial park developers and operators of tourist facilities.
Clause 6

This clause seeks to review the youth employment tax credit (mentioned earlier) for each employee hired from ZWL$500 to ZWL$1,500 per month, and the limit on the maximum credit from ZWL$60,000 to ZWL$180,000 in a year of assessment.

Clauses 7 and 21

With a view to revising the rates of presumptive tax, clause 7 will replace s. 22C of the Finance Act, which imposes a general tax on the basis of the presumed income (commonly known as a “presumptive tax”) of such of those persons engaging in any of the undertakings specified in the Twenty-Sixth Schedule to the Income Tax Act as did not furnish a return under section 37 of the Income Tax Act in any year of assessment prior. The classes of persons upon whom it is proposed to charge the presumptive tax will be enlarged to include specified “self-employed professionals”.

Clause 8 and 10

In line with the equalisation of excise duty rates of diesel and petrol to US$0.30 per litre, it is proposed by these clauses to review taxes and levies on diesel to align with rates applicable on petrol. The affected taxes are the Carbon Tax, and the NOCZIM Debt Redemption and Strategic Reserve levies.

Clauses 9 and 22

The effect of these clauses is to review the Tax-Free Threshold for Intermediated Money Transfer Tax from the current ZWL$300 to ZWL$500 and the maximum tax payable per transaction by corporates from the current ZWL$25,000 to ZWL$800,000 on transactions with values exceeding ZWL$40 million, with effect from 1st January, 2021, (for transactions in foreign currency, the Tax-Free Threshold remains at US$5).

Clause 11

The Finance (No. 2) Act of 2010 introduced a Petroleum Importers Levy in response to an increase in the amount of fuel that is being imported through road, thereby causing significant damage to road infrastructure. The Petroleum Importers’ Levy, which is currently pegged at ZWS$1.147 and ZWS$3.441 per litre of diesel and petrol, respectively, is intended to discourage importation of fuel by road. In order to encourage importation of fuel by pipeline, it is proposed to review the Petroleum Importers’ Levy to USD$0.05 a litre on both diesel and petrol.

Clause 12

The Finance Act, 2009, introduced a generalised mechanism for the uniform, simultaneous and comprehensive review of statutory fees charged by the various department of Government for the services rendered by them, review (Chapter XI (“Statutory Fees & Charges”) of the Finance Act [Chapter 23:04]. In order to lessen the administrative burden of reviewing fees, it is proposed that fees will be reviewed bi-annually in line with the Consumer Price Index, according to a set formula.

Clause 14

In terms of paragraph (f) of the definition of ‘gross income’ in section 8(1) of the Income Tax Act, the value of certain benefits granted to a taxpayer in respect of his or her employment, such as the provision of motor vehicles low-interest loans, forms part of his or her gross income and may be taxed accordingly. The effect of this clause is to revise the levels at which these benefits become taxable.

Clauses 16 and 19

In order to accelerate infrastructure rehabilitation and development, it is proposed to extend the scope of infrastructure whose expenditure can be capitalised and deducted against taxable income to prescribed Build Operate and Transfer (BOT) or Build Own Operate and Transfer (BOOT) Projects. It is also proposed to exempt companies that operate such projects from Non-Residents Shareholders’ Tax.

Clause 17

The Third Schedule to the Income Tax Act sets out amounts which are exempt from income tax. Among other amendments, it is proposed to exempt (under stringent conditions) income accruing to Real Estate Investment Trust (REITs) from corporate income tax, another amendment reviews upwards, the bonus Tax-Free Threshold from ZWL$5 000 to ZWL$25 000, with effect from 1st November, 2020.

Clause 20

The substituted Eleventh Schedule specifying the decisions of the Revenue Commissioner to which a person may object enlarges the scope of that Schedule to cover new provisions enacted since the last revision of the Statutes in 1996.

Clause 24

The Financial Laws Amendment Act of 2004 introduced a Schedule to Chapter IV of the Finance Act [Chapter 23:04] that imposed rates of VAT on the services of bookmakers, pool promoters, totalizators and casino operators are deemed to be taxable supplies for the purposes of the VAT Act. The effect of this clause is to revise the rates thereof.

Clause 25

In recognition of the immense benefits that can accrue to the country from medicinal cannabis exports, Government promulgated legislation to govern the production, procurement, distribution, possession, sale, provision and transportation of the crop. The effect of this clause is to introduce a Cannabis Levy, chargeable on the value of exports, at varied rates of tax that correspond to the level of processing:

Clauses 29, 30, 31, 32 and 33

These clauses introduce various measures to improve customs and excise administration and enforcement. In particular, in order to reduce malpractices in the registration of motor vehicles, thereby enhancing national security and safeguarding revenue to the Fiscus, clause 27 makes the Zimbabwe Revenue Authority (on behalf of the CVR) responsible for registering imported motor vehicles at the Port of Entry or at the time the vehicle is taken out of bond, after payment of duty.

Clause 35

This clause validates the existing practice whereby ZINARA accepts tolls in foreign currency in respect of domestically registered vehicles from motorists who voluntarily opt to pay toll fees using other currencies.

Part VI

This Part amends various other Acts by amending or adding provisions having a direct or indirect impact on the revenues. Of particular note is the amendment of the Banking Act bearing on the proposed establishment of an international financial services centre where foreign-based banking and financial institutions and locally-based banking and financial institution may carry on their business under conditions to be prescribed by the Minister responsible for finance.
